FOUR TOWNS SEEK TO RAISE $10,000 QUOTA

The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

We now have a free lance reporter who goes anywhere and everywhere for interviews. He was assigned this week to visit one Republican and one Democratic headquarters. His stories were a bit unusual and they appear in another column.

The only occupant of the Lohman for Sheriff headquarters was a stenographer who spent her time polishing her nails.

In the Meek for Senator headquarters the business manager was gnawing his nails because the business interests were not coming across with campaign funds.

Is it possible that the cut in income taxes with its new lenient depreciation provisions as well as the cut in excise taxes do not mean a thing to the average businessman?

The five Arlington Heights trustees who attended the Municipal League convention at Springfield last week, returned home rather proud of the achievements of their home town.

In the words of one of them, "After being kicked around at home, it was a good feeling to go down there and find out that Arlington has a lot of things not found in many towns much larger than Arlington. It sort of built up our ego."

Too many of our citizens are long on complaints to a village trustee and short on praise.

The young girls of Elk Grove, Wheeling and Palatine townships are worth a lot more than $10,000, but that amount is all that will be needed to meet the 1955 budget of the Northwest Girl Scout Council.

The $10,000 will take care of the training, programming, camping, and troop organization of the five communities within the three townships.

Contributors to the fund know how the money will be spent. The overhead of the Girl Scout operation is very small. General administration cost is only 51c out of every $8.00 collected. There are few civic organizations that give as much dollar value to their community as do the Girl Scouts.

The $10,000 should be raised quickly. Meet the solicitors with a smile and your dollar bills.

We do not intentionally throw bricks at neighbors, but when the village of Barrington is credited with only contributing $12 to the emergency March of Dimes, we wonder what kind of blood is in the veins of our neighbors.

Records credit Arlington Heights with $1,000, Palatine with $600 and Mt. Prospect $480.

We have been unable to contact any individual in the government who will make any explanation of the suspected radar towers that are being erected in this area. One of the towers was recently erected northeast of Palatine, a few feet from the corporate limits. Another is near Barrington.

William Behn, whose farm is southwest of Arlington Heights, has sold the government a tract of land for a similar installation. The same government agency is reported to have sought permission from Behn's neighbor, H. F. Moehling, to make tests on an 80 acre tract.

The defense department is taking over the Arlington Airport and for the past year a small group in the armed services has been stationed in a secluded spot of Elk Grove forest preserve.

Still there are some people who think that civil defense activities are in the same class as boys playing "cops and robbers."

Arlington Heights business firms are on the move. At least a number of them. Don Hager is moving to the north side. All of the three new stores erected by Clifford Schapanski on East Miner st. have been rented. Plans are underway for a business block across the street. The northside business district is coming into its own.

Evidently all this talk about shopping centers killing Arlington's present business section is just poppycock.

The best news of the week is that an off street parking area, immediately south of Campbell street is being considered. It is reported that with the installation of meters and by the combined operation of the village and interested businessmen, the project can be financed.

Members of Arlington Heights village board admit that it is daily growing easier and easier to "pass the buck to their village manager." "It is easy that way to appease the wrath of the caller," one alderman tells us.

When all the official family, including the manager, were in Springfield Sunday night to attend the municipal convention and word of the floods back home arrived in Springfield, Buechner didn't even need a hint that his place was back in Arlington Heights.

Another example of civic progress is the action of the Arlington Heights Woman's club in providing a new exhibit case in the library in which monthly exhibits will be placed.

This week the library is featuring the art work done by pupils who attended the summer art camp under the sponsorship of the Woman's club.

Aldermen Are Convinced Arlington Is a Great Town

In the opinion of the Arlington Heights officials who attended the Illinois municipal convention at Springfield last Monday, Arlington is a pretty fine town. They are now certain it stands shoulder high among the larger towns of Illinois in the matter of civic attainment.

One alderman interviewed is now of the belief that the garbage removal rates charged by the two Arlington firms are not out of line for back door service twice a week.

The 2600 meters in the City of Springfield are serviced by two men who wind them; one man who handles the collections once a week and one repairman. Arlington Heights is planning to install 500 meters.

The aldermen were interested in the manner in which Moline has gone into deficit financing to widen and improve its streets. It pledges its motor fuel tax allotment its vehicle tax and auto licenses, which with special assessment proceedings for the remaining cost, has enabled that city to do a big street job at once and allow future revenues to pay the cost of both pavement and modern lighting.

The visitors are convinced that lower insurance rates can be secured if a second fire station is established north of the tracks.

Arlington Heights should be proud of its ample water supply. Two towns reported they only have water for sanitary or drinking use. There was even a $500 fine for washing a car. Some places shut the pump off at night. The people of Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect may complain about being able to sprinkle only every other day, but some cities do not have enough drinking water.

As town after town reported difficulties they were facing, the visitors from Arlington could say, "We overcame those hurdles years ago." However, they returned with a number of ideas."

The aldermen found that Attorney Thal was better informed on municipal matters than many attorneys who looked to him for answers.

Those who attended the Municipal League convention at Springfield from Arlington Heights last week are Aldermen Edward Carlisle, David Zimmerman, Richard Bronwell, William McNeil, Robert Bishop; Village clerk, Carl Weinrich, and Attorney Hugo Thal.

Carl Weinrich, village clerk, was particularly interested in the functions of the clerk's office.

Carl Bowen, city engineer, attended clinics on motor fuel tax allotments.

Voting Machines Here For Public Demonstration

The voters of Cook county northwest towns will use voting machines for the first time November 2. The only exceptions are precincts that are partly within and without the Chicago Sanitary District. One of these is Rolling Meadows precinct within the village of Palatine. "Sample" machines are being set up in the village halls of Arlington Heights, Wheeling and Mount Prospect.

Mrs. Orville Senne will demonstrate the machine at Arlington Heights, week days, 4 to 9 p.m. and Saturdays, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Wheeling will have two voting machines at the village hall. There will be a demonstrator there every day until election day, from 10 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Homecoming King & Queen

Community Camera

Leading any homecoming celebration at any school are the king and queen. Arlington Heights was no exception last week when Denny Maher and Barbara Russell were named by the student body as reigning couple. They had a court of four boys and four girls to help in the festivities with the football team carrying on Friday night in a 7-0 victory over Glenbard.

Dennis Maher and Barbara Russell were elected king and queen of Homecoming by the students of Arlington Heights high school.

As king and queen, they reigned over activities of the week end, including the Homecoming dance Saturday.

DENNIS, OR "Dennie," is quarterback of the football team, which won the homecoming game 7-0. This is his fourth season of football, and he has also played basketball and baseball every year in high school.

Although he is participating in one of these three sports throughout the school year, Dennie is always on the honor roll and is an active participant in other school affairs. In his freshman year he was president of his homeroom. In the following year he was elected to the sophomore board and was admitted to the Ushers' club. Last year he was treasurer of the Student council, and was admitted to the National Honor Society. This year he serves as president of the Honor society.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin F. Maher of Arlington Heights.

BARBARA RUSSELL is in her third year as a cheerleader. This too is an all-year activity, but Barbara finds time for many other things. She has been in the Pep club and the Girls' Athletic association every year in high school. As a freshman she was a member of the Latin club. Last year, as a junior, she was homeroom vice-president, joined the Social Science club, and took part in the talent show.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell of Arlington Heights.

Launch Girl Scout Fund Drive Monday Night

"Remember it costs $8 per year to support one girl in Girl Scouting!"

That is what the house-to-house canvassers will remind residents of Arlington Heights, Palatine, and Prospect Heights in their Girl Scout Fund Drives beginning Monday night — as will the simultaneous direct mail solicitation in Mount Prospect.

These towns form District IV of the Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook County. The $10,000 quota needed from District IV will provide its nearly 1200 Girl Scouts with the council's excellent program. Of the $8 for each girl approximately $3.04 goes into the camping program, so that each girl can enjoy camping at a minimum expense to her family. The remainder is used as follows: training $1.55; programming $0.58; public relations $0.30; finance $0.43; troop organization $0.21; general administration $0.38; and staff and office $1.51.

THE TREMENDOUS acceleration in building and the influx of new families with young children eligible for youth activities, such as the Girl Scouts, necessitates this year's direct appeal for funds. In District IV alone 33 new troops have been organized this fall, making the total 113.

Facilities and trained leaders will be available for the formation of additional troops as soon as the double sessions in the lower school grades are discontinued. New leaders are continually being trained by the excellent training staff of the council. With the formation of each troop, two or more adults are trained to lead the girls. As of this September 516 new Girl Scouts were registered in the Brownie and Intermediate levels in District IV.

Professional men, merchants, social organizations, and industrial firms are being contacted either by letter or by personal solicitation. Fund drive chairmen report good response thus far from these sources. Numerous contributions are being made in the green and gold milk cans placed in the Arlington Heights National Bank and the three drug stores in Arlington Heights. These cans were graciously donated to the council by the Arlington Creamery Package Mfg. Co. through the generosity of its manager, E. J. Freiburger.

Residents are urged to recognize the importance of supporting the Girl Scouts in this fund drive. There is no finer means of providing young girls with the high ideals of good citizenship, homemaking, and outdoor life than through Girl Scouts. Because Girl Scouts are organized and led almost entirely by men and women volunteers, the total cost of the program is only a very small fraction of what it would be if it had to be provided by local taxes and special assessments.

Music Students To Give Fall Recital Sunday

Students of the music department of Arlington Heights high school will present their fall recital Sunday at 3 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

The public is invited, and there will be no charge for admission. A varied program of vocal and instrumental music will be presented.

INSTRUMENTAL solos will be presented by Gary Young, clarinet; Elizabeth Prunty, cello; Alec Catherwood, violin; Margaret Sandford, bassoon; Virginia Roetter, bassoon; Sharon Newman, piano; and Lynn Heberling, piano.

Among the instrumental groups are a trumpet trio composed of Ed Holm, Lew Green and Phil Halverson; a string quartet composed of Sharon Newman, Alec Catherwood, Joyce Harth and Elizabeth Prunty; and the saxophone quartet which appeared on a television amateur hour last Sunday, composed of Bruce Bydahl, Al Schock, Maureen Shumaker and Charles Watson.

Vocal numbers include a solo by Ada Kilbury, numbers by the Harmonettes, and a boys' quartet composed of Terry Frakes, Skip Rogers, Gerald Honemann.

Open Bids For Campbell Street Lighting Project

Bids were opened on the proposed Campbell st. ornamental lighting project at the Arlington Heights village board meeting Tuesday night.

Three bids were received: L and S Construction Co., Chicago, $19,400; Contracting and Material Co., Evanston, $20,417.25; H and H Electric Co., River Grove, $19,297.35.

The board turned them over to the village engineer and village manager for further study and a recommendation to the board.

Two bids were also received on the spreader to be used on a village truck for de-icing streets this winter. The R. C. Larkin Co., Chicago, bid $750, and the Griggs Equipment Co., Evanston, bid $825. They were turned over to village manager for a recommendation.

CONSUMER CORP., leasing the Arlington Elevator and Coal Co. property at 215 W. Northwest hwy., was given 30 days to remedy the nuisances created by the operation of their business. Residents in the area complained of cement dust, traffic hazards and unnecessary noise as a result of the operation.

In the meantime Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal has been requested by the board to check the type of operation to definitely ascertain whether or not it is a commercial or industrial operation. The property is zoned commercial.

Plans and specifications for sewer, water, street, curb, gutter and sidewalk, in the West Glen subdivision were approved by the village board. The subdivision involves 24 lots, 20 of which are located on Haddow, between Frederick and Oakton sts., and 4 of them on Frederick, between Douglas and Haddow. The improvements will cost $33,044.

The board accepted the resignation of Robert M. Beatty from the board of the Arlington Hts. Fire and Police Commission. He has sold his home and is living in Chicago at the present time.

Announce Changes In Mail Schedules At Heights Post Office

Virginia Dodge, postmaster at the Arlington Heights post office, announces the following changes in mail dispatches out of the Arlington office: Regular mails will close at 7:30 a.m., 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Air mail will close at 7:15 a.m., 11:45 a.m. and 2:50 p.m. These hours are effective immediately.

The change was made to insure better connections through Chicago.

Annual Rubbish Pickup In Heights November 1-6

The annual fall rubbish pickup in Arlington Heights will be held from November 1 to 6. Southside collections will be made November 1, 2 and 3. Northside pickups are scheduled for November 4, 5 and 6.

Residents are asked to place all cans and other rubbish in containers at the curb. Newspapers or garbage will not be collected.

Seek School Crossing Guard For Arlington

There is a school crossing guard position open in Arlington Hts., and Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog is seeking a retired man or woman to fill the job.

Anyone applying must have good hearing and eyesight and be capable of being out in all kinds of weather. Interested parties should contact Chief Skoog at the police station.

Discussing publicity plans for the coming Girl Scout fund drive with Stuart R. Paddock, editor of Paddock Publications, are Kathleen Poznan, left and Jo Ann Hood, both members of the Arlington Heights Girl Scouts. The drive will be held October 21-28. The sign displayed was one of 100 made by George Krizek of Wedgewood Terrace as his contribution to the cause. The girls of District IV, which includes Arlington, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Palatine, seek to collect $10,000 during the drive.

Treasury Bills Earn $200 For Village In 90 Days

The village of Arlington Heights has earned $200 in 90 days through the investment of $100,000 in U.S. Treasury bills. The money came out of the idle or inactive funds of the water works and sewerage account.

F. Robert Buechner, village manager, recommended to the board that since these funds will not be needed for another 90 days that the board authorize their reinvestment in U.S. Treasury bills for that period.

It should be understood that this money is not surplus, but is slated to retire bonds for sewer and water improvements, which will be due in the near future.

THE BOARD will authorize the Public Service company to turn off four bracket type lights on Kensington rd. to test whether or not the lights are essential. During the depression days no street light heads were connected to the ornamental light posts on Kensington, but the bracket lights were installed. Since then, numerous new homes on Kensington have resulted in several light heads being installed on the original ornamental posts.

Authorization was also given to have the 150 watt bracket light in the center of the block on Evergreen, between Miner and Northwest hwy., increased to a 400 watt unit on a long arm bracket.

Buechner supplied board members with a complete list of all "Stop" signs and their respective locations for use in revising the traffic ordinance. The list showed a total of 138 "Stop" street intersections having a total of 236 "Stop" signs.

Approval was given the purchase of a 1950 Plymouth two door, which will be used by the building commissioner. The vehicle cost $400.

IN THE VILLAGE manager's report to the board he pointed out that during the recent severe rain storm there were only 28 complaints filed with the police and department of public works. The complaints came from every section of the village. The floods were due either to overloaded sewers, caused by the excessive rainfall, or to the lack of storm sewers and ditches, as in the Sherwood subdivision. No sewers were found blocked and this was the first time no complaints were received from S. Mitchell st.

There were few complaints of sewage damage to basements. Sewer cleaning had been done by the new equipment prior to the rainfall on the following streets:

W. Elm, from Fernandez to and including 538 feet in Kennicott ave., 1200 lineal feet; N. Pine, from Fremont to Eastman, 665 lineal feet; N. Vail, from Willow to Vine, 873 lineal feet; S. Mitchell, from Sigwalt to Campbell, 583 lineal feet; N. Pine, from Frederick to Hawthorne, 1060 lineal feet; N. Princeton, from Oakton to Elm, 900 lineal feet; N. Walnut, from Hawthorne to Mueller, thence east on Mueller one block, 818 lineal feet; Belmont ave., from Rockwell st. to Fairview st., 300 lineal feet.

Shipment of the parking meters is expected within the next two weeks. The collars for the pipe have been received and the pipe and flanges have been shipped and are expected to arrive within a few days. The village plans to install the posts and flanges, which will mean an approximate savings of $3 a meter.

'No Shooting Over Arlington,' Says 5th Army

No guided missiles will be shot over Arlington Heights unless war is declared.

So cautioned Fifth Army headquarters, who told Paddock Publications this week that no missiles will be launched from Arlington Heights airport, Central and Wilke rd., unless the nation is plunged into all-out emergency.

The new site owned by the army was occupied by a private firm until the federal government evicted them last week to make way for the missile center.

Although it will not interfere with any homes in the area, the army said it will be "absolutely necessary" for the barracks and trailer park located on the property to be vacated.

FEDERAL JUDGE Joseph S. Perry had given tenants until December 1 to move.

Residents of the airport are attempting to get an extension for more time to find new quarters. They also are faced with the problem of adequate schooling for their children.

The eviction order affected about 650 persons.

During World War II the navy leased the land from the army for an air station. In 1947 a Chicago corporation took up the expired Naval lease and used the property as a private airport until last week.

Forty-five private owners were forced to move their airplanes because of the government action. At least 20 of the planes have been moved to Palwaukee airport, Palatine rd., and Milwaukee ave., Wheeling. Others were taken to Elmhurst and Sky Harbor.

Meanwhile, the Defense department announced that it has started a broad new survey of its whole guided missile program on which more than a billion dollars will be spent for purchases by next June 30. Objective of the survey is to sort out the various missile projects and evaluate them in relation to the overall program.

Four of seven living firemen who were on the original Arlington Heights fire department when it was organized in 1894. They all attended the sixtieth anniversary dinner-dance Saturday night. Left to right: Michael Oefelein, Albert F. Volz, William Guenther and Frank Bauer. The other living members are: R. F. Schweitzer, Rudolph Weinrich and William C. Muller.

THE TREMENDOUS acceleration in building and the influx of new families with young children eligible for youth activities, such as the Girl Scouts, necessitates this year's direct appeal for funds. In District IV alone 33 new troops have been organized this fall, making the total 113.

Facilities and trained leaders will be available for the formation of additional troops as soon as the double sessions in the lower school grades are discontinued. New leaders are continually being trained by the excellent training staff of the council. With the formation of each troop, two or more adults are trained to lead the girls. As of this September 516 new Girl Scouts were registered in the Brownie and Intermediate levels in District IV.

Professional men, merchants, social organizations, and industrial firms are being contacted either by letter or by personal solicitation. Fund drive chairmen report good response thus far from these sources. Numerous contributions are being made in the green and gold milk cans placed in the Arlington Heights National Bank and the three drug stores in Arlington Heights. These cans were graciously donated to the council by the Arlington Creamery Package Mfg. Co. through the generosity of its manager, E. J. Freiburger.

Residents are urged to recognize the importance of supporting the Girl Scouts in this fund drive. There is no finer means of providing young girls with the high ideals of good citizenship, homemaking, and outdoor life than through Girl Scouts. Because Girl Scouts are organized and led almost entirely by men and women volunteers, the total cost of the program is only a very small fraction of what it would be if it had to be provided by local taxes and special assessments.

CONSUMER CORP., leasing the Arlington Elevator and Coal Co. property at 215 W. Northwest hwy., was given 30 days to remedy the nuisances created by the operation of their business. Residents in the area complained of cement dust, traffic hazards and unnecessary noise as a result of the operation.

In the meantime Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal has been requested by the board to check the type of operation to definitely ascertain whether or not it is a commercial or industrial operation. The property is zoned commercial.

Plans and specifications for sewer, water, street, curb, gutter and sidewalk, in the West Glen subdivision were approved by the village board. The subdivision involves 24 lots, 20 of which are located on Haddow, between Frederick and Oakton sts., and 4 of them on Frederick, between Douglas and Haddow. The improvements will cost $33,044.

The board accepted the resignation of Robert M. Beatty from the board of the Arlington Hts. Fire and Police Commission. He has sold his home and is living in Chicago at the present time.

Treasury Bills Earn $200 For Village In 90 Days

The village of Arlington Heights has earned $200 in 90 days through the investment of $100,000 in U.S. Treasury bills. The money came out of the idle or inactive funds of the water works and sewerage account.

F. Robert Buechner, village manager, recommended to the board that since these funds will not be needed for another 90 days that the board authorize their reinvestment in U.S. Treasury bills for that period.

It should be understood that this money is not surplus, but is slated to retire bonds for sewer and water improvements, which will be due in the near future.

THE BOARD will authorize the Public Service company to turn off four bracket type lights on Kensington rd. to test whether or not the lights are essential. During the depression days no street light heads were connected to the ornamental light posts on Kensington, but the bracket lights were installed. Since then, numerous new homes on Kensington have resulted in several light heads being installed on the original ornamental posts.

Authorization was also given to have the 150 watt bracket light in the center of the block on Evergreen, between Miner and Northwest hwy., increased to a 400 watt unit on a long arm bracket.

Buechner supplied board members with a complete list of all "Stop" signs and their respective locations for use in revising the traffic ordinance. The list showed a total of 138 "Stop" street intersections having a total of 236 "Stop" signs.

Approval was given the purchase of a 1950 Plymouth two door, which will be used by the building commissioner. The vehicle cost $400.

IN THE VILLAGE manager's report to the board he pointed out that during the recent severe rain storm there were only 28 complaints filed with the police and department of public works. The complaints came from every section of the village. The floods were due either to overloaded sewers, caused by the excessive rainfall, or to the lack of storm sewers and ditches, as in the Sherwood subdivision. No sewers were found blocked and this was the first time no complaints were received from S. Mitchell st.

There were few complaints of sewage damage to basements. Sewer cleaning had been done by the new equipment prior to the rainfall on the following streets:

W. Elm, from Fernandez to and including 538 feet in Kennicott ave., 1200 lineal feet; N. Pine, from Fremont to Eastman, 665 lineal feet; N. Vail, from Willow to Vine, 873 lineal feet; S. Mitchell, from Sigwalt to Campbell, 583 lineal feet; N. Pine, from Frederick to Hawthorne, 1060 lineal feet; N. Princeton, from Oakton to Elm, 900 lineal feet; N. Walnut, from Hawthorne to Mueller, thence east on Mueller one block, 818 lineal feet; Belmont ave., from Rockwell st. to Fairview st., 300 lineal feet.

Shipment of the parking meters is expected within the next two weeks. The collars for the pipe have been received and the pipe and flanges have been shipped and are expected to arrive within a few days. The village plans to install the posts and flanges, which will mean an approximate savings of $3 a meter.

'No Shooting Over Arlington,' Says 5th Army

No guided missiles will be shot over Arlington Heights unless war is declared.

So cautioned Fifth Army headquarters, who told Paddock Publications this week that no missiles will be launched from Arlington Heights airport, Central and Wilke rd., unless the nation is plunged into all-out emergency.

The new site owned by the army was occupied by a private firm until the federal government evicted them last week to make way for the missile center.

Although it will not interfere with any homes in the area, the army said it will be "absolutely necessary" for the barracks and trailer park located on the property to be vacated.

FEDERAL JUDGE Joseph S. Perry had given tenants until December 1 to move.

Residents of the airport are attempting to get an extension for more time to find new quarters. They also are faced with the problem of adequate schooling for their children.

The eviction order affected about 650 persons.

During World War II the navy leased the land from the army for an air station. In 1947 a Chicago corporation took up the expired Naval lease and used the property as a private airport until last week.

Forty-five private owners were forced to move their airplanes because of the government action. At least 20 of the planes have been moved to Palwaukee airport, Palatine rd., and Milwaukee ave., Wheeling. Others were taken to Elmhurst and Sky Harbor.

Meanwhile, the Defense department announced that it has started a broad new survey of its whole guided missile program on which more than a billion dollars will be spent for purchases by next June 30. Objective of the survey is to sort out the various missile projects and evaluate them in relation to the overall program.

Puffer Tells Educators School System Threatened by Deficit

A six million dollar deficit in Illinois Common School Fund is creating serious problems for Cook County schools.

Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, explained last week to the Lake Shore division of the Illinois Education association that this deficit was not the fault of state government. But, he added, a deficiency appropriation must be made in the next legislative session.

If such an appropriation is not passed, Cook county will be forced to eliminate kindergarten, pay inadequate salaries to many teachers, create class loads of 45 to 50 pupils per class, and eliminate many phases of the curriculum necessary for a well-rounded educational program.

Elementary school enrollment has leaped from 66,336 in 1944 to 129,354 in 1954.

High birth rate, shortage of teachers, and the unusual amount of suburban building have created a serious school problem.

In Suburban Cook county the average cost of education an elementary school pupil is $304.92. State-wide the cost is $225, and the legislature allows only $173.

In urging an increase in the State Common School Fund, Puffer told the Evanston audience: "If we are ever to take our place in the nation as a state which fully recognizes its obligation to its children, we must as citizens of this great state, fight for a defensible and realistic appropriation to our common schools. The problem is not one belonging to any political party It is a state problem. It is the people's problem. It is your and my problem.

From The Police Blotter...

Vandals released brakes on box cars stored on the switch track at the Hill-Behan Lumber Co., Arlington Heights, and removed the blocks from the wheels, causing the cars to roll down the track. They struck an empty flat car which ran off the track at the end of the line.

The vandalism was done between 6 p.m. October 12 and 7:30 a.m. October 13.

Joe Hutchings, Palatine, reported to police that he broke the gates at the State rd. railroad crossing. He told police he was driving south on State rd and the gates came down while he was on the tracks.

Donald Parsons, Melrose Park, suffered leg injuries while he was working on a construction job in the Westgate subdivision. Parsons, according to witnesses, was attempting to throw gravel under the wheels of a ready mix truck, which was backing into the lot to pour a foundation, when he apparently slipped on the muddy surface. The truck ran over his legs. He was taken to Resurrection hospital.

Someone attempted to enter the V. Higby home at 409 W Campbell, last Friday, while they were out to dinner. They found the front door had two broken panes of glass when they returned home. There was no evidence of an attempted entry anywhere else in the house.

Firemen answered a call at 106 E. Rockwell, October 18, where a garage was reported on fire. The blaze was out when the firemen arrived and damage was at a minimum.

John Pfingsten reported four Hollywood hub caps stolen from his car which was parked in the driveway of his home at 448 S. Vail, October 14. The caps had black paint around the edge and were heavily simonized.

What next, Mr. Edison?

In celebrating Light's Diamond Jubilee, we honor Thomas A. Edison, whose first practical light bulb was successfully tested October 21, 1879.

If you were alive today,
we think you'd be proud of the electrical industry and what it's done for America.

The industry you started back in 1879 with a single light bulb has made life better, richer, and more productive for all of us.

Work-saving electrical appliances do the cooking, cleaning, washing, ironing, and drying in our homes.

Electrical machines make jobs easier, faster, and safer for everyone who works in a factory, in an office, or on a farm.

Electricity lights our way . . .
entertains us . . . cools us . . .
warms us . . . does all these things for only a few pennies a day.

If you were alive today,
you'd see new ideas in electricity promising an even better way of life for our future.

You'd see new things coming
... new and better appliances
... new methods of communication . . . new industrial ideas . . . new farm equipment . . . and perhaps other ideas so new we haven't even guessed at them yet.

25 years from now, some of these ideas will have taken their place in our lives beside your light bulb. Which one will be most important to mankind?
Which one will be first?

What next, Mr. Edison?

Puffer Tells Educators School System Threatened by Deficit

A six million dollar deficit in Illinois Common School Fund is creating serious problems for Cook County schools.

Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, explained last week to the Lake Shore division of the Illinois Education association that this deficit was not the fault of state government. But, he added, a deficiency appropriation must be made in the next legislative session.

If such an appropriation is not passed, Cook county will be forced to eliminate kindergarten, pay inadequate salaries to many teachers, create class loads of 45 to 50 pupils per class, and eliminate many phases of the curriculum necessary for a well-rounded educational program.

Elementary school enrollment has leaped from 66,336 in 1944 to 129,354 in 1954.

High birth rate, shortage of teachers, and the unusual amount of suburban building have created a serious school problem.

In Suburban Cook county the average cost of education an elementary school pupil is $304.92. State-wide the cost is $225, and the legislature allows only $173.

In urging an increase in the State Common School Fund, Puffer told the Evanston audience: "If we are ever to take our place in the nation as a state which fully recognizes its obligation to its children, we must as citizens of this great state, fight for a defensible and realistic appropriation to our common schools. The problem is not one belonging to any political party It is a state problem. It is the people's problem. It is your and my problem.

From The Police Blotter...

Vandals released brakes on box cars stored on the switch track at the Hill-Behan Lumber Co., Arlington Heights, and removed the blocks from the wheels, causing the cars to roll down the track. They struck an empty flat car which ran off the track at the end of the line.

The vandalism was done between 6 p.m. October 12 and 7:30 a.m. October 13.

Joe Hutchings, Palatine, reported to police that he broke the gates at the State rd. railroad crossing. He told police he was driving south on State rd and the gates came down while he was on the tracks.

Donald Parsons, Melrose Park, suffered leg injuries while he was working on a construction job in the Westgate subdivision. Parsons, according to witnesses, was attempting to throw gravel under the wheels of a ready mix truck, which was backing into the lot to pour a foundation, when he apparently slipped on the muddy surface. The truck ran over his legs. He was taken to Resurrection hospital.

Someone attempted to enter the V. Higby home at 409 W Campbell, last Friday, while they were out to dinner. They found the front door had two broken panes of glass when they returned home. There was no evidence of an attempted entry anywhere else in the house.

Firemen answered a call at 106 E. Rockwell, October 18, where a garage was reported on fire. The blaze was out when the firemen arrived and damage was at a minimum.

John Pfingsten reported four Hollywood hub caps stolen from his car which was parked in the driveway of his home at 448 S. Vail, October 14. The caps had black paint around the edge and were heavily simonized.

What next, Mr. Edison?

In celebrating Light's Diamond Jubilee, we honor Thomas A. Edison, whose first practical light bulb was successfully tested October 21, 1879.

If you were alive today, we think you'd be proud of the electrical industry and what it's done for America.

The industry you started back in 1879 with a single light bulb has made life better, richer, and more productive for all of us.

Work-saving electrical appliances do the cooking, cleaning, washing, ironing, and drying in our homes.

Electrical machines make jobs easier, faster, and safer for everyone who works in a factory, in an office, or on a farm.

Electricity lights our way . . . entertains us . . . cools us . . . warms us . . . does all these things for only a few pennies a day.

If you were alive today, you'd see new ideas in electricity promising an even better way of life for our future.

You'd see new things coming . . . new and better appliances . . . new methods of communication . . . new industrial ideas . . . new farm equipment . . . and perhaps other ideas so new we haven't even guessed at them yet.

25 years from now, some of these ideas will have taken their place in our lives beside your light bulb. Which one will be most important to mankind? Which one will be first?

What next, Mr. Edison?

Parents Sit in Classrooms

Parents of elementary school children had the opportunity this week to sit at the children's desks in classrooms and hear the teachers explain the curriculum for each grade. Here they were able to get clarification of their children's often mystifying explanations of "what goes on." When first-grader Bobby sits down to dinner, spies his most detested vegetable, and shouts happily, "Oh, boy! I can stand up for broccoli!", this means, explains the teacher to baffled parents, that an informal roll call is taken on the types of food the children had for dinner the night before, and that the green vegetable "set" is popularly considered just a trifle superior. Explanations of these and more scholastic facets of the children's education gave parents a clearer insight into teaching methods and objectives, and resulted in better understanding of how home and school can combine efforts and further the development of the children.

Except for section 3 of second grade at New South school, and section 2 of second grade at Ridge school hostesses at all schools were mothers of first and second grade pupils. Morning session parents were received at 7:30 p. m. at New South school, and afternoon session parents at 8:15 p. m., Tuesday, October 19. Other schools met the same evening at 8:15, with Ridge school conducting an extra session the evening of October 20 for parents of afternoon children.

Junior High School will receive sixth grade parents October 25, when mothers of the first three sections will serve as hostesses. Seventh and eighth grade parents are invited for the following evening, when mothers of the first three eighth grade sections will be hostesses.

District Conference Well Attended

The 33rd annual district 21 conference of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers held here last Thursday, was attended by an impressive number of representatives from the many north shore and northwest suburbs. Featured speaker on the program was Mrs. Melvin C. Lockard, Cobden, Ill., president of the congress. A report of her talk will be found elsewhere in this edition. Other speakers and lively discussions both morning and afternoon made the conference outstanding from the point of interesting and worthwhile suggestions which the participants took home with them to report to their individual units. Those who attended left with renewed enthusiasm and inspiration for accomplishing the 3-fold objective of parent-teacher associations throughout the nation — better homes, better schools, better communities.

Send Your Bundles This Week

Thursday and Friday are the days set aside for the collection of outgrown, used or new clothing for the needy families in our own country as well as Korea, Europe and the Middle East. Many of these are homeless orphans, and even where they are provided with shelter and food there are rarely enough funds to clothe them for the winter months. Particularly needed are warm blankets, nightgowns, pajamas, coats, sweaters, underwear, trousers, shirts and socks. Infant wear (including diapers and blankets) is urgently needed. Good wearable shoes, tied together in pairs, will help some child withstand the severe cold (please do not send high-heeled shoes).

Anyone who does not have a child of elementary school age is urged to send his accumulated clothing regardless; any neighborhood child will be glad to take your bundle on one of the two days set aside, or it may be brought to the school nearest you. Please wrap your gift of clothes and shoes in heavy paper or put them in a cardboard carton, and tie tightly with heav cord. Bear in mind that clothing sent overseas will be tightly enclosed for a considerable time and unclean woolens are likely to suffer moth damage in transit.

The Gifted-Child

In response to popular demand, a program on "The Gifted Child" will be presented November 3 at Logan school in Wilmette, Central and Prairie ave., at 8:15 p. m. A number of outstanding authorities on this subject will speak.

Mark Your Blue Ballot Nov. 2!

The Gateway amendment, passed in 1950, has for the first time made it possible to initiate such reforms as the blue ballot, or reapportionment amendment. Under the present constitutional regulations, the legislature has consistently refused to remap the districts of the state of Illinois, because such remapping would inevitably give to Cook county control of both the House and the Senate, a result which was naturally not acceptable to voters in the other counties. Under the proposed amendment, a reasonable compromise has been devised, whereby control of the Senate on a geographical basis will be given to downstate Illinois, and representation in the House will be continued on the basis of population, in much fairer proportion than has hitherto been the case. Where Cook county suburbs now have only one representative in each house of the legislature, under the reapportionment amendment they will have six state senators and seven congressmen. A few small west side Chicago "blocs" have exercised undue control over legislative measures, which has led to a stalemate in many problems that urgently need legislative action.

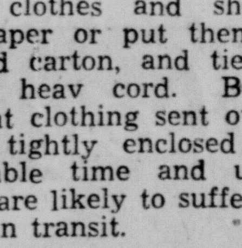
The amendment is not a political proposition; leaders of both major parties have endorsed it. These men and women feel that the major problems of Illinois are rooted in this 50-year failure to remap the districts. The needed modernization of our judicial system, the failure of Illinois cities to serve their people, the rising tide of crime, the critical needs of the youth of our state—these problems can only be solved by legislative action.

It may be expected that there will be opposition to the amendment by those who stand to lose representation; therefore, it is imperative that every voter in Cook county suburbs exercise his right to vote and to be represented in his state legislature.

Boot and Skate Exchange Nov. 6

Those outgrown boots and skates mothers were about to give away can help them get a pair of the right size! November 4 and 5 have been set as the days for children to bring their too small but usable galoshes, boots, rubbers, roller skates and ice skates to their individual schools. Mrs. Albert Dunham, chairman of this event, requests that items be marked with the owner's name and the price desired. The sale will take place Saturday, November 6, at the Junior high school gymnasium, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 12 noon. The youngsters may try on the footwear to be sure of a good fit, and payment will be made only at this time to persons supplying the items. The ways and means committee of the PTA retains 20 per cent of the purchase price, thereby enhancing the PTA treasury, while at the same time providing parents an opportunity to profit by selling items no longer useful to their children.

With The Blue Birds



Arlington Heights "Honey Bears" blue bird group, meeting at Mrs. Crommelin's home, completed work on scrap books and started making decorations for their Halloween party. Plans were made for helping to make hospital tray favors. Hostess for the meeting was Susan Bahr.

"Helping Pixies" group went on a hike and collected leaves for spatter painting. Returning to Mrs. Schomburg's home, the girls mounted some of the leaves in their scrap books and made folders to hold clippings and mementos. Lynne Brodahl brought miniature doughnuts as a treat.

Bluebirds are happy to welcome the Parent Teacher association as sponsors, and appreciate the active interest of the organization. Both bluebird groups are busily collecting needed clothing to help in the PTA's current bundle day project, October 21 and 22. Anyone having outgrown children's clothing, blankets, shoes, etc., is asked to contact one of the neighborhood blue birds.

This Week with PTA

Parents Sit in Classrooms

Parents of elementary school children had the opportunity this week to sit at the children's desks in classrooms and hear the teachers explain the curriculum for each grade. Here they were able to get clarification of their children's often mystifying explanations of "what goes on." When first-grader Bobby sits down to dinner, spies his most detested vegetable, and shouts happily, "Oh, boy! I can stand up for, broccoli!", this means, explains the teacher to baffled parents, that an informal roll call is taken on the types of food the children had for dinner the night before, and that the green vegetable "set" is popularly considered just a trifle superior. Explanations of these and more scholastic facets of the children's education gave parents a clearer insight into teaching methods and objectives, and resulted in better understanding of how home and school can combine efforts and further the development of the children.

Except for section 3 of second grade at New South school, and section 2 of second grade at Ridge school hostesses at all schools were mothers of first and second grade pupils. Morning session parents were received at 7:30 p. m. at New South school, and afternoon session parents at 8:15 p. m., Tuesday, October 19. Other schools met the same evening at 8:15, with Ridge school conducting an extra session the evening of October 20 for parents of afternoon children.

Junior High School will receive sixth grade parents October 25, when mothers of the first three sections will serve as hostesses. Seventh and eighth grade parents are invited for the following evening, when mothers of the first three eighth grade sections will be hostesses.

District Conference Well Attended

The 33rd annual district 21 conference of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers held here last Thursday, was attended by an impressive number of representatives from the many north shore and northwest suburbs. Featured speaker on the program was Mrs. Melvin C. Lockard, Cobden, Ill., president of the congress. A report of her talk will be found elsewhere in this edition. Other speakers and lively discussions both morning and afternoon made the conference outstanding from the point of interesting and worthwhile suggestions which the participants took home with them to report to their individual units. Those who attended left with renewed enthusiasm and inspiration for accomplishing the 3-fold objective of parent-teacher associations throughout the nation — better homes, better schools, better communities.

Send Your Bundles This Week

Thursday and Friday are the days set aside for the collection of outgrown, used or new clothing for the needy families in our own country as well as Korea, Europe and the Middle East. Many of these are homeless orphans, and even where they are provided with shelter and food there are rarely enough funds to clothe them for the winter months. Particularly needed are warm blankets, nightgowns, pajamas, coats, sweaters, underwear, trousers, shirts and socks. Infant wear (including diapers and blankets) is urgently needed. Good wearable shoes, tied together in pairs, will help some child withstand the severe cold (please do not send high-heeled shoes).

Anyone who does not have a child of elementary school age is urged to send his accumulated clothing regardless; any neighborhood child will be glad to take your bundle on one of the two days set aside, or it may be brought to the school nearest you. Please wrap your gift of clothes and shoes in heavy paper or put them in a cardboard carton, and tie tightly with heav cord. Bear in mind that clothing sent overseas will be tightly enclosed for a considerable time and unclean woolens are likely to suffer moth damage in transit.

With The Blue Birds

Arlington Heights "Honey Bears" blue bird group, meeting at Mrs. Crommelin's home, completed work on scrap books and started making decorations for their Halloween party. Plans were made for helping to make hospital tray favors. Hostess for the meeting was Susan Bahr.

"Helping Pixies" group went on a hike and collected leaves for spatter painting. Returning to Mrs. Schomburg's home, the girls mounted some of the leaves in their scrap books and made folders to hold clippings and mementos. Lynne Brodahl brought miniature doughnuts as a treat.

Bluebirds are happy to welcome the Parent Teacher association as sponsors, and appreciate the active interest of the organization. Both bluebird groups are busily collecting needed clothing to help in the PTA's current bundle day project, October 21 and 22. Anyone having outgrown children's clothing, blankets, shoes, etc., is asked to contact one of the neighborhood blue birds.

The Gifted-Child

In response to popular demand, a program on "The Gifted Child" will be presented November 3 at Logan school in Wilmette, Central and Prairie ave., at 8:15 p. m. A number of outstanding authorities on this subject will speak.

Mark Your Blue Ballot Nov. 2!

The Gateway amendment, passed in 1950, has for the first time made it possible to initiate such reforms as the blue ballot, or reapportionment amendment. Under the present constitutional regulations, the legislature has consistently refused to remap the districts of the state of Illinois, because such remapping would inevitably give to Cook county control of both the House and the Senate, a result which was naturally not acceptable to voters in the other counties. Under the proposed amendment, a reasonable compromise has been devised, whereby control of the Senate on a geographical basis will be given to downstate Illinois, and representation in the House will be continued on the basis of population, in much fairer proportion than has hitherto been the case. Where Cook county suburbs now have only one representative in each house of the legislature, under the reapportionment amendment they will have six state senators and seven congressmen. A few small west side Chicago "blocs" have exercised undue control over legislative measures, which has led to a stalemate in many problems that urgently need legislative action.

The amendment is not a political proposition; leaders of both major parties have endorsed it. These men and women feel that the major problems of Illinois are rooted in this 50-year failure to remap the districts. The needed modernization of our judicial system, the failure of Illinois cities to serve their people, the rising tide of crime, the critical needs of the youth of our state—these problems can only be solved by legislative action.

It may be expected that there will be opposition to the amendment by those who stand to lose representation; therefore, it is imperative that every voter in Cook county suburbs exercise his right to vote and to be represented in his state legislature.

Boot and Skate Exchange Nov. 6

Those outgrown boots and skates mothers were about to give away can help them get a pair of the right size! November 4 and 5 have been set as the days for children to bring their too small but usable galoshes, boots, rubbers, roller skates and ice skates to their individual schools. Mrs. Albert Dunham, chairman of this event, requests that items be marked with the owner's name and the price desired. The sale will take place Saturday, November 6, at the Junior high school gymnasium, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 12 noon. The youngsters may try on the footwear to be sure of a good fit, and payment will be made only at this time to persons supplying the items. The ways and means committee of the PTA retains 20 per cent of the purchase price, thereby enhancing the PTA treasury, while at the same time providing parents an opportunity to profit by selling items no longer useful to their children.

Area Girl Scouts Hold Singerama

Led by girls holding the American and troop flags, brownies, intermediate and senior scouts, from all parts of District IV of the Girl Scout council of Northwest Cook county, stepped forward in mass formation towards their bleacher audience in Arlington Heights park last Sunday afternoon. The group was flanked by leaders on both sides.

The occasion was the first district Singarama at which the girls sang favorite scout songs out in the open.

Leading them in their singing was Mrs. Bert Thompson of Palatine, new resident there, who is a Chicago troop leader and will be a music consultant for troops of this area. Apologies to Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Neal Dean for erroneously publishing the name of the latter as the director in last week's article about the Singarama.

Celebrating this Sunday without rain, Mrs. Thompson had the girls sing first in tribute to fair skies and as a quick warm-up because the air was chilly, that old universal favorite "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More."

Mrs. Hugh Robinson, district chairman, instructed and led the girls in their marching formation and other neighborhood chairmen and troop leaders assisted. Mrs. H. Shumaker, north Arlington chairman, led the pledge of allegiance ot the flag and introduced Mrs. Thompson.

Mrs. Bruce Corbett, public relations chairman of the council, reminded parents, friends and leaders of girl scout fund drives which are to take place in the various communities in the district during the latter part of this week and next week.

District IV includes towns and communities of Arlington Hts., Mount Prospect, Palatine, Prospect Heights and Wheeling and the surrounding newer unincorporated sections which are rapidly growing and including girl scouting in their community activities, such as Rollng Meadows and Prospect Meadows.

Barrington Group Invites Public To Reapportionment Talk

October 22 at 8:15 p.m., there will be a community meeting at the Barrington high school social hall sponsored by the Barrington Citizens' committee for reapportionment.

Guy Reed, executive vice-president of the Harris Trust & Savings Bank and chairman of the Citizens of Greater Chicago, will be the speaker on Reapportionment.

All are invited to come and learn about the Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment which will be voted on November 2 at the general election.

The reapportionment amendment provides for redistricting the state so that state senators would be elected on an area basis, and state representatives would be elected according to population. Under the present system, senators and representatives are elected from the same district and these districts have been unchanged since 1901 regardless of changes in population and vary in size from 39,000 (17th district) to 700,000 (7th district).

Refreshments will be served after the discussion.

Office Secretary Tells Reporter Lohman Has Sheriffship In the Bag

When a reporter for Paddock Publications called last week at headquarters of Joseph Lohman, Democratic candidate for sheriff, he found the rooms empty, walls barren of most campaign banners, uncovered floors littered with buttons, match covers, calling cards, posters and pamphlets. It reminded the reporter of a day after election.

In one of the offices a stenographer sat by a phone and applied flame red polish to her nails.

"Mr. Lohman's out giving speeches," she told a Paddock reporter. "He's talking to wards."

Where was everybody?

"Oh, around," she shrugged. holding her fingers stiffly while the polish dried. "No one seems to come around here anymore."

Is Lohman going to win?

"I guess it's a cinch," she replied. "That's why everything is quiet. He's got it in the bag."

Train-Bus Crash Postpones Dinner For Many Commuters

Northwestern railroad commuters were 60 to 90 minutes late getting home Tuesday night as the result of the collision at 5 p.m. of a westbound train and a stalled CTA bus at Nagle ave. and Northwest hwy., Norwood Park.

The bus stalled on the tracks, and the driver opened the doors for eight passengers to flee moments before the train sheared off the front end of the bus and dragged it 100 ft.

There was only one casualty, a woman passenger from the bus who fainted at the time of the impact.

The 10 Commandments of Safety

1 Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of gun safety.

2 Guns carried into camp or home, or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded, and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be carried in cases to the shooting area.

3 Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying. Remove oil and grease from chamber before firing.

4 Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.

5 Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.

6 Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun.

7 Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.

8 Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.

9 Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.

Barrington Group Invites Public To Reapportionment Talk

October 22 at 8:15 p.m., there will be a community meeting at the Barrington high school social hall sponsored by the Barrington Citizens' committee for reapportionment.

Guy Reed, executive vice-president of the Harris Trust & Savings Bank and chairman of the Citizens of Greater Chicago, will be the speaker on Reapportionment.

All are invited to come and learn about the Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment which will be voted on November 2 at the general election.

The reapportionment amendment provides for redistricting the state so that state senators would be elected on an area basis, and state representatives would be elected according to population. Under the present system, senators and representatives are elected from the same district and these districts have been unchanged since 1901 regardless of changes in population and vary in size from 39,000 (17th district) to 700,000 (7th district).

Refreshments will be served after the discussion.

Office Secretary Tells Reporter Lohman Has Sheriffship In the Bag

When a reporter for Paddock Publications called last week at headquarters of Joseph Lohman, Democratic candidate for sheriff, he found the rooms empty, walls barren of most campaign banners, uncovered floors littered with buttons, match covers, calling cards, posters and pamphlets. It reminded the reporter of a day after election.

In one of the offices a stenographer sat by a phone and applied flame red polish to her nails.

"Mr. Lohman's out giving speeches," she told a Paddock reporter. "He's talking to wards."

Where was everybody?

"Oh, around," she shrugged. holding her fingers stiffly while the polish dried. "No one seems to come around here anymore."

Is Lohman going to win?

"I guess it's a cinch," she replied. "That's why everything is quiet. He's got it in the bag."

Northwestern railroad commuters were 60 to 90 minutes late getting home Tuesday night as the result of the collision at 5 p.m. of a westbound train and a stalled CTA bus at Nagle ave. and Northwest hwy., Norwood Park.

The bus stalled on the tracks, and the driver opened the doors for eight passengers to flee moments before the train sheared off the front end of the bus and dragged it 100 ft.

The 10 Commandments of Safety

1 Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of gun safety.

2 Guns carried into camp or home, or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded, and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be carried in cases to the shooting area.

3 Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying. Remove oil and grease from chamber before firing.

4 Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.

5 Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.

6 Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun.

7 Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.

8 Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.

9 Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.

Arlington Packing Co. Moves To New Home

The Arlington Packing Co. moved into new, modern quarters this weekend without losing a single day of business.

Formerly located at 13 W Campbell, the plant switched to its new building at 119 W. Campbell Sunday and opened for business Monday morning.

Charles Wassmer, owner, said the structure, 32 ft. by 108 ft., includes an ultra-modern cooler and a new walk-in freezer which has a picture window overlooking the showroom.

Overhead tracks "rail" meat into the freezer so that it is not touched by workers.

The staff of 10 butchers sell and process meat and beef for both retail and wholesale customers.

Eventually they will have a complete frozen food center.

Hours for the new store are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except Wednesday, when they close at noon, and Saturday hours, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

This establishment provides a greater part of the meat used in the school lunchrooms in the northwest area.

The audio was supplied by Welterman TV and Arlington Radio and Record shop.

Intermediate troop 1 visited Don McNeil's breakfast club October 15. Seventeen girls attended with their leaders, Mrs. Hood and Mrs. Cordaro. Roberta Rheinhart was called by Don McNeil to talk with him on the TV show.

Arlington Packing Co. Moves To New Home

The Arlington Packing Co. moved into new, modern quarters this weekend without losing a single day of business.

Formerly located at 13 W Campbell, the plant switched to its new building at 119 W. Campbell Sunday and opened for business Monday morning.

Charles Wassmer, owner, said the structure, 32 ft. by 108 ft., includes an ultra-modern cooler and a new walk-in freezer which has a picture window overlooking the showroom.

Overhead tracks "rail" meat into the freezer so that it is not touched by workers.

The staff of 10 butchers sell and process meat and beef for both retail and wholesale customers.

Eventually they will have a complete frozen food center.

Hours for the new store are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except Wednesday, when they close at noon, and Saturday hours, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

This establishment provides a greater part of the meat used in the school lunchrooms in the northwest area.

Concert Pianist To Give Chopin Concert Here October 27

MRS. HUGH HOYM

Mrs. Hugh Hoym, chairman of the music study group of Arlington Heights Woman's club, and her committee have planned three programs for the year. The first program will be October 27 at the home of Mrs. Thorlief Larson, 450 Banbury rd., at 1:30 p.m.

Christian Bergsen Flagg, pianist, will give an all Chopin concert for this program. Mr. Flagg is a concert pianist and teacher, and his repertoire includes from the classic to the modern schools. It also embraces almost the entire Chopin literature, in which he specializes. He has won acclaim in recital before critical audiences and has played important engagements in Chicago and other cities. Mr. Flagg, who teaches piano in Arlington Heights, plans to make his debut as a concert pianist in Carnegie Hall, New York.

Co-hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. O. W. Gappert and Mrs. F. P. Sesterhenn. Anyone planning to attend, may call Mrs. Hoym or Mrs. Gappert for reservations.

Parade Predicts Homecoming Victory Here

Students of Arlington Heights high school came up with many new and original ideas for floats in the annual Homecoming parade held last Friday.

Leading off the parade were several drum majorettes, followed by the marching band. Next in line were the Homecoming king and queen, Dennis Maher and Barbara Russell, and their court, Barbara Coffman, Joan Keppler, Rose Marie Balzano, Barbara Messner, Wayne Mueller, Jack Johnston, Dave Lynk and Floyd Burns.

FORTY-ONE COLORFUL and unique floats followed, each representing a junior or senior homeroom, or a combination of frosh-soph homerooms. The junior class homeroom in charge of Mrs. George, walked off with first place honors with their float, "We'll De-Feet 'Em." Second place went to two reshmen homerooms in charge of Mr. Brock and Miss Cobb for their "Let Us Atom" theme. Mr. Murphy's sophomores copped third place for their piano float.

Honorable mention went to "This Old House," erected by Mr. Grace's and Mr. Hughes' freshmen home rooms; "Lil Miss A" entered by junior students of Mrs. Wissen's home room; and "We're Laying for Glenbard," a senior float entered by Mr. Waara's home room.

Photos of all these floats will be found on the picture page this week, along with winning floats from the Palatine Homecoming parade, which was held Saturday.

JUDGES FOR the Arlington parade were Mrs. Richard Chambers, Barrington, Mrs. W. W. Smythe Jr., Park Ridge, and Mrs. Peter Mayer, Hinsdale.

The many boasts of victory portrayed by the floats became a reality Friday night when the Cardinals beat their Glenbard opponents 7-0 for their first winner of the season. The frosh-sophs tied their game. George Larsen, math teacher, won the homecoming football given away by the "A" club.

Homecoming weekend came to a climax Saturday night with a good crowd attending the dance in the high school cafeteria. It is expected that a profit of $600 will be realized out of all the Homecoming festivities.

Autumn Film Next Travel, Lecture Topic

Stan Midgely will bring the color film "Autumn Across America" to the screen of girls' gymnasium of the Arlington Heights high school Tuesday, October 26, at 8 p.m., in the second presentation of the travel and adventure lecture series.

Midgely first attracted public attention when his movie, "Free Wheeling in the Utah Parks" won the first prize of $1000 in a nationwide contest several years ago. The photography was exceptional, as was to be expected of a photographer whose works had been exhibited in salons across the country for years, but it was the inimitable sense of humor with which the scenes were described that walked away with the prize.

THE SAME sense of humor that has made his other films such successes with audiences is apparent in his filming of the most beautiful areas of the country in the glory of autum coloring in "Autumn Across America." The film first shows the beauty of the fall of the year in New England's historic spots with lakes and mountains robed in flaming red and gold.

Southward the camera travels, through the Adirondacks, the Alleghenies, and over the Blue Ridge to the Great Smokies. The scenic loveliness of the shores of Lake Superior preface views of the farms of the "corn belt," and on to the Rockies, to Colorado at its colorful best, Wyoming and Montana. In Utah and Arizona the trees vie in color with the canyon walls.

The breathtaking wonders of the Northwest, Mount Hood, and the Columbia Gorge are aflame with oaks, maples, larches and fruit trees in their Indian summer dress. The film ends with views of California with its golden oaks of Yosemite, dogwood throughout the Sequoias, and the quaking aspen of the High Sierras.

State PTA President Stresses Need For Independent Thought

"As parents and teachers, we need to recognize the right of children to grow up in an atmosphere of freedom," said Mrs. Melvin C. Lockard, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, speaking here last Thursday at the 33rd annual conference of district 21. Stressing the importance of encouraging independent thought and action, of helpful guidance rather than set discipline, Mrs Lockard declared that only by "helping the child to grow within himself" can parents assist in building the self-discipline needed to develop a sound, independent-thinking citizen. "Too much direction stifles ability to make decisions," she said.

Describing the three major areas of influence as the home, the school, and the community, Mrs. Lockard urged her listeners to take a "new look" at their objectives, to provide facilities for the present with an eye to the needs of the future. Schools are the problem of the entire populace, stressed Mrs. Lockard, adding that only when everyone understands the problems and agrees on the objectives can effective planning and action be taken. She recommended that individual PTA units concentrate on deciding what their particular objectives are and interpreting them to the community as a whole.

Pointing out that many outside activities and influences tend to diminish the life of the family together, Mrs. Lockard strongly urged that the periods spent together be made more meaningful and memorable, recommending frequent picnics, parties, games, and shared oral reading as some of the means to this end.

Mrs. Lockard spoke to representatives of PTA units from 22 suburbs, who met at the St Peter Lutheran school here for an all-day session of talks and panel discussions. At the "buzz" session which followed individual units, under the leadership of Mrs. Fred J. Pannwitt of Evanston, shared ideas and reports of activities with each other.

Mrs. Lee Vernon of Chicago, state magazine chairman, spoke at the luncheon on "A Resource for Action," describing helpful publications available to parents and teachers. Of particular mention was the National Parent-Teacher magazine, which Mrs. Lockard had described earlier as "the best parent-teacher educator available," embracing all levels of education, from the pre-school child through the adult.

At the panel discussion in the afternoon, various solutions to the problem of teacher shortages were proposed and discussed by Dr. Martin H. Bartels, director of placement, Northern Illinois State Teachers' college, DeKalb; Mrs. Vincent McDade, Chicago, state scholarship chairman, Mrs. Rausch of Wilmette, and Frank C. Thomas, superintendent of public schools in Barrington, as moderator. The discussion proved so lively that it was adjourned only when the late hour made it necessary for the participants to leave.

The interest and enthusiasm manifested by the conferees were such that members of Arlington Heights PTA executive board, who had made all preparations and served as hostesses and assistants at the conference, felt well repaid for their labors.

Heights High Open House October 28

A movie of school life and a long teacher-parent visiting period will be the main features of the fall open house at Arlington Heights high school October 28, at 8 p. m.

Parents of high school and grade school students, and all other interested residents of the high school district are invited to attend in order to know their school better.

IN AN ATTEMPT to depict the school life of more or less typical students, the program committee has selected two boys and two girls, one from each of the four classes. The programs of the four students include most of the fields of study offered by the high school.

Activities of a typical day for each student are being photographed and recorded, including all of their classes and some of their other activities. In order to keep the film within reasonable limits and show a few extra points of interest, duplications such as physical education classes and study halls will be shown for only one of the four students.

The concert band will present a short musical program beginning at 7:45 p. m. and ending at 8 p. m. The new teachers and administrators will be introduced and the film will follow. A visiting period of more than one hour is being planned, with teachers stationed in the gym and rooms near-by.

Parents of high school and grade school students, and all other interested residents of the high school district are invited to attend in order to know their school better.

IN AN ATTEMPT to depict the school life of more or less typical students, the program committee has selected two boys and two girls, one from each of the four classes. The programs of the four students include most of the fields of study offered by the high school.

Activities of a typical day for each student are being photographed and recorded, including all of their classes and some of their other activities. In order to keep the film within reasonable limits and show a few extra points of interest, duplications such as physical education classes and study halls will be shown for only one of the four students.

The concert band will present a short musical program beginning at 7:45 p. m. and ending at 8 p. m. The new teachers and administrators will be introduced and the film will follow. A visiting period of more than one hour is being planned, with teachers stationed in the gym and rooms near-by.

Male Singers Are Needed By Country Chorus

Town and Country chorus is about to shift into high gear in rehearsals for its third season, Mrs. Lorraine Dean, director, announced this week. Response to invitations for new members has been heavy, and the chorus now numbers 75 members, residents of the Northwest suburbs from Mount Prospect to Barrington.

Because most of the new strength is in the women's sections, Mrs. Dean hopes to add several men's voices to the group during the next two weeks. About three more voices in each of the men's sections — tenor, baritone, and bass — are needed to bring the chorus into better balance and to make the group more flexible. Any men living in the area who want to sing in an informal but skillful choral group are invited to visit a rehearsal.

A few more ladies' alto voices will also be welcomed.

FIRST REHEARSALS this year have been devoted to a review of part of the repertoire, so those who join the group now will be starting on an equal footing with the older members.

Much of each rehearsal period from now to Christmas will be devoted to work on Handel's "Messiah," which the chorus will present in December. Last year's presentation was hailed as a major musical event.

The chorus will also give several other concerts through the season, much of it in a lighter vein, solos by members of the group, and specialties by smaller groups within the chorus. Through its first two seasons, the chorus has become best known for the variety of its repertoire, ranging from the classics through popular music.

Rehearsals are held every Monday night from 8 until 10 o'clock. in the cafeteria of the Oak St. school, Palatine. For details about Town and Country chorus, call Mrs. Dean at Palatine 436.

Coke Party To Acquaint Junior And Senior Girls With Cottey College

Girls of the junior and senior classes are invited to attend a coke party at 3:10 p. m. October 26 at Arlington Heights high school. The party is being planned by members of Chapters ER, FW and HN of the P. E. O. Sisterhood to acquaint girls with the educational opportunities offered at Cottey college in Nevada, Mo.

Cottey college is a two year college founded in 1884 by Virginia Alice Cottey Stockard who presented it the P. E. O. Sisterhood. This organization is international in scope with chapters in all states of the United States. Canada, Alaska and Hawaii. It has a membership of some 120,000 women, all of whom have a special interest in educational advancement. Because Cottey college has the support of every P. E. O. it is able to offer an excellent educational program, report P. E. O. members.

President Blanche H. Dow expresses the purpose of Cottey in this way, that the first two years of college are designed to establish a foundation for life in mind, imagination, character and spirit, and the four elements of such a foundation are: knowledge which should bring joy and delight to one's life; aesthetic sensibilities, which give power to create and express through the imagination; social responsibility, which is a necessary ingredient in making a better community; and the cultivation of the spirit, in which reside the force and power of religion, of faith, of love or ideals.

Cottey college attracts students from all over the world, and through its program is doing much to promote understanding among those of different backgrounds and cultures. The quality of education being offered at Cottey is well known in universities, and their doors are wide open to Cottey graduates.

All upper class girls are urged to come to this party and learn for themselves of the unusual opportunities and advantages offered at Cottey. Colored slides depicting campus, buildings and college life will be shown and Mrs. Louis Vits, a Cottey graduate from Oak Park, will be there.

Special invitations have been sent to Mrs. Jessie Parks Bonson, first vice president of the Illinois state chapter, and to Mrs. Thelma Cox, treasurer of the Illinois state chapter.

Local P. E. O. presidents are: Mrs. A. E. Goldwaite, Chapter ER, Mrs. D. W. Vittum, Chapter FW, and Mrs. J. F. Faner, Chapter HN.

Announce Postponement To November 19-20 Of 'The Male Animal'

Students of the Adult Evening school of Arlington Heights high school who purchased season tickets to Village Theatre productions through this program have received notice of the postponement of the fall show, "The Male Animal."

Due to the fact that the Junior high school gym is used for three classrooms until the addition to New South school is completed, the play will be given November 19 and 20 instead of this weekend as previously announced.

Subscribers are also receiving letters of admission through the mails this week.

More Independents

Since 1932,, the number of independent oil operators has grown from about 4,000 to 13,000.

Endorse Puffer

It is seldom that a Chicago daily newspaper will use its editorial column to endorse a candidate for office. The Chicago Daily News did just that in its issue of October 7, which recommended the reelection of Noble J. Puffer county superintendent of schools.

Friends of education in the area served by Paddock Publications regardless of political leanings will no doubt agree with that editiorial, which is being republished in part.

"This newspaper believes that virtually all offices at the county level should be filled on the basis of individual qualification and experience. This is particularly true of the post of county superintendent of education, the least political of all the offices on next month's ballot.

The Republican candidate, Mrs. Eleanor R. Coghlan, is a woman of great personal charm, high intelligence, and good educational qualifications.

The Democratic candidate, Noble J. Puffer, has years of satisfactory service in this partticular job. For that reason we recommend his re-election.

There is no element of speculation about Mr. Puffer's service. He was county superintendent from 1935 to 1947. He was elected to the same office again in 1950 and is still serving.

In February, 1949, he was appointed state director of registration and education and served until he returned as county superintendent in 1951.

In addition to his mandatory services to the suburban schools, an experienced county superintendent is able to help them informally in many ways.

This is particularly true when, as in Mr. Puffer's case, he is widely acquainted among teachers and administrators. We have reason to believe that his re-election would be gratifying to a very large number of suburban school board members, superintendents and teachers."

College Night At Arlington November 4

Parents of juniors and seniors at Arlington Heights high school are urged to accompany their sons and daughters in attending the annual College Night November 4, between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Approximately 100 colleges, universities, trade schools, and commercial schools have been invited to send representatives and present indications are that about 80 will do so.

The schools invited include most of the schools in the Middlewest and representative schools from other districts. These include Colorado university on the West, Miami university on the South and Massachusetts Institute of Technology on the East.

Trade and commercial schools in the Chicago area have been invited

Meek Campaign Needs Cash Backers

George McKann, business manager for Joe Meek, admitted to Paddock Publications this week that "crying poor mouth is habit forming."

"But in our case, it's justified. We're in bad financial shape."

The Meek campaign is running about $32,000 in the red with larger deficits looming before election, according to figures released by Meek headquarters this week.

He told a Paddock reporter that they hoped to "break even" in expenses.

"At no time since June 1 have we been able to pay all our bills," reported McKann. "Businessmen — our chief supporters—have never been as free with their money as reported."

He said it was hard to convince people that financially backing a candidate is a "part of civic life."

"Big bosses used to support candidates, but now they have to raise their own money."

McKann laughed and said the Republicans were "poor" and the Democrats "rich."

"Douglas is getting big donations from labor unions," he added. "I understand one union has already donated $50.000 worth of printing, and that's any campaign's biggest item."

Presbyterian Men Announce Staff For Turnabout Dinner

The staff of Presbyterian men who will prepare and serve the annual turnabout dinner at the Arlington Heights First Presbyterian church Saturday night, October 23, has been named by James Webster, Chef du Cuisine.

Assisting Mr. Webster in the key spots in the kitchen will be the following: Victor Bernthal, Bob Hutchinson and Jim Moore, chef de pantry; Ed Tierney, rottisserie; Wendell Prunty and Warren White, chef de poisson; Fred Clark, Oscar Holmgren and Bob McFadin, garde manger; Howard Lips, Dick Bernthal and Wayne Holloway, saucier; Pete Peterson and Earl Ogier, pastry chefs; Paul Fellingham, steward

The meal, to be prepared by this staff, was announced by Chef Webster as follows: shrimp cocktail, braised short ribs of beef, vegetables julienne, duchesse potatoes, salade des hommes, garden relishes, hot breads pumpkin squares, and coffee or milk.

Doors open at 5 p.m., with service continuing until 7:30. Those planning to attend the dinner are urged to get their tickets in advance in order to avoid disappointment. Nearly 350 persons were served last year, and plans are being made to accommodate 400 this year.

Laurence K. Smith, president of the Presbyterian men, has directed the enlistment of waiters and cleanup crew, and will also serve as cashier. He will be at the door to dispose of any tickets which are not sold before the evening of the dinner. Tickets may be obtained this week from members of the Presbyterian Men's organization or at the church office. Tickets for adults are $1.50, and $1 for children.

Chuck Tully, who served as Maitre de for the last two turnabout dinners, will return to that position once more. He will be assisted by Henri Halvorsen as captain of waiters, and Roy Hughes as second assistant.

MOVING SALE!

We're Moving Your Jewel Pantry to Our Big Food Distribution Center

Thanks to friends like you who believed in us throughout the years our business has grown and grown. . . .

We've outgrown our warehouse at 5000 S. Kedzie and we're moving into our new food distribution center, Melrose Park, Illinois. This new distribution center will hold 3 times the food our Kedzie Avenue warehouse held. And it's centrally located so that Jewel stores can be more easily reached by Jewel trucks delivering your food.

This is another part of the planning that helps Jewel serve you better. We hope that our moving will not only mean better service for you in the future; but that it will prove to be a real savings to you right NOW. We find it more economical to drastically cut the costs of the food in our Kedzie warehouse and pass the savings on to you than to move the stock to our new Melrose Park Food Distribution Center. We're really happy to be able to pass these wonderful savings on to you . . . because this is another way we can help you stretch your food budget.

Endorse Puffer

It is seldom that a Chicago daily newspaper will use its editorial column to endorse a candidate for office. The Chicago Daily News did just that in its issue of October 7, which recommended the reelection of Noble J. Puffer county superintendent of schools.

Friends of education in the area served by Paddock Publications regardless of political leanings will no doubt agree with that editiorial, which is being republished in part.

"This newspaper believes that virtually all offices at the county level should be filled on the basis of individual qualification and experience. This is particularly true of the post of county superintendent of education, the least political of all the offices on next month's ballot.

The Republican candidate, Mrs. Eleanor R. Coghlan, is a woman of great personal charm, high intelligence, and good educational qualifications.

The Democratic candidate, Noble J. Puffer, has years of satisfactory service in this partticular job. For that reason we recommend his re-election.

There is no element of speculation about Mr. Puffer's service. He was county superintendent from 1935 to 1947. He was elected to the same office again in 1950 and is still serving.

In February, 1949, he was appointed state director of registration and education and served until he returned as county superintendent in 1951.

In addition to his mandatory services to the suburban schools, an experienced county superintendent is able to help them informally in many ways.

This is particularly true when, as in Mr. Puffer's case, he is widely acquainted among teachers and administrators. We have reason to believe that his re-election would be gratifying to a very large number of suburban school board members, superintendents and teachers."

College Night At Arlington November 4

Parents of juniors and seniors at Arlington Heights high school are urged to accompany their sons and daughters in attending the annual College Night November 4, between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Approximately 100 colleges, universities, trade schools, and commercial schools have been invited to send representatives and present indications are that about 80 will do so.

The schools invited include most of the schools in the Middlewest and representative schools from other districts. These include Colorado university on the West, Miami university on the South and Massachusetts Institute of Technology on the East.

Trade and commercial schools in the Chicago area have been invited

Meek Campaign Needs Cash Backers

George McKann, business manager for Joe Meek, admitted to Paddock Publications this week that "crying poor mouth is habit forming."

"But in our case, it's justified. We're in bad financial shape."

The Meek campaign is running about $32,000 in the red with larger deficits looming before election, according to figures released by Meek headquarters this week.

He told a Paddock reporter that they hoped to "break even" in expenses.

"At no time since June 1 have we been able to pay all our bills," reported McKann. "Businessmen — our chief supporters—have never been as free with their money as reported."

He said it was hard to convince people that financially backing a candidate is a "part of civic life."

"Big bosses used to support candidates, but now they have to raise their own money."

McKann laughed and said the Republicans were "poor" and the Democrats "rich."

"Douglas is getting big donations from labor unions," he added. "I understand one union has already donated $50.000 worth of printing, and that's any campaign's biggest item."

Presbyterian Men Announce Staff For Turnabout Dinner

The staff of Presbyterian men who will prepare and serve the annual turnabout dinner at the Arlington Heights First Presbyterian church Saturday night, October 23, has been named by James Webster, Chef du Cuisine.

Assisting Mr. Webster in the key spots in the kitchen will be the following: Victor Bernthal, Bob Hutchinson and Jim Moore, chef de pantry; Ed Tierney, rottisserie; Wendell Prunty and Warren White, chef de poisson; Fred Clark, Oscar Holmgren and Bob McFadin, garde manger; Howard Lips, Dick Bernthal and Wayne Holloway, saucier; Pete Peterson and Earl Ogier, pastry chefs; Paul Fellingham, steward

The meal, to be prepared by this staff, was announced by Chef Webster as follows: shrimp cocktail, braised short ribs of beef, vegetables julienne, duchesse potatoes, salade des hommes, garden relishes, hot breads pumpkin squares, and coffee or milk.

Doors open at 5 p.m., with service continuing until 7:30. Those planning to attend the dinner are urged to get their tickets in advance in order to avoid disappointment. Nearly 350 persons were served last year, and plans are being made to accommodate 400 this year.

Laurence K. Smith, president of the Presbyterian men, has directed the enlistment of waiters and cleanup crew, and will also serve as cashier. He will be at the door to dispose of any tickets which are not sold before the evening of the dinner. Tickets may be obtained this week from members of the Presbyterian Men's organization or at the church office. Tickets for adults are $1.50, and $1 for children.

Chuck Tully, who served as Maitre de for the last two turnabout dinners, will return to that position once more. He will be assisted by Henri Halvorsen as captain of waiters, and Roy Hughes as second assistant.

Citizens for Douglas Hear Campaign Talk by Mrs. Douglas

Mrs. Emily Taft Douglas, wife of Senator Paul H. Douglas, carried the campaign for her husband's re-election into the northwest suburbs Saturday afternoon when a reception was held in her honor at the Mount Prospect Country club. Sponsors were the Mount Prospect Citizens for Douglas, with their sister groups from Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Palatine and Barrington participating.

A cheery fire blazed on the grate as the reception guests, enjoying cake and coffee, heard Mrs. Douglas tell them of her husband's heroic war record and his accomplishment in public service. She remarked that "whenever the government has started a new project moss-backs have labeled it 'socialist' . . . To answer such stand-patism, Abraham Lincoln, who can hardly be called socialist, said 'The legitimate object of government is to do for the people what needs to be done, but which they cannot by individual effort do at all or do so well for themselves' . . . The only time when communism was a threat in this country was under Herbert Hoover . . . Men were desperate, which is the climate for breeding 'communists.' Some 140,000 Americans voted the communist ticket in 1932, but in twenty years, the twenty years which Senator McCarthy calls the years of 'treason,' the number of Reds has been cut by more than three-fourths . . . What is more, the leadership of this international conspiracy . . . had all be tried and jailed by a Democratic administration."

AT ONE POINT Mrs. Douglas remarked, "Congress also cut some of the excise taxes, primarily on luxuries such as furs and jewelry. I would like to add here that my husband had some few personal victories on that bill. He succeeded in getting the tax on household appliances such as refrigerators and stoves cut by 50%."

When Mrs. Douglas had graciously answered questions from the audience, Mr. Donnell of Skokie gave a talk and demonstration on using the voting machine.

Mrs. Fred Thulin Jr., chairman of Mount Prospect Citizens for Douglas, announced that the use of the Mount Prospect Country club dining room and the refreshments were provided through the courtesy of Henry Sophie and Bert Korzen. Mrs. Robert Sophie was in charge of the arrangements.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Thulin brought Mrs. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Richard McClaughry of Arlington Heights to the Chicago Swedish club for smorgasboard. (B5

Marine Air Reserve Offers An Opportunity

Any citizen who does not support the military reserves in preparation for a fight for common survival weakens the common chance for all to survive.

So declared Brig. Gen. F. H. Lamson-Scribner, commander of the Marine Air Reserve training program with headquarters at Glenview Naval Air station.

In an interview with Paddock Publications this week, the general stressed the importance of communities supporting the reserves program.

His current problem is interesting Korean veterans to re-affiliate with the reserve program.

"They seem to have the mistaken notion that their chances for being recalled are greater," explained Gen. Lamson-Scribner. "This just is not the facts. In addition, they are losing out on the benefits of technical know-how and promotion."

He said it costs the taxpayers $65,000 to train a pilot. "We have a great investment in these men. In the Korean war, the marine reservists were America's great secret weapon."

The marine and naval air reserve program costs less than one cent of each naval defense dollar.

A number of young men from Palatine, Arlington Heights, and Mount Prospect are participating in the Glenview program. Others come from as far away as Iowa and Michigan.

Currently, Glenview is switching to jets in order to fit in with the air defense program.

The reserve program is open to youths 17 to 18 years of age and requires one week end a month at Glenview.

"With the support of your readers," Gen. Lamson-Scribner told Paddocks; "and with an enlightened, determined citizenry supporting the strength of our reserves, I am certain America can face the future well assured that a Russian bill of lading will never be substituted for the American bill of rights."

Make Two Weeks' Sandwiches At Once

One or two weeks' supply of sandwiches for packed lunches can be prepared at one time and stored in the home freezer. This method sidesteps the more time-consuming procedure of making up sandwiches every day.

A sandwich taken from the freezer in the morning will slowly defrost and will be ready to eat by lunch time, home economists of Deepfreeze Home Appliances point out. They suggest that sandwiches be sealed individually in pint polyethylene bags and labeled. When like sandwiches are assembled in large bags, daily selection is quick and easy.

Sheriff Candidate To Broadcast On Juvenile Delinquency

Joseph D. Lohman, Democratic candidate for Sheriff, will make a series of television appearances under the sponsorship of the Lohman-For-Sheriff Independent Committee. Walter T. Fisher, attorney and former chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission, is chairman of the committee.

Lohman's first TV appearance is scheduled for 6:15 p.m. Saturday, October 23, over WBKB (Channel 7). He intends to discuss the problem of juvenile delinquency in Cook county. Several outstanding welfare and civic leader will appear with Lohman.

His next TV appearance will be at the same time over the same channel the following Saturday, (October 30), at which time he expects to discuss the Cook county jail.

Arrangements are also being made to purchase additional radio and television time for Lohman during the closing weeks of the campaign.

Issue Suspect Notices To 5,000

A total of 5,194 persons in this area will receive notices from the county election commissioners requiring them to prove they are qualified to vote.

These persons, listed as "suspected" by election officials, may have moved since their last registration.

Suspected figures for neighboring townships are: Barrington, 493; Elk Grove, 310; Hanover, 313; Northfield, 1631; Palatine, 859; Schaumburg, 110; and Wheeling, 1478.

Completed figures on registration of new voters in suburban Cook county indicate a probable light vote Nov. 2.

Second Dedication Service At St. Mark Church Sunday

October is dedication month at the new St. Mark Lutheran church, at 200 S. Wille in Mount Prospect. Last Sunday the church was dedicated to the glory of God with Rev. Myron Austinson as guest speaker. It was a festive occasion with more than one thousand persons at the three services and with more than three hundred attending the "Open House" in the afternoon.

Next Sunday the guest pastor will be Rev. Arthur Seyda of the United Lutheran Church of America, now student pastor at Northwestern university, who will preach the sermon at both the 8:30 and the 11 a.m. services. The theme of the Sunday sermon will be "Dedication of the Church to Christian Education and Youth Work," and all are invited to attend.

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the sanctuary, there will be a special youth program, a dramatization given by the Leagues directed by Miss Beverly Franklin, parish worker. The public is invited to attend. (AM

Citizens for Douglas Hear Campaign Talk by Mrs. Douglas

Mrs. Emily Taft Douglas, wife of Senator Paul H. Douglas, carried the campaign for her husband's re-election into the northwest suburbs Saturday afternoon when a reception was held in her honor at the Mount Prospect Country club. Sponsors were the Mount Prospect Citizens for Douglas, with their sister groups from Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Palatine and Barrington participating.

A cheery fire blazed on the grate as the reception guests, enjoying cake and coffee, heard Mrs. Douglas tell them of her husband's heroic war record and his accomplishment in public service. She remarked that "whenever the government has started a new project moss-backs have labeled it 'socialist' . . . To answer such stand-patism, Abraham Lincoln, who can hardly be called socialist, said 'The legitimate object of government is to do for the people what needs to be done, but which they cannot by individual effort do at all or do so well for themselves' . . . The only time when communism was a threat in this country was under Herbert Hoover . . . Men were desperate, which is the climate for breeding 'communists.' Some 140,000 Americans voted the communist ticket in 1932, but in twenty years, the twenty years which Senator McCarthy calls the years of 'treason,' the number of Reds has been cut by more than three-fourths . . . What is more, the leadership of this international conspiracy . . . had all be tried and jailed by a Democratic administration."

AT ONE POINT Mrs. Douglas remarked, "Congress also cut some of the excise taxes, primarily on luxuries such as furs and jewelry. I would like to add here that my husband had some few personal victories on that bill. He succeeded in getting the tax on household appliances such as refrigerators and stoves cut by 50%."

When Mrs. Douglas had graciously answered questions from the audience, Mr. Donnell of Skokie gave a talk and demonstration on using the voting machine.

Mrs. Fred Thulin Jr., chairman of Mount Prospect Citizens for Douglas, announced that the use of the Mount Prospect Country club dining room and the refreshments were provided through the courtesy of Henry Sophie and Bert Korzen. Mrs. Robert Sophie was in charge of the arrangements.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Thulin brought Mrs. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Richard McClaughry of Arlington Heights to the Chicago Swedish club for smorgasboard. (B5

Marine Air Reserve Offers An Opportunity

Any citizen who does not support the military reserves in preparation for a fight for common survival weakens the common chance for all to survive.

So declared Brig. Gen. F. H. Lamson-Scribner, commander of the Marine Air Reserve training program with headquarters at Glenview Naval Air station.

In an interview with Paddock Publications this week, the general stressed the importance of communities supporting the reserves program.

His current problem is interesting Korean veterans to re-affiliate with the reserve program.

"They seem to have the mistaken notion that their chances for being recalled are greater," explained Gen. Lamson-Scribner. "This just is not the facts. In addition, they are losing out on the benefits of technical know-how and promotion."

He said it costs the taxpayers $65,000 to train a pilot. "We have a great investment in these men. In the Korean war, the marine reservists were America's great secret weapon."

The marine and naval air reserve program costs less than one cent of each naval defense dollar.

A number of young men from Palatine, Arlington Heights, and Mount Prospect are participating in the Glenview program. Others come from as far away as Iowa and Michigan.

Currently, Glenview is switching to jets in order to fit in with the air defense program.

The reserve program is open to youths 17 to 18 years of age and requires one week end a month at Glenview.

"With the support of your readers," Gen. Lamson-Scribner told Paddocks; "and with an enlightened, determined citizenry supporting the strength of our reserves, I am certain America can face the future well assured that a Russian bill of lading will never be substituted for the American bill of rights."

Make Two Weeks' Sandwiches At Once

One or two weeks' supply of sandwiches for packed lunches can be prepared at one time and stored in the home freezer. This method sidesteps the more time-consuming procedure of making up sandwiches every day.

A sandwich taken from the freezer in the morning will slowly defrost and will be ready to eat by lunch time, home economists of Deepfreeze Home Appliances point out. They suggest that sandwiches be sealed individually in pint polyethylene bags and labeled. When like sandwiches are assembled in large bags, daily selection is quick and easy.

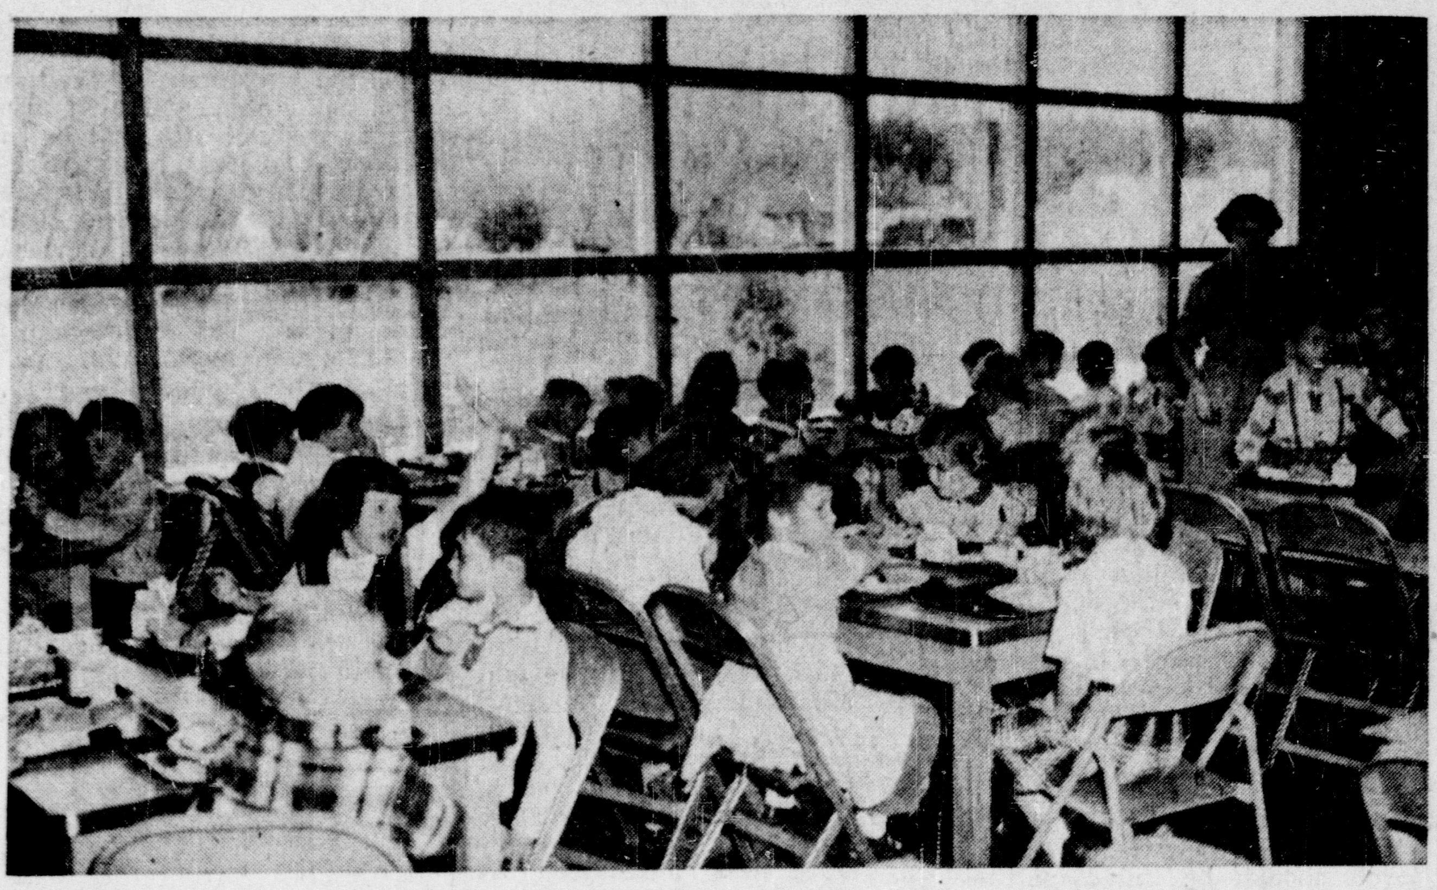
Sheriff Candidate To Broadcast On Juvenile Delinquency

Joseph D. Lohman, Democratic candidate for Sheriff, will make a series of television appearances under the sponsorship of the Lohman-For-Sheriff Independent Committee. Walter T. Fisher, attorney and former chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission, is chairman of the committee.

Lohman's first TV appearance is scheduled for 6:15 p.m. Saturday, October 23, over WBKB (Channel 7). He intends to discuss the problem of juvenile delinquency in Cook county. Several outstanding welfare and civic leader will appear with Lohman.

His next TV appearance will be at the same time over the same channel the following Saturday, (October 30), at which time he expects to discuss the Cook county jail.

Arrangements are also being made to purchase additional radio and television time for Lohman during the closing weeks of the campaign.



450 pupils eat their first lunch at the new Stuart R. Paddock grade school Monday noon at Palatine. In honor of the occasion, a turkey dinner of generous proportions was served. The cost of the luncheon including a plateful of turkey, potatoes, cranberry sauce and a vegetable and milk was only 30c for children. Teachers paid 40c. The west cafeteria wall of glass is an example of the way the outdoors is brought into all parts of the Paddock school. —Staff Photo

Issue Suspect Notices To 5,000

A total of 5,194 persons in this area will receive notices from the county election commissioners requiring them to prove they are qualified to vote.

These persons, listed as "suspected" by election officials, may have moved since their last registration.

Suspected figures for neighboring townships are: Barrington, 493; Elk Grove, 310; Hanover, 313; Northfield, 1631; Palatine, 859; Schaumburg, 110; and Wheeling, 1478.

Completed figures on registration of new voters in suburban Cook county indicate a probable light vote Nov. 2.

Second Dedication Service At St. Mark Church Sunday

October is dedication month at the new St. Mark Lutheran church, at 200 S. Wille in Mount Prospect. Last Sunday the church was dedicated to the glory of God with Rev. Myron Austinson as guest speaker. It was a festive occasion with more than one thousand persons at the three services and with more than three hundred attending the "Open House" in the afternoon.

Next Sunday the guest pastor will be Rev. Arthur Seyda of the United Lutheran Church of America, now student pastor at Northwestern university, who will preach the sermon at both the 8:30 and the 11 a.m. services. The theme of the Sunday sermon will be "Dedication of the Church to Christian Education and Youth Work," and all are invited to attend.

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the sanctuary, there will be a special youth program, a dramatization given by the Leagues directed by Miss Beverly Franklin, parish worker. The public is invited to attend. (AM

Modern Etiquette

Q. How does one select the correct implement to use at a formal dinner?

A. Usually you need merely remember to take the outside — that is, the farthest from the plate —spoon or fork first. If the pieces have not been laid in this order, the fault is that of the person who set the table, not yours. If you are in doubt, wait until your host or hostess picks up his implement, then you follow suit.

Q. What is the best possible acknowledgement to an introduction?

A. Under all possible circumstances, the reply to an introduction may be "How do you do?" And, of course, this should be accompanied by a smile.

Q. Is ice cream always eaten with the spoon?

A. Ordinarily yes. However, if it is served with pie alamode, then a fork is used.

Q. Is it proper for one to excuse oneself when necessary to blow the nose at the dinner table?

A. No; this merely calls everyone's attention to an unpleasant ritual. The only thing to do is to end it as inconspicuously and as quickly as possible.

Q. Is it obligatory for the bride to buy a gift of some kind for her bridegroom on their wedding day?

A. Although not exactly obligatory, it is the customary thing for a bride to give her bridegroom some kind of gift for his personal use.

Q. May men's formal evening trousers be cuffed?

A. No.

Q. When someone telephones a member of the family who is absent, should one ask who is calling?

A. If the caller has not identified himself, rather than ask, "Who is this?" it is much better to ask, "May I tell him who called," or, "Would you care to leave your number?"

Q. What is the proper type of place cards to use on the dinner table?

A. Plain, white cards, about an inch and a half wide by two inches long, sometimes larger.

Q. When one has illness in the family and a friend says, "I am sorry, etc.," what should be one's response be?

A. "Thank you" is sufficient.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Louise Hildebrandt

Funeral services will be held today, Thursday, at 1:30 p.m. at Tharp funeral home for Mrs. Louise Hildebrandt, nee Tegtmeier, who died October 18. Mrs. Hildebrandt was born in March 1876 in Mount Prospect-Wheeling township.

After her marriage in 1894, she and her husband, Paul, moved to the homestead, Rand Road Farm, where they lived for 48 years. After the death of her husband 17 years ago, Mrs. Hildebrandt moved to Palatine where she had been residing with her son, Lawrence, at 29 S. Kerwood.

Besides Lawrence, she is also survived by two other sons, Ralph and Paul, both of Palatine, three daughters, Mrs. Marie Beth, Mrs. Josephine Nagel and Mrs. Helen Conte, all of Chicago, 16 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. A son, Walter, died five years ago.

Interment, Rand Hill park.

Our Election Officials Are Honest But Fraud Is Expected In Chicago

There will be at least 150,000 fraudulent ballots cast Nov. 4 in Cook county.

That's the estimate released this week by the Honest Ballot committee, 53 W. Jackson blvd., which investigates election fraud.

Among the frauds will be paid votes, fraudulent registrations, assisted voting without affidavits, forged applications, and stuffed ballot boxes.

Most of these votes will be cast in Chicago.

Mrs. Harriet M. Robertson president of the committee, told Paddock Publications that Palatine, Arlington Heights, and Mt. Prospect have clean elections because their election officials are honest.

County Clerk Richard J. Daly supervises elections in the country towns.

Mrs. Robertson also issued an appeal to northwest residents to serve as volunteer watchers on election day. They would receive official credentials.

Instances of fraudulent registration, incorrectly printed precinct registers of voters, and fraud on elections should be reported to the committee and to the County court.

"It is important," explained Mrs. Robertson, "for reports to be made as soon as possible, because all election records are destroyed three months after balloting. Identities of informers will be kept secret if requested."

Persons interested in serving as poll watchers in this area may contact the Honest Ballot committee at WE 9-4314.

Open house was held Sunday at the new Antioch Youth Center—the Wigwam — situated above the Reeves Drug Store.

Students of the Antioch township high school and their parents were invited by the officials of the teen-age organization to inspect the place and receive refreshments.

Rooms for photography, crafts and other hobbies have been constructed and the place is expected to be a busy one when the young people are not in school or at their studies. Participation in the Wigwam activities will depend on grades at school.

New Rules Of Social Security For 'Over 72'

According to Ellen McGuire, district manager of the social security administration, 5306 W. Lawrence Avenue, there have been many inquiries regarding the new retirement test included in the 1954 amendments to the social security act.

For the remaining months in 1954, any person under 75 years of age who is receiving social security benefits must report his employment if he works in covered employment and earns over $75 for any month, or if he is self-employed and expects his net income for his taxable year to exceed $900.

BEGINNING January 1955, persons age 72 or over may continue to receive their social security benefits regardless of the amount of their earnings. Those who are already 72 years of age and are working, or reach age 72 at any time after 1954 should report this to their social security office so their benefits can be started.

The only exception to this will be in the case of a self-employed person who operates on a fiscal year basis, and his taxable year starts after January 1955. The age 72 provision will apply to him when his new taxable year begins in 1955.

THOSE PERSONS under age 72, who are receiving benefits, must report to their social security office beginning January 1955 if they expect their total annual earnings to exceed $1200. In arriving at expected earnings for the year all earnings must be combined, including wages and self-employment income, whether or not such earnings are covered under the Social Security Act.

Although earnings in covered and non-covered employment or self-employment must be counted, the amounts received must be for services. Therefore, income in the nature of pensions, or returns on investments not in connection with the operation of a business will not cause benefits to be withheld. When total earnings exceed $1200, payment of benefits must be withheld for one or more months depending on the amount of the excess.

Libertyville National Tea To Retail Beer

Q. When a young man accompanies two girls to the theatre, is it all right for him to sit between them?

. Yes, unless there is an aisle seat. Then he should, of course, sit next to the aisle.

Q. Is it absolutely necessary for a hostess to provide new cards for her guests at a bridge party?

A. This is usually advisable. She may use old cards only if they are spotless and shiny.

Modern Etiquette

Q. How does one select the correct implement to use at a formal dinner?

A. Usually you need merely remember to take the outside — that is, the farthest from the plate —spoon or fork first. If the pieces have not been laid in this order, the fault is that of the person who set the table, not yours. If you are in doubt, wait until your host or hostess picks up his implement, then you follow suit.

Q. What is the best possible acknowledgement to an introduction?

A. Under all possible circumstances, the reply to an introduction may be "How do you do?" And, of course, this should be accompanied by a smile.

Q. Is ice cream always eaten with the spoon?

A. Ordinarily yes. However, if it is served with pie alamode, then a fork is used.

Q. Is it proper for one to excuse oneself when necessary to blow the nose at the dinner table?

A. No; this merely calls everyone's attention to an unpleasant ritual. The only thing to do is to end it as inconspicuously and as quickly as possible.

Q. Is it obligatory for the bride to buy a gift of some kind for her bridegroom on their wedding day?

A. Although not exactly obligatory, it is the customary thing for a bride to give her bridegroom some kind of gift for his personal use.

Q. May men's formal evening trousers be cuffed?

A. No.

Q. When someone telephones a member of the family who is absent, should one ask who is calling?

A. If the caller has not identified himself, rather than ask, "Who is this?" it is much better to ask, "May I tell him who called," or, "Would you care to leave your number?"

Q. What is the proper type of place cards to use on the dinner table?

A. Plain, white cards, about an inch and a half wide by two inches long, sometimes larger.

Q. When one has illness in the family and a friend says, "I am sorry, etc.," what should be one's response be?

A. "Thank you" is sufficient.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Louise Hildebrandt

Funeral services will be held today, Thursday, at 1:30 p.m. at Tharp funeral home for Mrs. Louise Hildebrandt, nee Tegtmeier, who died October 18. Mrs. Hildebrandt was born in March 1876 in Mount Prospect-Wheeling township.

After her marriage in 1894, she and her husband, Paul, moved to the homestead, Rand Road Farm, where they lived for 48 years. After the death of her husband 17 years ago, Mrs. Hildebrandt moved to Palatine where she had been residing with her son, Lawrence, at 29 S. Kerwood.

Besides Lawrence, she is also survived by two other sons, Ralph and Paul, both of Palatine, three daughters, Mrs. Marie Beth, Mrs. Josephine Nagel and Mrs. Helen Conte, all of Chicago, 16 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. A son, Walter, died five years ago.

Interment, Rand Hill park.

Our Election Officials Are Honest But Fraud Is Expected In Chicago

There will be at least 150,000 fraudulent ballots cast Nov. 4 in Cook county.

That's the estimate released this week by the Honest Ballot committee, 53 W. Jackson blvd., which investigates election fraud.

Among the frauds will be paid votes, fraudulent registrations, assisted voting without affidavits, forged applications, and stuffed ballot boxes.

Most of these votes will be cast in Chicago.

Mrs. Harriet M. Robertson president of the committee, told Paddock Publications that Palatine, Arlington Heights, and Mt. Prospect have clean elections because their election officials are honest.

County Clerk Richard J. Daly supervises elections in the country towns.

Mrs. Robertson also issued an appeal to northwest residents to serve as volunteer watchers on election day. They would receive official credentials.

Instances of fraudulent registration, incorrectly printed precinct registers of voters, and fraud on elections should be reported to the committee and to the County court.

"It is important," explained Mrs. Robertson, "for reports to be made as soon as possible, because all election records are destroyed three months after balloting. Identities of informers will be kept secret if requested."

Persons interested in serving as poll watchers in this area may contact the Honest Ballot committee at WE 9-4314.

New Rules Of Social Security For 'Over 72'

According to Ellen McGuire, district manager of the social security administration, 5306 W. Lawrence Avenue, there have been many inquiries regarding the new retirement test included in the 1954 amendments to the social security act.

For the remaining months in 1954, any person under 75 years of age who is receiving social security benefits must report his employment if he works in covered employment and earns over $75 for any month, or if he is self-employed and expects his net income for his taxable year to exceed $900.

BEGINNING January 1955, persons age 72 or over may continue to receive their social security benefits regardless of the amount of their earnings. Those who are already 72 years of age and are working, or reach age 72 at any time after 1954 should report this to their social security office so their benefits can be started.

The only exception to this will be in the case of a self-employed person who operates on a fiscal year basis, and his taxable year starts after January 1955. The age 72 provision will apply to him when his new taxable year begins in 1955.

THOSE PERSONS under age 72, who are receiving benefits, must report to their social security office beginning January 1955 if they expect their total annual earnings to exceed $1200. In arriving at expected earnings for the year all earnings must be combined, including wages and self-employment income, whether or not such earnings are covered under the Social Security Act.

Although earnings in covered and non-covered employment or self-employment must be counted, the amounts received must be for services. Therefore, income in the nature of pensions, or returns on investments not in connection with the operation of a business will not cause benefits to be withheld. When total earnings exceed $1200, payment of benefits must be withheld for one or more months depending on the amount of the excess.

Libertyville National Tea To Retail Beer

A request from the National Tea Co. for a class C liquor license to sell beer at their supermarket in the Libertyville shopping center, has been approved by Libertyville village trustees.

Q. When a young man accompanies two girls to the theatre, is it all right for him to sit between them?

. Yes, unless there is an aisle seat. Then he should, of course, sit next to the aisle.

Q. Is it absolutely necessary for a hostess to provide new cards for her guests at a bridge party?

A. This is usually advisable. She may use old cards only if they are spotless and shiny.

"There's nothing like umpiring to teach you the importance of making the right decisions—in and out of the ball park," says Bill Grieve. "And one of the best decisions I ever made was the time I started buying Savings Bonds. It's the easiest, surest way in the world to save for your future—and your country's future, too. And nobody's going to throw pop bottles at you for doing that."

Decide now to make your dreams come true —through the Payroll Savings Plan

Today, with the Payroll Savings Plan, it's as easy to save as it is to wish. And your saving really gets you what you want—whether it's a home of your own, a vacation cottage, college for your children, or financial independence for yourself.

To join the Payroll Savings Plan, just ask your pay office to save out a part of your check before you get it, each payday—a few dollars or as much as you want. After that, your money's saved for you—automatically—and invested in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds that are turned over to you.

Which means your money really goes to work for you! Because each Savings Bond earns 3% per year, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity. If you sign up to save only $3.75 a week, in 5 years you'll have $1,025.95 cash. In 9 years, 8 months, you'll have $2,137.30!

Easy to see why 8 million Americans are using the Payroll Savings Plan to help them get what they want out of life! Why not join them—today?

If you're self-employed, start the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Like Payroll Savings, it's simple, systematic and sure. Pick your plan—and start now!

If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds which pay interest semiannually by Treasury check.

One of the guests of honor at the sixtieth anniversary celebration of the Arlington Heights fire department Saturday night was Mrs. Augusta Peter, wife of the department's first fire chief, the late George H. Peter. Fire chiefs present for the occasion were, left to right, Richard Jahn, who served the department from 1939 to 1947; Elroy Winkelmann, present fire chief, who took over the office in 1949; and George K. Volz, who was chief from 1905 to 1939. —Staff Photo.

Firemen Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Arlington Heights fire department is sixty years old this month. The anniversary was observed with a banquet at the Lutheran Activity building attended by its members and officials of the village. A public get-together with dance followed at the fire station. Music was furnished by Mel Landmeier's orchestra.

Especially honored that evening were the four charter members of the company residing in Arlington Heights, Mrs. George H. Petter, wife of the first fire chief and his three successors.

There are seven living charter members. The present home of three of them, William C. Muller, Arizona, Rudolph Weinrich, Michigan and R. F. Schweitzer, New York, was at too great a distance for them to attend.

Charter members present were Frank Bauer, Michael Oefelein, Wm. Guenther, and Albert F. Volz, all of whom are over 80 years old.

There have been only four fire chiefs during the entire 90 years. George H. Peter served ten years; George H. Volz, 34 years; Richard H. Jahn, eight years. Elroy J. Winkleman, present chief, was appointed in 1947.

THE DINNER, served by the Lutheran ladies, was as festive as a Thanksgiving repast, from turkey to pumpkin pie.

Alex Lips acted as toastmaster, introducing the special guests which included Mayor Goedke, James Wasson, assistant state fire marshal; Dr. Bruce T. Best, first aid instructor; members of the village board; four charter members, Mrs. Geo. H. Peters, and three living past fire chiefs, Elroy Winkelman, present chief, and Orville Helms, chief of Palatine fire department. Frank Biermann, Mount Prospect chief, was unable to attend.

George Volz told about the early days of the department when he was too young to be a fire fighter, but he was always the No. 1 spectator.

Prior to the organization of the department, Mr. Volz said that the fire alarm was given by the ringing of any church bell and the whistle at the sewing machine foundry. There were no telephones to spread the alarm, which had to wait until the bearer of the news could reach the nearest church bell or the factory.

With the sound of the alarm, various businessmen ran from their places of business or home, bringing with them pails, axes or ladders.

WATER WAS OBTAINED from the nearest pump or cistern and the fire bucket brigade went into action. Time was precious and as the man at the top of the ladder threw a bucket of water upon the fire, he hurled the pail to the ground.

The crashing pails took a heavy toll on the tin buckets and later wooden pails were used, which were later followed by rubber buckets. As late as 35 years ago a few of those rubber buckets were hung from the hook and ladder truck.

The hook and ladder was owned by the village. Their first purchase was "Old Faithful" a wooden tank thereon. The minutes of March 18, 1895, read, "New hose cart purchased with a reel of thirty feet of rope to be used by men when pulling it to fires."

A small hose cart followed and the young fire department of 39 members was in business. The following month caps and red belts and blue shirts with white insignia were purchased which, of course, led to the first photograph of the department which took place in front of the wooden fire station on Davis st. Village water works arrived in 1905.

Volz told of the rivalry between two expressmen, Louis Clark and Fred Bender. Upon the sound of the fire alarm, each would start towards the village fire station with his team of horses. The first to get there had the job of pulling the fire fighting equipment at a price of $2.00 a call. Later the rivalry ended and Clark took over the responsibility of providing the motor power for the equipment. George said the horses were so well trained that when the alarm was sounded, they would start to run to the fire station, with or without driver.

Mike Oefelein added a few details of the early days. The story of the introduction of automotive equipment was told that evening in souvenir booklets distributed.

With the aid of $900 in public subscriptions the first automotive fire truck was purchased in 1917. Ten years later the Seagraves truck was purchased.

The third fire truck was purchased in 1937. The following year an inhalator was purchased and Dr. B. T. Best started the first aid course.

Richard Jahn told of the organization of the auxiliary fire department at the breakout of World War II, and later the Woman's Auxiliary who man the kitchen in the village hall and have coffee ready when the boys returned from a hard fought fire.

True to its custom of purchasing a new truck every ten years, the village purchased its fourth truck, an American LaFrance 750 gallon pumper in 1948. Other auxiliary equipment was followed.

ELROY WINKELMAN told of the operation of the department today. He said in part:

"The fire department of today is investing its funds in the finest accessories to its major equipment.

"We take great pride in our emergency mobile unit with its trained personnel, the inhalator, smoke ejector, two way radio, flood lights, saturation and fogging nozzles and minor pieces of equipment designed to cope with possible emergencies which could arise. These improvements were made with organization funds.

"Several years ago, we established night time service, seven days a week by two experienced firemen who are ready to respond to calls at once upon receipt of an alarm and in case of a minor emergency. It is not necessary to call out the entire fire department.

"It is the aim of the fire department to keep the department abreast with the rapid growth of the village and we have found the village president and village board of trustees co-operative and receptive to our plans for expansion. There are no bargains in emergency equipment. We have asked for and received the best equipment available.

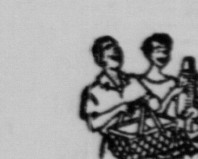
"Looking ahead, we see the need for another pumper of modern design and efficiency. We see the need for a modern fire station centrally located north of the C. & N. W. railroad tracs.

"We have communicated our recommendations to the village president and board and we have their assurance that everything that can be done will be done within legal prescribed limits.

"We realize that in our zeal for improvement we may be sounding the death knell of the volunteer feature of our department. Arlington Heights is on the march and with the rapid growth of the past five years in mind, we can easily be a community of 20,000 people by 1960.

"We are proud of our department born 60 years ago tonight and of whatever those present here tonight have contributed to its history."

JUST AROUND THE CORNER



FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

The girls were eating their breakfasts and watching the antics of the Baird marionettes on the Morning Show, while I was scrambling among the clothes in our storage closet trying frantically to catch a glimpse of the gaudy, old, flowered kimona, that I'd seen so many times while looking for something else in there. It was not the kimona itself I was interested in, but rather what was hanging under it.

For the past few weeks I had been anxiously waiting for the exciting date, circled months ago on our calendar. Now, under that kimono I was wildly searching for, hung the one thing that could make the following evening either sparkling and gay or dull and drab, so I simply had to find it. Finally, way at the back of the closet, wedged between a storm coat and an old uniform of Bob's, I saw a cerise rose peeking out that could only belong to that dreadful kimono.

GENTLY, I LAID the hanger and its contents across the bed, removed the straight pins holding the kimono shut, then the kimono, and there lay the lovely, champagne-colored, net formal. Delightedly, I saw in a moment that my favorite dress had neither faded nor become a delicacy for the moths, although it had hung in the closet for a year. Quickly, I stepped out of my bathrobe and slipped into the dress.

Megan and Bridget, still engrossed in television, were unaware of my formal-dress-fitting, so to surprise them I waltzed into the living room, to the accompaniment of some lovely tune, and twirled and curtsied in front of them. They were dumbfounded! Only a few minutes ago they had seen their Mama in her familiar, old bathrobe and here she was dancing around in a beautiful, ballerina dress that they had never seen before.

Mama, quite carried away by now with her dress and her dance, was brought back suddenly by the sound of loud knocking at the back door and the call, "Milkman!" Without thinking, I flew to the door, as I must frequently do since I habitually forget to mark the milk card, and flung it open. My poor milkman almost dropped his bottles at this vision standing before him in the doorway—pin curls, bare feet and formal.

ALTHOUGH I'VE ANSWERED the door in so many different early morning get-ups that he doesn't know what to expect next, it was obvious from his look of utter bewilderment that this was the most unusual yet! However, he quickly composed himself and with his usual dry humor quipped, "My, my, aren't we dressed up this morning!" I giggled and tried to explain I was just trying a dress on to wear to a formal dinner-dance the following night. Paying no attention to my explanation, he went on, while he handed me the milk, "I'm so sorry I didn't wear my tux—please let me know after this—it's downright embarrassing to be caught dressed like a milkman at this hour of the morning!" With that, he picked up his wire basket and walked down the steps.

Since I was entertaining four other couples at 4:30 the next afternoon, before the dinner-dance (I sold them tickets to our group's annual affair, so I felt Bob and I should have refreshments for them before going to the party), I had every hour of the day planned. Of course, there was Megan to take back and forth to kindergarten, grocerying to do, house to clean, hair to wash, flowers to arrange.

SATURDAY MORNING I had nothing to do but press my dress, make the cream cheese-minced clam dip for later in the afternoon and bathe and do my nails. Gosh! I sound like a teenager getting ready for her first formal dance. But really, Peg, we only dress formally about once a year, besides, ever since I was just a little girl I've loved dressing up, so when the opportunity comes along I make the very most of it. Anticipating the affair for a couple of days is half the fun.

I think it's wonderfully feminine, the way in which women react to their clothing. You know what a marvelous feeling it is to put on any outfit you know looks attractive on you. You feel attractive and you act attractively. And when the outfit is a lovely party dress, made of yards of misty, champagne-colored net, believe me there's no doubt in your mind but that you are the pretiest girl in the room. The nice part about it is that all the other girls in the room are thinking just the same thing about themselves. It was a perfect afternoon and evening—everyone enjoyed the refreshments and raved about the minced clam dip, the turkey dinner was delicious and the orchestra divine. And throughout it all, who do you suppose was the most glamorous, irresistable creature alive?

At 7:00 a. m. sharp the next morning, the "irresistable creature" slid out of bed and into her funny, old bathrobe. With her two little girls prancing at her side, she plodded slowly into the kitchen to cook oatmeal—leaving the enchantment of the past evening lying carelessly in a frothy heap across the bedroom chair.

My love,

Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Coffee is one of the great controversies of the nation. Every housewife thinks that she makes good coffee. And, probably, so she does, if you happen to like her coffee. There are those who undoubtedly think that our particular method of brewing the stuff is almost lethal.

We have been told that we make the strongest brew in the world. This set us up no end and we viewed our guests slyly to see if thev could stand up to our brewing of the bean. We felt that we had arrived in the world of coffee makers and a person had to be strong to take what we dished out after the evening of bridge.

Then a relative came to visit and informed us that we certainly did make some weak stuff to go with the cereal and eggs. He insisted that if the percolator were not allowed to operate at top speed for at least ten minutes, what came out of the pot could be fed to the tiniest babe with no ill effects. What he really liked was something that dripped from the spout slowly like syrup and caused one's teeth to wish they had never been born. We have retired from the fray and are drinking our weak stuff silently.

Homecoming appeared to be a great success with the team winning its first game and all the floats just as cute as buttons. Great credit must go to the young who worked long hours in cold barns and even out in the cepn on the hay racks using yards and yards of crepe paper and boxes and boxes of paper napkins.

However, and here we pause for a glance fraught with meaning, great credit must go to those unsung heroes and heroines called parents. Many is the father who spent many an evening showing budding construction engineers how to pound a nail in a board. Many is the mother who served in a sort of carry that message from Ghent to Aix capacity by rushing to the store at all hours to buy a dozen more boxes of napkins and taking various and sundry gay workers to and from work.

The children should take the credit but behind every teen age genius stand stalwart mother and father complete with family car and time unlimited. Our hats are off to these willing helpers and move over so that we will have plenty of room to bow deeply from the waist. We are tired.

We Like The Chorus

Enclosed is an article about Town & Country Chorus that we would like to have appear in all the Paddock Publications this week.

Our first article, back in September, brought such a response from the ladies that now we need more men to balance the chorus. The "power of the press" was certainly evident at our first rehearsal.

We rely on your papers for both publicity for our concerts and appeals for new members. Your publications have been a tremendous help in making Town & Country Chorus what it is today — a capable and versatile singing group with considerable prestige.

We are grateful to your papers for turning the light of publicity on this worthwhile inter-community project.

Good Publicity

The Arlington Heights' Little League and Pony League would, at this time, like to extend our thanks and appreciation to Paddock Publications for the fine publicity and cooperation extended to our organization during the past season.

Through the efforts of Paddock Publications, the turnout of boys for Little League exceeded the most optimistic forecasts. The fine publicity given the games during the season kept interest at a high pitch for both player and spectator.

Most sincerely,

We Failed

Those of us who looked to the Herald for adequate coverage and a constructive point of view regarding the recent flood certainly failed to find either in last week's paper, especially in the callous and unconcerned attitude evidenced by the mayor's statement on your front page.

If Mayor Goedke is so strongly convinced that sump pumps and overhead sewers will eliminate this disheartening situation, it is his responsibility to see that such a requirement is made a part of our building code. For the sake of the mayor's conscience we hope this is already on his agenda.

With such a requirement, at least future home owners coming to Arlington Heights will be spared the filthy, back-breaking job of "cleaning up," to say nothing of the tremendous loss of property.

To those who were still trying to get laundry and other equipment and basements back in usable shape on Thursday the flood had far more importance than the casual second-guessing it received in the Herald.

Dormant Areas

We have come a long way from the slogan "Where town and country meet," in Mount Prospect.

The Airport

After reading the article in the Herald concerning the Arlington Airport, I am prompted to call attention to a few facts which I think you should have considered before making the statement which you made in your Editorial column in the October 14, 1954 issue. To quote: It is Uncle Sam, not water that is making homeless nearly 650 residents of Arlington Airport. We suggest that Arlington Heights people make an appeal to the army for a delay in the eviction order. Here is an opportunity for Uncle Sam to dispense some relief to his own family."

To the citizens of this community, mainly Forest View, it makes us wonder whether you are interested in the community as a whole or in just a small part of it. As the Editor of this local paper, and as a resident of this area, you must be aware of conditions which have existed over the past seven years at that locality.

Your article made no mention of sanitary conditions, or of the profits made there but only of the so-called investment and it made no mention of the cost of the children to the school systems of Arlington Heights, or to Forest View.

During the seven years that the Airport has been privately leased from the Navy the education of the children at the Airport has cost the taxpayers of Arlington Heights up to $10,000.00 a year and the taxpayers of Illinois between $10,000. and $16,000 a year. During the last two years it has put the Forest View school district in debt more than $10,000 (a debt which will take over 15 years to pay), plus costing the State between $6,000.00 and $8,000.00 and the Federal Government over $3,400.00 a year.

As a taxpayer of this community I object to supporting a situation such as this any longer than is necessary. I object to paying taxes to support a defense installation, which it was originally intended to be and then paying taxes to provide for the children who reside there while the company which is responsible for this cost to the taxpaers is realizing its profits at our expense. It doesn't seem quite fair, does it?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Robert Hutchings

Good Service

After waiting 2 or 3 weeks for a retraction in your paper about the lack of good building inspection in Roselle, Illinois, I am taking it upon myself to correct the misunderstanding which your Editorial may have caused in our town.

Not only do we have a building inspector—but one who is interested in the welfare of the home owner. If there is any fault to find with Mr. LaMar, it is on the credit side. He insists on a strong structure—one that will stand sturdy and be a credit to our town.

The lack of inspection of the homes referred to in your editorial was due to neglect of the men to whom such inspection was turned over—when Mr. LaMar was on his vacation.

I know for a fact that upon his return he immediately inspected these homes and stopped further construction until the contractors were instructed to rebuild weak spots and make the necessary corrections.

Because construction was delayed by this "stop order," the men responsible were irritated and more so when further permits were denied them until they could prove their work would be up to the building standards of Roselle.

I hope you will print this even though it may go against the grain as I feel very strongly the slur cast on my town and Mr. LaMar, our police chief and building inspector—and a good one in both offices. Thank you.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

The girls were eating their breakfasts and watching the antics of the Baird marionettes on the Morning Show, while I was scrambling among the clothes in our storage closet trying frantically to catch a glimpse of the gaudy, old, flowered kimona, that I'd seen so many times while looking for something else in there. It was not the kimona itself I was interested in, but rather what was hanging under it.

For the past few weeks I had been anxiously waiting for the exciting date, circled months ago on our calendar. Now, under that kimono I was wildly searching for, hung the one thing that could make the following evening either sparkling and gay or dull and drab, so I simply had to find it. Finally, way at the back of the closet, wedged between a storm coat and an old uniform of Bob's, I saw a cerise rose peeking out that could only belong to that dreadful kimono.

GENTLY, I LAID the hanger and its contents across the bed, removed the straight pins holding the kimono shut, then the kimono, and there lay the lovely, champagne-colored, net formal. Delightedly, I saw in a moment that my favorite dress had neither faded nor become a delicacy for the moths, although it had hung in the closet for a year. Quickly, I stepped out of my bathrobe and slipped into the dress.

Megan and Bridget, still engrossed in television, were unaware of my formal-dress-fitting, so to surprise them I waltzed into the living room, to the accompaniment of some lovely tune, and twirled and curtsied in front of them. They were dumbfounded! Only a few minutes ago they had seen their Mama in her familiar, old bathrobe and here she was dancing around in a beautiful, ballerina dress that they had never seen before.

Mama, quite carried away by now with her dress and her dance, was brought back suddenly by the sound of loud knocking at the back door and the call, "Milkman!" Without thinking, I flew to the door, as I must frequently do since I habitually forget to mark the milk card, and flung it open. My poor milkman almost dropped his bottles at this vision standing before him in the doorway—pin curls, bare feet and formal.

ALTHOUGH I'VE ANSWERED the door in so many different early morning get-ups that he doesn't know what to expect next, it was obvious from his look of utter bewilderment that this was the most unusual yet! However, he quickly composed himself and with his usual dry humor quipped, "My, my, aren't we dressed up this morning!" I giggled and tried to explain I was just trying a dress on to wear to a formal dinner-dance the following night. Paying no attention to my explanation, he went on, while he handed me the milk, "I'm so sorry I didn't wear my tux—please let me know after this—it's downright embarrassing to be caught dressed like a milkman at this hour of the morning!" With that, he picked up his wire basket and walked down the steps.

Since I was entertaining four other couples at 4:30 the next afternoon, before the dinner-dance (I sold them tickets to our group's annual affair, so I felt Bob and I should have refreshments for them before going to the party), I had every hour of the day planned. Of course, there was Megan to take back and forth to kindergarten, grocerying to do, house to clean, hair to wash, flowers to arrange.

SATURDAY MORNING I had nothing to do but press my dress, make the cream cheese-minced clam dip for later in the afternoon and bathe and do my nails. Gosh! I sound like a teenager getting ready for her first formal dance. But really, Peg, we only dress formally about once a year, besides, ever since I was just a little girl I've loved dressing up, so when the opportunity comes along I make the very most of it. Anticipating the affair for a couple of days is half the fun.

I think it's wonderfully feminine, the way in which women react to their clothing. You know what a marvelous feeling it is to put on any outfit you know looks attractive on you. You feel attractive and you act attractively. And when the outfit is a lovely party dress, made of yards of misty, champagne-colored net, believe me there's no doubt in your mind but that you are the pretiest girl in the room. The nice part about it is that all the other girls in the room are thinking just the same thing about themselves. It was a perfect afternoon and evening—everyone enjoyed the refreshments and raved about the minced clam dip, the turkey dinner was delicious and the orchestra divine. And throughout it all, who do you suppose was the most glamorous, irresistable creature alive?

At 7:00 a. m. sharp the next morning, the "irresistable creature" slid out of bed and into her funny, old bathrobe. With her two little girls prancing at her side, she plodded slowly into the kitchen to cook oatmeal—leaving the enchantment of the past evening lying carelessly in a frothy heap across the bedroom chair.

My love,

Patty.

One of the guests of honor at the sixtieth anniversary celebration of the Arlington Heights fire department Saturday night was Mrs. Augusta Peter, wife of the department's first fire chief, the late George H. Peter. Fire chiefs present for the occasion were, left to right, Richard Jahn, who served the department from 1939 to 1947; Elroy Winkelmann, present fire chief, who took over the office in 1949; and George K. Volz, who was chief from 1905 to 1939. —Staff Photo.

Firemen Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Arlington Heights fire department is sixty years old this month. The anniversary was observed with a banquet at the Lutheran Activity building attended by its members and officials of the village. A public get-together with dance followed at the fire station. Music was furnished by Mel Landmeier's orchestra.

Especially honored that evening were the four charter members of the company residing in Arlington Heights, Mrs. George H. Peter, wife of the first fire chief and his three successors.

There are seven living charter members. The present home of three of them, William C. Muller, Arizona, Rudolph Weinrich, Michigan and R. F. Schweitzer, New York, was at too great a distance for them to attend.

Charter members present were Frank Bauer, Michael Oefelein, Wm. Guenther, and Albert F. Volz, all of whom are over 80 years old.

There have been only four fire chiefs during the entire 90 years. George H. Peter served ten years; George H. Volz, 34 years; Richard H. Jahn, eight years. Elroy J. Winkleman, present chief, was appointed in 1947.

THE DINNER, served by the Lutheran ladies, was as festive as a Thanksgiving repast, from turkey to pumpkin pie.

Alex Lips acted as toastmaster, introducing the special guests which included Mayor Goedke, James Wasson, assistant state fire marshal; Dr. Bruce T. Best, first aid instructor; members of the village board; four charter members, Mrs. Geo. H. Peters, and three living past fire chiefs, Elroy Winkelman, present chief, and Orville Helms, chief of Palatine fire department. Frank Biermann, Mount Prospect chief, was unable to attend.

George Volz told about the early days of the department when he was too young to be a fire fighter, but he was always the No. 1 spectator.

Prior to the organization of the department, Mr. Volz said that the fire alarm was given by the ringing of any church bell and the whistle at the sewing machine foundry. There were no telephones to spread the alarm, which had to wait until the bearer of the news could reach the nearest church bell or the factory.

With the sound of the alarm, various businessmen ran from their places of business or home, bringing with them pails, axes or ladders.

WATER WAS OBTAINED from the nearest pump or cistern and the fire bucket brigade went into action. Time was precious and as the man at the top of the ladder threw a bucket of water upon the fire, he hurled the pail to the ground.

The crashing pails took a heavy toll on the tin buckets and later wooden pails were used, which were later followed by rubber buckets. As late as 35 years ago a few of those rubber buckets were hung from the hook and ladder truck.

The hook and ladder was owned by the village. Their first purchase was "Old Faithful" a wooden tank thereon. The minutes of March 18, 1895, read, "New hose cart purchased with a reel of thirty feet of rope to be used by men when pulling it to fires."

A small hose cart followed and the young fire department of 39 members was in business. The following month caps and red belts and blue shirts with white insignia were purchased which, of course, led to the first photograph of the department which took place in front of the wooden fire station on Davis st. Village water works arrived in 1905.

Volz told of the rivalry between two expressmen, Louis Clark and Fred Bender. Upon the sound of the fire alarm, each would start towards the village fire station with his team of horses. The first to get there had the job of pulling the fire fighting equipment at a price of $2.00 a call. Later the rivalry ended and Clark took over the responsibility of providing the motor power for the equipment. George said the horses were so well trained that when the alarm was sounded, they would start to run to the fire station, with or without driver.

Mike Oefelein added a few details of the early days. The story of the introduction of automotive equipment was told that evening in souvenir booklets distributed.

With the aid of $900 in public subscriptions the first automotive fire truck was purchased in 1917. Ten years later the Seagraves truck was purchased.

The third fire truck was purchased in 1937. The following year an inhalator was purchased and Dr. B. T. Best started the first aid course.

Richard Jahn told of the organization of the auxiliary fire department at the breakout of World War II, and later the Woman's Auxiliary who man the kitchen in the village hall and have coffee ready when the boys returned from a hard fought fire.

True to its custom of purchasing a new truck every ten years, the village purchased its fourth truck, an American LaFrance 750 gallon pumper in 1948. Other auxiliary equipment was followed.

ELROY WINKELMAN told of the operation of the department today. He said in part:

"The fire department of today is investing its funds in the finest accessories to its major equipment.

"We take great pride in our emergency mobile unit with its trained personnel, the inhalator, smoke ejector, two way radio, flood lights, saturation and fogging nozzles and minor pieces of equipment designed to cope with possible emergencies which could arise. These improvements were made with organization funds.

"Several years ago, we established night time service, seven days a week by two experienced firemen who are ready to respond to calls at once upon receipt of an alarm and in case of a minor emergency. It is not necessary to call out the entire fire department.

"It is the aim of the fire department to keep the department abreast with the rapid growth of the village and we have found the village president and village board of trustees co-operative and receptive to our plans for expansion. There are no bargains in emergency equipment. We have asked for and received the best equipment available.

"Looking ahead, we see the need for another pumper of modern design and efficiency. We see the need for a modern fire station centrally located north of the C. & N. W. railroad tracs.

"We have communicated our recommendations to the village president and board and we have their assurance that everything that can be done will be done within legal prescribed limits.

"We realize that in our zeal for improvement we may be sounding the death knell of the volunteer feature of our department. Arlington Heights is on the march and with the rapid growth of the past five years in mind, we can easily be a community of 20,000 people by 1960.

"We are proud of our department born 60 years ago tonight and of whatever those present here tonight have contributed to its history."

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Coffee is one of the great controversies of the nation. Every housewife thinks that she makes good coffee. And, probably, so she does, if you happen to like her coffee. There are those who undoubtedly think that our particular method of brewing the stuff is almost lethal.

We have been told that we make the strongest brew in the world. This set us up no end and we viewed our guests slyly to see if thev could stand up to our brewing of the bean. We felt that we had arrived in the world of coffee makers and a person had to be strong to take what we dished out after the evening of bridge.

Then a relative came to visit and informed us that we certainly did make some weak stuff to go with the cereal and eggs. He insisted that if the percolator were not allowed to operate at top speed for at least ten minutes, what came out of the pot could be fed to the tiniest babe with no ill effects. What he really liked was something that dripped from the spout slowly like syrup and caused one's teeth to wish they had never been born. We have retired from the fray and are drinking our weak stuff silently.

Homecoming appeared to be a great success with the team winning its first game and all the floats just as cute as buttons. Great credit must go to the young who worked long hours in cold barns and even out in the cepn on the hay racks using yards and yards of crepe paper and boxes and boxes of paper napkins.

However, and here we pause for a glance fraught with meaning, great credit must go to those unsung heroes and heroines called parents. Many is the father who spent many an evening showing budding construction engineers how to pound a nail in a board. Many is the mother who served in a sort of carry that message from Ghent to Aix capacity by rushing to the store at all hours to buy a dozen more boxes of napkins and taking various and sundry gay workers to and from work.

The children should take the credit but behind every teen age genius stand stalwart mother and father complete with family car and time unlimited. Our hats are off to these willing helpers and move over so that we will have plenty of room to bow deeply from the waist. We are tired.

We Like The Chorus

Enclosed is an article about Town & Country Chorus that we would like to have appear in all the Paddock Publications this week.

Our first article, back in September, brought such a response from the ladies that now we need more men to balance the chorus. The "power of the press" was certainly evident at our first rehearsal.

We rely on your papers for both publicity for our concerts and appeals for new members. Your publications have been a tremendous help in making Town & Country Chorus what it is today — a capable and versatile singing group with considerable prestige.

We are grateful to your papers for turning the light of publicity on this worthwhile inter-community project.

Good Publicity

The Arlington Heights' Little League and Pony League would, at this time, like to extend our thanks and appreciation to Paddock Publications for the fine publicity and cooperation extended to our organization during the past season.

Through the efforts of Paddock Publications, the turnout of boys for Little League exceeded the most optimistic forecasts. The fine publicity given the games during the season kept interest at a high pitch for both player and spectator.

Most sincerely,

We Failed

Those of us who looked to the Herald for adequate coverage and a constructive point of view regarding the recent flood certainly failed to find either in last week's paper, especially in the callous and unconcerned attitude evidenced by the mayor's statement on your front page.

If Mayor Goedke is so strongly convinced that sump pumps and overhead sewers will eliminate this disheartening situation, it is his responsibility to see that such a requirement is made a part of our building code. For the sake of the mayor's conscience we hope this is already on his agenda.

With such a requirement, at least future home owners coming to Arlington Heights will be spared the filthy, back-breaking job of "cleaning up," to say nothing of the tremendous loss of property.

To those who were still trying to get laundry and other equipment and basements back in usable shape on Thursday the flood had far more importance than the casual second-guessing it received in the Herald.

The Airport

After reading the article in the Herald concerning the Arlington Airport, I am prompted to call attention to a few facts which I think you should have considered before making the statement which you made in your Editorial column in the October 14, 1954 issue. To quote: It is Uncle Sam, not water that is making homeless nearly 650 residents of Arlington Airport. We suggest that Arlington Heights people make an appeal to the army for a delay in the eviction order. Here is an opportunity for Uncle Sam to dispense some relief to his own family."

To the citizens of this community, mainly Forest View, it makes us wonder whether you are interested in the community as a whole or in just a small part of it. As the Editor of this local paper, and as a resident of this area, you must be aware of conditions which have existed over the past seven years at that locality.

Your article made no mention of sanitary conditions, or of the profits made there but only of the so-called investment and it made no mention of the cost of the children to the school systems of Arlington Heights, or to Forest View.

During the seven years that the Airport has been privately leased from the Navy the education of the children at the Airport has cost the taxpayers of Arlington Heights up to $10,000.00 a year and the taxpayers of Illinois between $10,000. and $16,000 a year. During the last two years it has put the Forest View school district in debt more than $10,000 (a debt which will take over 15 years to pay), plus costing the State between $6,000.00 and $8,000.00 and the Federal Government over $3,400.00 a year.

As a taxpayer of this community I object to supporting a situation such as this any longer than is necessary. I object to paying taxes to support a defense installation, which it was originally intended to be and then paying taxes to provide for the children who reside there while the company which is responsible for this cost to the taxpaers is realizing its profits at our expense. It doesn't seem quite fair, does it?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Robert Hutchings
1660 S. State Rd.
Arlington Hts.

Good Service

After waiting 2 or 3 weeks for a retraction in your paper about the lack of good building inspection in Roselle, Illinois, I am taking it upon myself to correct the misunderstanding which your Editorial may have caused in our town.

Not only do we have a building inspector—but one who is interested in the welfare of the home owner. If there is any fault to find with Mr. LaMar, it is on the credit side. He insists on a strong structure—one that will stand sturdy and be a credit to our town.

The lack of inspection of the homes referred to in your editorial was due to neglect of the men to whom such inspection was turned over—when Mr. LaMar was on his vacation.

I know for a fact that upon his return he immediately inspected these homes and stopped further construction until the contractors were instructed to rebuild weak spots and make the necessary corrections.

Because construction was delayed by this "stop order," the men responsible were irritated and more so when further permits were denied them until they could prove their work would be up to the building standards of Roselle.

I hope you will print this even though it may go against the grain as I feel very strongly the slur cast on my town and Mr. LaMar, our police chief and building inspector—and a good one in both offices. Thank you.

Good Samaritan

We want to take this opportunity to thank the good Samaritan on Evergreen street in Mt. Prospect who helped push our car to the filling station after it stalled in that flooded area Sunday night.

Dedicate Glenview Junior High School

Dedication of the new Glenview junior high school will be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 24, at the building, 2701 Central rd.

Special guests will include members of the village and park boards and of the board of education of Glenbrook high school, as well as former members of the Glenview school board.

Teen-Ager Speeds 105 M.P.H. Through Mundelein

A teen-ager who drove his car through a south section of Mundelein Saturday at speeds of more than 100 miles an hour was fined a total of $55 and costs for reckless driving and speeding when he appeared in police court.

Fined was John E. Smith, 19, of 618 Allanson rd., Mundelein. Police said they clocked the youth at 100 miles an hour as he drove south from Park ave., on Milwaukee ave. By the time Smith reached the southern village limits, he was doing 105, officers claimed.

Police finally curbed Smith at the railroad crossing two miles south of town. A boy riding with Smith told police the speedometer of the "souped up" sedan once reached 108 in their wild dash.

Vishinsky Won't Agree

The U. S. has almost 35% of the total of world reserves of coal, while the Soviet Union has the next highest figure with 23%.

Barrington Voters Approve H. S. Addition

Voters of Barrington community high school district who went to the polls in a special election last week favored building additions to the high school to care for anticipated growth by a majority of approximately five to one.

The total vote of 1,074 is estimated to be less than 20 per cent of the vote in the district but is regarded as an accurate gauge of public opinion. In February, 1947, when the decision was made to build the high school which the additions authorized Saturday will supplement, the vote was 1,207 to build to 89 against.

It is hoped that bids can be taken early in the coming year so that construction can start in time to get some classrooms ready for the opening of school next fall, when it is anticipated the enrollment will be mounting towards 600 students.

You Pay Old Clothes Or Junk To Enter This Theatre In Athens

by BILL DILLINGHAM

The most unusual movie house in the world exists in Athens. It is run on a profit-seeking basis, and yet, the customers need no money for entry. Furthermore, it acts as a social club for Athens' downcasts.

For admission, the customers must pay with an item of clothing or junk. A pair of shoes well worn out, an old pair of pants, or even a shovel or a book is enough to obtain one's ticket.

ONCE INSIDE the movie house, gangster and touching love films are not the only forms of entertainment the customer encounters. Members of the audience can step up and tap dance, sing, play a banjo, juggle apples, or perform in whatever way they are able.

If somebody is looking for a friend among the city's downcasts, he has only to jump up on the stage and ask the audience for information as to his whereabouts. Notices about the good fortune of any "members" are announced, and numerous kinds of advertisements are made. If an employer wants somebody to handle a rowboat in Piraeus, scrape barnacles, or to collect paper from the city's ash cans, this is the place in which he makes his announcement. Men who have been "away" for thirty or sixty days return here to meet their old friends.

THE OWNER of this unusual business has been engaged in the buying and selling of junk for over fifteen years. Since he got the idea of opening up a movie house and recruiting up a movie house and recruiting the city's economic downcasts as collectors, the junk business has been booming.

Unemployed men who might otherwise loiter around the streets in search of mischief have found a "club" in their novel theatre. "It keeps the men off the streets," explains the owner, "and stops them from falling in with bad company." When speaking about his customers "and the wonderful job I am doing," the owner refers to the men as "my boys."

TWICE EACH DAY there is a raffle. On entering, the men are given numbered tokens at no extra cost. The lucky winner receives a ticket to a better-class cinema which is just a few blocks away. This is referred to by the audience as a temporary visit with the "aristocrats:" The other theatre manager doesn't like this practice of course, but there is very little he can do about it. More than once, it seems, winners have been seen speaking to customers trying to re-sell their tickets.

Entry rules are few. Drunks are admitted providing that they cause no fights or other disturbances. Sleeping in the chairs is permitted, but only if there is no snoring. No collecting of cigarette butts during intermission. Finally, the manager reserves the right of admission.

Dr. Hall Gives Tips To Prevent Home Accidents

"More accidents occur in and around the home than any other place," Dr. John B. Hall, Cook county public health director, reported this week in focusing attention on the home accident problem.

The whole family, Dr. Hall said, is involved in home safety. "Figures show that home accidents kill twice as many persons as industrial accidents," he said.

"About half of the home accident fatalities occur among persons 65 years of age and over," Dr. Hall added, pointing out that old folks are the most frequent victim of falls, the leading cause of home injuries.

More children, age one to 14, Dr. Hall said, die from accidents than from any disease. He said that burns and scalds lead the list in home accident deaths among the younger group.

Many hazards in the home can be eliminated by correcting unsafe conditions. Dr. Hall suggested the following hints for safe living:

1. Electrical heating appliances should be disconnected immediately after use.
2. Make sure that electrical appliances in the bathroom cannot be reached from the basin or tub.
3. Never smoke in bed.
4. Dispose promptly of all rubbish.
5. Carry packages so that they do not block your view.
6. Firearms should be stored in a safe place out of reach of the children.

Corn Picker Is Quicker Than The Hand

According to legend, many a country boy lost his money in the "shell game" at the carnival. And when he failed to guess which shell hid the little dried pea, the carnival slicker always said, "It proves that the hand is quicker than the eye."

There's a similar rule for corn-picker operators that can save more than money, says Wendell Bowers, University of Illinois agricultural engineer. That "the picker is quicker than the hand" can be shown with a pencil and paper—and hundreds of picker accident victims can testify that it's true in the field, too.

TESTS PROVE that it takes you nearly half a second to let go of a stalk once you realize it's going through the rolls. The snapping rolls pull in seven feet of stalks per second. That means you're taking a big chance in trying to pull stalks from a picker that's running—even if you grab the end of the stalk.

The obvious answers are these: stay out of "shell games," and stop your corn picker before cleaning it. Following this advice can save you money—and maybe even your life.

Costs Of Importing Mexican Cattle To Rise

Costs of importing Mexican cattle into the United States after the border is reopened December 31, 1954 are expected to be higher than the presently published costs, reports the current issue of National Live Stock Producer.

Average costs based on present figures for a herd of 500 cattle weighing between 200 and 440 pounds are estimated at $5.85 per cwt. A herd of 500 head weighing between 440 and 700 pounds would cost an estimated $4.75 per cwt. for importing costs.

Excellent rains in the Chihuahua and Sonora range areas during the past two months would indicate that Mexican cattle will be in top condition in October. For this reason the cattlemen's union of both states are urging an earlier opening of the border rather than the December 31 date set by the U. S. department of agriculture.

Automatic Controls Take on Added Farm Chores; Here are Examples of New Uses

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Automatic controls are the heart of today's "push-button" farming operations. Without these sensitive and accurate electric guardians of factors to which Nature alone holds the key, farmers would be hard-pressed to keep up with the parade of agricultural progress.

Let's look at some of these "wonder workers" and see what they are doing to ease the farmer's burdens. There is a simple, dependable control system which operates barn ventilation fans according to interior temperatures. They help keep barns cool in summer by turning on fans when the indoor temperature gets too high. In cold weather, they automatically shut off ventilation systems when temperatures drop below the comfort point for cows.

Other controls are used in fruit and root storage houses to provide ventilation only when the outdoor air is cooler than that indoors. In doing this, they provide maximum cooling and eliminate the chance of drawing warm outside air into buildings. Also, there is a combination humidity controller and water valve which operate together to add moisture to the air in egg storage rooms. High moisture content of air is essential in such locations.

Automatic controls are used widely in electric milk coolers, and may be wired directly to the refrigeration motor. The temperature element in the cooling tank operates the motor to maintain proper milk temperatures.

Electric heating thermostats often are located in milk houses to operate electric heaters and heat lamps to assure comfortable working temperatures without wasting electricity.

AUTOMATIC CONTROLS . . . keep this refrigerated storage room at proper temperature.

Livestock farmers, too, find that automatic controls play an important part in operating heating elements to warm stock waterers. Temperature controllers have many uses on the farm. They watch over soil heating operations; keep the hot blast of crop dryers in line, and operate motors, electric heaters and electric relays according to temperature requirements.

Another type of control keeps a "weather eye" trained for frost which might damage orchards or crops. When the temperature drops suddenly, it sets off an alarm to warn the farmer to take emergency measures. Without these and other similar devices, the farmer, who thinks he should be at least two men to get all his work done, would have to divide himself into several more personalities to handle the jobs that controls do for him automatically.

Soil And Water Conservation Loans Available To Farmers

Soil and water conservation loans are available to eligible farmers in Illinois, Robert C. Becker, county farmers home administration supervisor said this week.

The loans may be used to carry out measures for soil conservation, water development, conservation and use, and drainage. This will include the construction and repair of terraces, dikes, ditches, ponds and tanks, the establishment and improvement of permanent pastures, basic application of lime and fertilizer, tree planting, well drilling, and the purchase of pumps and other irrigation equipment.

THE NEW LOAN program was made possible by legislation recently passed by the 83rd congress.

Soil and water conservation loans may be made from funds supplied by private lenders and insured by the government or from funds appropriated by congress. Loans from appropriated funds will be made only when insured funds are not available.

Loans, either direct or insured, will be made only when the applicant is unable to obtain the credit he needs at reasonable rates and terms from other sources. The farmers home administration is authorized to insure loans up to a total of $25,000,000 each fiscal year. In addition, for fiscal 1955, the congress appropriated $11,500,000 for this type of assistance.

APPLICATIONS for all loans, insured or direct, will be made at the county office of the farmers home administration at Woodstock.

The 3-member county committee of the farmers home administration will certify the eligibility of applicants. Applications from veterans will receive preference in processing.

Loans will be made to carry out only the types of soil and water conservation practices that are in accord with the recommendations made by the extension service and the soil conservation service.

Soil and water conservation loans will not be available for annually recurring costs that are generally considered as farm operating expense.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for a soil and water conservation loan, a farmer must have sufficient experience or training to indicate that he has reasonable prospects of conducting successful farming operations and be unable to obtain the necessary credit on reasonable terms and conditions from private and cooperative sources.

Non-profit associations such as incorporated water associations, mutual water and drainage companies, irrigation and drainage districts, and soil conservation districts are eligible for a loan when they are unable to obtain adequate credit elsewhere and meet certain other conditions. For example, associations to be eligible must be primarily engaged in extending to their members services directly related to soil conservation, water conservation and use, or drainage of farm land.

Individuals can borrow amounts up to $25,000. It is expected that the average loan to a farmer will be less than $5,000. Loans to associations have a ceiling of $250,000. All loans will be secured by the best lien obtainable on chattels or real estate to the extent necessary to adequately protect the government's investment.

It Pays To Dehorn Feeder Cattle

If the feeder cattle you bought this fall—or plan to buy later have horns, it may pay you to dehorn them.

The job should be done this fall after the fly season, but before cold weather sets in.

Livestock specialist Harry Russell at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture points out that meat packers prefer fat cattle without horns and will usually pay a better price for them. Hornless or dehorned cattle require less shed space and less room at the feed bunk then horned cattle. And they are easier to load and ship. You'll run less danger of carcass and hide damage, too, if you get those horns off.

If you haven't had experience in dehorning cattle, you'll want to get the help of a veterinarian to make sure you do the job properly, with no excessive loss of blood.

Expect 5748 Farm Bureau Members To Renew Membership

The individual farmer is helpless in attempting to solve the problems of modern agriculture without the aid of the Farm Bureau.

So stated A. G. Holste, secretary of the Cook County Farm Bureau, in a letter issued this week urging renewal of membership. At the end of September, the Cook County Farm Bureau had 5,746 members largest in the country.

"The farmers' only resource is building and maintaining a strong, effective Farm Bureau," he said. The annual membership drive opened this month, and dues are $15 a year.

The Farm Bureau's annual meeting will be Nov. 11 at Arlington Heights high school. Holste asked farmers to send in their reservations early.

Corn Picker Is Quicker Than The Hand

According to legend, many a country boy lost his money in the "shell game" at the carnival. And when he failed to guess which shell hid the little dried pea, the carnival slicker always said, "It proves that the hand is quicker than the eye."

There's a similar rule for corn-picker operators that can save more than money, says Wendell Bowers, University of Illinois agricultural engineer. That "the picker is quicker than the hand" can be shown with a pencil and paper—and hundreds of picker accident victims can testify that it's true in the field, too.

TESTS PROVE that it takes you nearly half a second to let go of a stalk once you realize it's going through the rolls. The snapping rolls pull in seven feet of stalks per second. That means you're taking a big chance in trying to pull stalks from a picker that's running—even if you grab the end of the stalk.

The obvious answers are these: stay out of "shell games," and stop your corn picker before cleaning it. Following this advice can save you money—and maybe even your life.

Costs Of Importing Mexican Cattle To Rise

Costs of importing Mexican cattle into the United States after the border is reopened December 31, 1954 are expected to be higher than the presently published costs, reports the current issue of National Live Stock Producer.

Average costs based on present figures for a herd of 500 cattle weighing between 200 and 440 pounds are estimated at $5.85 per cwt. A herd of 500 head weighing between 440 and 700 pounds would cost an estimated $4.75 per cwt. for importing costs.

Excellent rains in the Chihuahua and Sonora range areas during the past two months would indicate that Mexican cattle will be in top condition in October. For this reason the cattlemen's union of both states are urging an earlier opening of the border rather than the December 31 date set by the U. S. department of agriculture.

Automatic Controls Take on Added Farm Chores; Here are Examples of New Uses

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

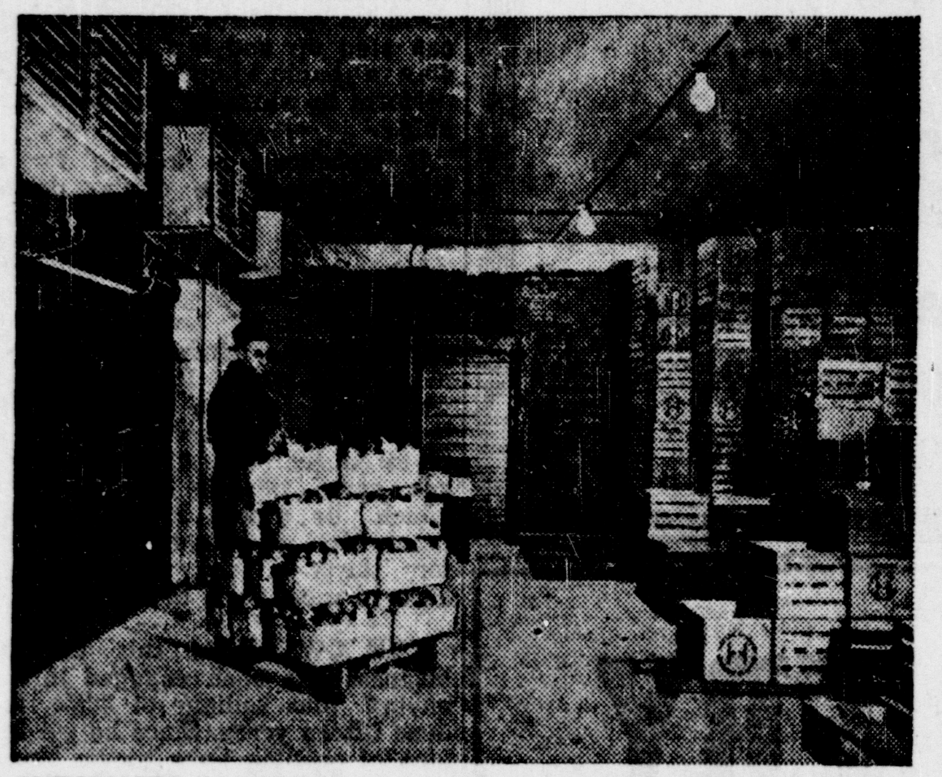
Automatic controls are the heart of today's "push-button" farming operations. Without these sensitive and accurate electric guardians of factors to which Nature alone holds the key, farmers would be hard-pressed to keep up with the parade of agricultural progress.

Let's look at some of these "wonder workers" and see what they are doing to ease the farmer's burdens. There is a simple, dependable control system which operates barn ventilation fans according to interior temperatures. They help keep barns cool in summer by turning on fans when the indoor temperature gets too high. In cold weather, they automatically shut off ventilation systems when temperatures drop below the comfort point for cows.

Other controls are used in fruit and root storage houses to provide ventilation only when the outdoor air is cooler than that indoors. In doing this, they provide maximum cooling and eliminate the chance of drawing warm outside air into buildings. Also, there is a combination humidity controller and water valve which operate together to add moisture to the air in egg storage rooms. High moisture content of air is essential in such locations.

Automatic controls are used widely in electric milk coolers, and may be wired directly to the refrigeration motor. The temperature element in the cooling tank operates the motor to maintain proper milk temperatures.

Electric heating thermostats often are located in milk houses to operate electric heaters and heat lamps to assure comfortable working temperatures without wasting electricity.



AUTOMATIC CONTROLS . . . keep this refrigerated storage room at proper temperature.

Livestock farmers, too, find that automatic controls play an important part in operating heating elements to warm stock waterers. Temperature controllers have many uses on the farm. They watch over soil heating operations; keep the hot blast of crop dryers in line, and operate motors, electric heaters and electric relays according to temperature requirements.

Another type of control keeps a "weather eye" trained for frost which might damage orchards or crops. When the temperature drops suddenly, it sets off an alarm to warn the farmer to take emergency measures. Without these and other similar devices, the farmer, who thinks he should be at least two men to get all his work done, would have to divide himself into several more personalities to handle the jobs that controls do for him automatically.

Soil And Water Conservation Loans Available To Farmers

Soil and water conservation loans are available to eligible farmers in Illinois, Robert C. Becker, county farmers home administration supervisor said this week.

The loans may be used to carry out measures for soil conservation, water development, conservation and use, and drainage. This will include the construction and repair of terraces, dikes, ditches, ponds and tanks, the establishment and improvement of permanent pastures, basic application of lime and fertilizer, tree planting, well drilling, and the purchase of pumps and other irrigation equipment.

THE NEW LOAN program was made possible by legislation recently passed by the 83rd congress.

Soil and water conservation loans may be made from funds supplied by private lenders and insured by the government or from funds appropriated by congress. Loans from appropriated funds will be made only when insured funds are not available.

Loans, either direct or insured, will be made only when the applicant is unable to obtain the credit he needs at reasonable rates and terms from other sources. The farmers home administration is authorized to insure loans up to a total of $25,000,000 each fiscal year. In addition, for fiscal 1955, the congress appropriated $11,500,000 for this type of assistance.

APPLICATIONS for all loans, insured or direct, will be made at the county office of the farmers home administration at Woodstock.

The 3-member county committee of the farmers home administration will certify the eligibility of applicants. Applications from veterans will receive preference in processing.

Loans will be made to carry out only the types of soil and water conservation practices that are in accord with the recommendations made by the extension service and the soil conservation service.

Soil and water conservation loans will not be available for annually recurring costs that are generally considered as farm operating expense.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for a soil and water conservation loan, a farmer must have sufficient experience or training to indicate that he has reasonable prospects of conducting successful farming operations and be unable to obtain the necessary credit on reasonable terms and conditions from private and cooperative sources.

Non-profit associations such as incorporated water associations, mutual water and drainage companies, irrigation and drainage districts, and soil conservation districts are eligible for a loan when they are unable to obtain adequate credit elsewhere and meet certain other conditions. For example, associations to be eligible must be primarily engaged in extending to their members services directly related to soil conservation, water conservation and use, or drainage of farm land.

Individuals can borrow amounts up to $25,000. It is expected that the average loan to a farmer will be less than $5,000. Loans to associations have a ceiling of $250,000. All loans will be secured by the best lien obtainable on chattels or real estate to the extent necessary to adequately protect the government's investment.

It Pays To Dehorn Feeder Cattle

If the feeder cattle you bought this fall—or plan to buy later have horns, it may pay you to dehorn them.

The job should be done this fall after the fly season, but before cold weather sets in.

Livestock specialist Harry Russell at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture points out that meat packers prefer fat cattle without horns and will usually pay a better price for them. Hornless or dehorned cattle require less shed space and less room at the feed bunk then horned cattle. And they are easier to load and ship. You'll run less danger of carcass and hide damage, too, if you get those horns off.

If you haven't had experience in dehorning cattle, you'll want to get the help of a veterinarian to make sure you do the job properly, with no excessive loss of blood.

Cows Need Little Mineral, But It Is All-Important

Your milk cows don't need very much mineral, but what they do need is important both for growth and for milk production.

L. R. Fryman, University of Illinois dairy specialist, says that salt is the most important mineral. Dairy cattle need free access to either block or loose salt. In addition, milking cows need a pound or two of salt for each 100 pounds of grain mixture, and calves need about a pound for each 100 pounds of grain.

IF YOUR ROUGHAGE isn't so good, Fryman says your cattle will also need some calcium and phosphorus. If you have good legume hay or grass silage, don't worry about calcium. But even with good roughage you'll need the phosphorus unless you are feeding a protein supplement.

Ground limestone will supply the calcium, and steamed bone meal will provide the phosphorus. You can offer them free choice with the salt, or you can mix them with the grain mixture.

IF YOU MIX them with salt, use a mixture of two parts ground limestone, two parts steamed bonemeal and one part salt. If you mix with the grain, add a pound of each for each 100 pounds of grain.

In Northeastern Illinois, Fryman says, dairy cows need iodine. Best way to add iodine is to use iodized salt in place of ordinary salt.

Best Buys On Vegetable Market

Locally grown vegetables from the Chicago vegetable area coming to the Chicago markets according to Cook County Truck Gardeners' and Farmers' association include:

Best buys - red and green cabbage, acorn and hubbard squash, pie pumpkins and carrots.

All good quality.

Good buys - dry onions, turnips, parsnips, red and white potatoes, kale and horseradish. All good quality.

Half Day Man Found Shot To Death In Home

Leo Oler, a factory worker in Libertyville, was found shot to death in his home on Kildeer Farm, a half-mile north of Halfday, on Rte. 21.

The body was discovered by a stepdaughter, Ann Carol Weldt, 16, when she returned from school.

Miss Weldt told sheriff's deputies she looked for her stepfather about the house and finally checked the bedroom where she found his body on a bed, the face matted with blood.

LAW on the FARM

Insurance for Farmers

Two types of personal liability insurance policies are available to farmers:

1. The owners', landlords', and tenants' (OL and T) policy.

2. The farmers' comprehensive personal liability (FCPL) policy.

The OL and T policy covers the farmer's liability to the public while on his premises. It is possible to extend this policy to include coverage of liability to farm employees.

THE FCPL policy is broader in coverage. For example, protection is obtained against (1) injury of a consumer who purchased the farmer's products, (2) breach of a written lease and (3) injuries from unlicensed vehicles used on the farm. Medical payment to injured persons is usually a part of this policy, and payments are made even though the farmer may not be liable.

By payment of additional premium, the FCPL policy can include (1) liability when doing custom work, (2) protection against lawsuits by injured employees, (3) medical payments to injured employees and (4) medical payments to neighbors who help cut on a swap-labor basis. Most companies base their premium on acreage and number of sets of buildings.

ANOTHER KIND of insurance gives protection from claim because of injuries to employees. This may be an employer's liability policy or a workmen's compensation insurance policy.

The liability policy is generally more economical because the insurance company need pay only if the employee files a lawsuit and the farmer is found negligent—and no negligence is found on the part of the employee. Sometimes the company will make a voluntary payment rather than go to court.

The basic liability policy is $5,000 for bodily injury or death to one employee and $10,000 for two or more. Medical payments of $250 to $500 for each person injured are included at extra cost.

THE WORKMEN'S compensation policy guarantees payments to an injured employee regardless of who was at fault. Payments are based on the schedule set up in the state compensation act. The premium depends upon the rate per $100 of wages paid and the amount of the annual payroll for labor.

Auto and truck insurance is almost mandatory unless the volume of business and number of vehicles permit self-insurance. The Illinois Safety Responsibility Law requires security of 5-10-1 when there is an accident involving personal injury or property damage of $100. That means $5,000 for injury or death of one person, $10,000 for two or more and $1,000 for property damage. It is wise to have more than the legal minimum of security in these days of higher judgments.

FIXIN'-UP TIPS

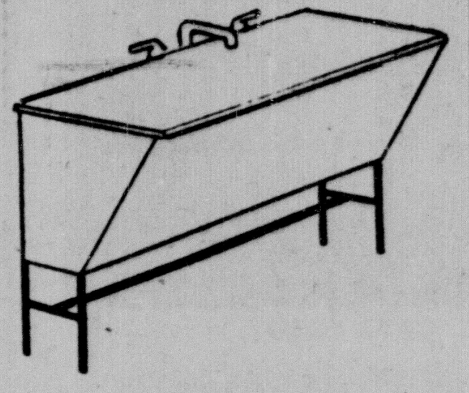
Laundry Tub Table

TABLE top space is at a premium in every home. This is particularly true of the basement or utility room, yet a table foundation is ready for a top in practically every home.

The stationary laundry tubs may be given a removable top which will serve as a laundry sorting center, work or recreation space or temporary storage for just-ironed garments.



Simply take a piece of Masonite Tempered Presdwood cut to fit over the tubs — and there's the table. It may be removed instantly. Tempered Presdwood is available at lumber yards. It is smooth and splinter-free — ideal for work, recreation or storage.

This versatile material may be cut readily with a cross-cut saw. Before putting it into service as a top over the tubs, round the corners slightly and bevel the edges lightly with a file. Then give it a coat of penetrating sealer. Prime and paint it instead, for a touch of color in the room.

Savings Growth In Midwest Less Than Average

Despite the recent business downturn, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports that savings of consumers and businessmen have gained about 5 billion dollars from year-ago levels at banks all across the nation. This represents the largest dollar gain in savings in any 12 month period since the war.

Moreover, the principal competitors of banks for savings accounts —the savings and loan associations—have also enjoyed a record inflow of funds over the past year. The U.S. Treasury's savings bond program, too, has experienced its best sales year in some time.

SAVINGS at seventh district (midwest) banks gained 6-½ per cent during the year ended last August. While this percentage gain compares favorably with recent increases, it falls short of the nation's 11 per cent savings rise at Reserve-member banks since August 1953.

Probably the major reason behind the poorer showing of midwest banks has been the relatively sharper business decline in this area than in the nation. Durable goods industries, especially important here, have taken the brunt of the downturn, just as they had shown a larger than average expansion in earlier years.

Yet, over the past nine years savings growth in the seventh district has held its own. From December 1945 through last August, the bank reports, midwest time deposits rose 61 per cent as compared with a 60 per cent gain for the nation as a whole.

NOT ALL DISTRICT centers, however, typically share the same rate of savings growth. Since August 1953, for example, Des Moines and Springfield registered gains of 14 and 13 per cent, respectively. On the other hand, savings in one-fourth of the cities surveyed remained almost unchanged.

Record Registrations For Aberdeen-Angus

Cattlemen raising purebred Aberdeen-Angus scored two new all-time records in breed expansion during the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30. In the face of hazardous setbacks by widespread drought, America's Angus breeders registered a remarkable 33 per cent more purebred calves this year than last. In addition, sales by public auction and private treaty placed 16 per cent more registered cattle in the hands of new owners in 1954.

Better than ten new lifetime memberships were issued each working day of 1954, according to Frank Richards, secretary of the American Aberdeen-Angus breeders' association. This represented an 11 per cent gain in new herds founded during the past 12 months. The encouraging expansion pushed upward the lifetime membership of the association by 2,663 breeders to a new high of more than 28,700, the largest membership of any beef cattle registry organization.

A record number of 213,410 purebred Aberdeen-Angus calves were entered in the American Herd Book during the past 12 months, showing an increase of 52,656 over last year. More Black calves were registered this year than were recorded in the first 33 years of the breed association's existence.

Cows Need Little Mineral, But It Is All-Important

Your milk cows don't need very much mineral, but what they do need is important both for growth and for milk production.

L. R. Fryman, University of Illinois dairy specialist, says that salt is the most important mineral. Dairy cattle need free access to either block or loose salt. In addition, milking cows need a pound or two of salt for each 100 pounds of grain mixture, and calves need about a pound for each 100 pounds of grain.

IF YOUR ROUGHAGE isn't so good, Fryman says your cattle will also need some calcium and phosphorus. If you have good legume hay or grass silage, don't worry about calcium. But even with good roughage you'll need the phosphorus unless you are feeding a protein supplement.

Ground limestone will supply the calcium, and steamed bone meal will provide the phosphorus. You can offer them free choice with the salt, or you can mix them with the grain mixture.

IF YOU MIX them with salt, use a mixture of two parts ground limestone, two parts steamed bonemeal and one part salt. If you mix with the grain, add a pound of each for each 100 pounds of grain.

In Northeastern Illinois, Fryman says, dairy cows need iodine. Best way to add iodine is to use iodized salt in place of ordinary salt.

Half Day Man Found Shot To Death In Home

Leo Oler, a factory worker in Libertyville, was found shot to death in his home on Kildeer Farm, a half-mile north of Halfday, on Rte. 21.

The body was discovered by a stepdaughter, Ann Carol Weldt, 16, when she returned from school.

Miss Weldt told sheriff's deputies she looked for her stepfather about the house and finally checked the bedroom where she found his body on a bed, the face matted with blood.

LAW on the FARM

Insurance for Farmers

Two types of personal liability insurance policies are available to farmers:

1. The owners', landlords', and tenants' (OL and T) policy.
2. The farmers' comprehensive personal liability (FCPL) policy.

The OL and T policy covers the farmer's liability to the public while on his premises. It is possible to extend this policy to include coverage of liability to farm employees.

THE FCPL policy is broader in coverage. For example, protection is obtained against (1) injury of a consumer who purchased the farmer's products, (2) breach of a written lease and (3) injuries from unlicensed vehicles used on the farm. Medical payment to injured persons is usually a part of this policy, and payments are made even though the farmer may not be liable.

By payment of additional premium, the FCPL policy can include (1) liability when doing custom work, (2) protection against lawsuits by injured employees, (3) medical payments to injured employees and (4) medical payments to neighbors who help cut on a swap-labor basis. Most companies base their premium on acreage and number of sets of buildings.

ANOTHER KIND of insurance gives protection from claim because of injuries to employees. This may be an employer's liability policy or a workmen's compensation insurance policy.

The liability policy is generally more economical because the insurance company need pay only if the employee files a lawsuit and the farmer is found negligent—and no negligence is found on the part of the employee. Sometimes the company will make a voluntary payment rather than go to court.

The basic liability policy is $5,000 for bodily injury or death to one employee and $10,000 for two or more. Medical payments of $250 to $500 for each person injured are included at extra cost.

THE WORKMEN'S compensation policy guarantees payments to an injured employee regardless of who was at fault. Payments are based on the schedule set up in the state compensation act. The premium depends upon the rate per $100 of wages paid and the amount of the annual payroll for labor.

Auto and truck insurance is almost mandatory unless the volume of business and number of vehicles permit self-insurance. The Illinois Safety Responsibility Law requires security of 5-10-1 when there is an accident involving personal injury or property damage of $100. That means $5,000 for injury or death of one person, $10,000 for two or more and $1,000 for property damage. It is wise to have more than the legal minimum of security in these days of higher judgments.

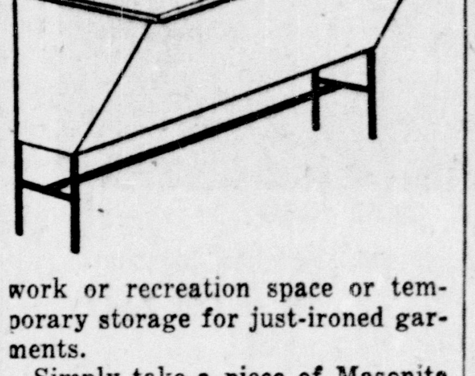
Handy Jim's FIXIN'-UP TIPS For the Home

Laundry Tub Table

TABLE top space is at a premium in every home. This is particularly true of the basement or utility room, yet a table foundation is ready for a top in practically every home.

The stationary laundry tubs may be given a removable top which will serve as a laundry sorting center, work or recreation space or temporary storage for just-ironed garments.



Simply take a piece of Masonite Tempered Presdwood cut to fit over the tubs — and there's the table. It may be removed instantly. Tempered Presdwood is available at lumber yards. It is smooth and splinter-free — ideal for work, recreation or storage.

This versatile material may be cut readily with a cross-cut saw. Before putting it into service as a top over the tubs, round the corners slightly and bevel the edges lightly with a file. Then give it a coat of penetrating sealer. Prime and paint it instead, for a touch of color in the room.

Savings Growth In Midwest Less Than Average

Despite the recent business downturn, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports that savinge of consumers and businessmen have gained about 5 billion dollars from year-ago levels at banks all across the nation. This represents the largest dollar gain in savings in any 12 month period since the war.

Moreover, the principal competitors of banks for savings accounts—the savings and loan associations—have also enjoyed a record inflow of funds over the past year. The U.S. Treasury's savings bond program, too, has experienced its best sales year in some time.

SAVINGS at seventh district (midwest) banks gained 6-½ per cent during the year ended last August. While this percentage gain compares favorably with recent increases, it falls short of the nation's 11 per cent savings rise at Reserve-member banks since August 1953.

Probably the major reason behind the poorer showing of midwest banks has been the relatively sharper business decline in this area than in the nation. Durable goods industries, especially important here, have taken the brunt of the downturn, just as they had shown a larger than average expansion in earlier years.

Yet, over the past nine years savings growth in the seventh district has held its own. From December 1945 through last August, the bank reports, midwest time deposits rose 61 per cent as compared with a 60 per cent gain for the nation as a whole.

NOT ALL DISTRICT centers, however, typically share the same rate of savings growth. Since August 1953, for example, Des Moines and Springfield registered gains of 14 and 13 per cent, respectively. On the other hand, savings in one-fourth of the cities surveyed remained almost unchanged.

Record Registrations For Aberdeen-Angus

Cattlemen raising purebred Aberdeen-Angus scored two new all-time records in breed expansion during the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30. In the face of hazardous setbacks by widespread drought, America's Angus breeders registered a remarkable 33 per cent more purebred calves this year than last. In addition, sales by public auction and private treaty placed 16 per cent more registered cattle in the hands of new owners in 1954.

Better than ten new lifetime memberships were issued each working day of 1954, according to Frank Richards, secretary of the American Aberdeen-Angus breeders' association. This represented an 11 per cent gain in new herds founded during the past 12 months. The encouraging expansion pushed upward the lifetime membership of the association by 2,663 breeders to a new high of more than 28,700, the largest membership of any beef cattle registry organization.

A record number of 213,410 purebred Aberdeen-Angus calves were entered in the American Herd Book during the past 12 months, showing an increase of 52,656 over last year. More Black calves were registered this year than were recorded in the first 33 years of the breed association's existence.

Color Stylist Follows Her Own Advice

How does a professional color consultant and interior decorator go about "doing" her own house?

"In exactly the same way I advise other people," says consultant Beatrice West. "When I got my new house, I decorated it from roof down and from the outside in.

"As in many new houses, my draperies, inside walls, some lamps and furniture are quite visible from outside, so their colors should harmonize without the exterior colors. Large window areas and open floor planning call for color harmony between outside and inside and between one room and another."

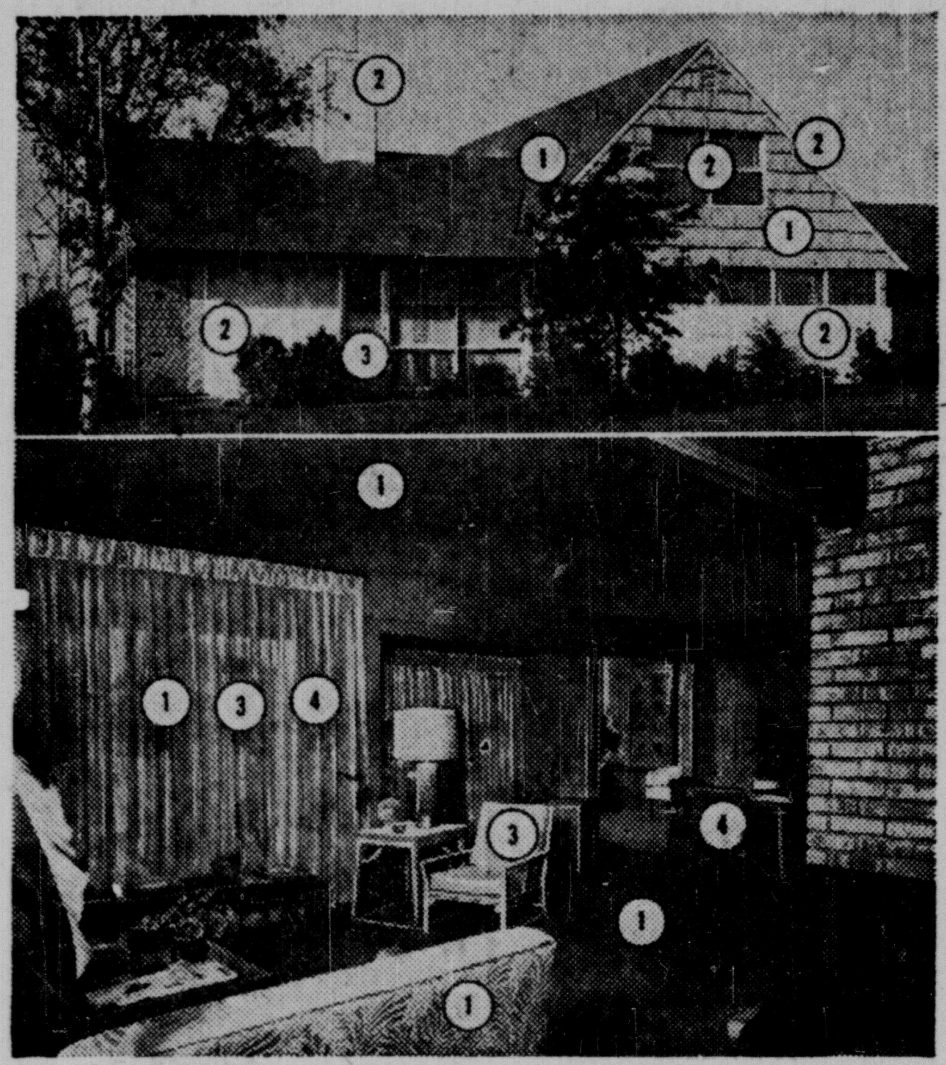
For her home in Roslyn, N. Y., on Long Island's fashionable north shore, Miss West selected a roof of asphalt shingles in a subdued gray blend. The large roof area, easily visible from the ground, sets the key for the entire color plan, both exterior and interior.

Miss West chose asphalt shingles, because that material, she says, offers the color stylist an exceptionally wide variety of colors to work with.

The siding shingles are in a lighter gray, giving the exterior harmony without monotony. Still lighter grays were selected for the living-room walls, ceiling, wall-to-wall carpet, sofa and Oriental draperies.

White was used on the brick siding of the one-story house. The frame of the one-story house. The frame and sash of the windows are also painted white, as is the trim along the eaves.

As on all homes color-styled by Miss West, the door is painted a vivid "accent" color, to give the color scheme a striking focal point. In this case the accent color is Ming yellow, which is repeated in a living-room chair and in some of the floral patterns on the draperies.



Here's how an expert does it for herself. Color consultant Beatrice West's own home illustrates her decorating principles. Her four main colors are numbered in both pictures: gray (1), white (2), yellow (3) and coral (4). The gray blend asphalt shingle roof is the color key, harmoniously carried out in lighter gray siding shingles, living-room walls, ceiling, carpet, and draperies. White is used on brick siding and chimney, eaves trim, and window trim. Ming yellow appears outside on the door, and inside on the draperies and one chair. The Chinese coral of the dining chairs is repeated in the draperies.

Barrington Girl Fined; Chased Thru Stop Sign

An overly ardent suitor and his fast-driving girl friend paid traffic fines in police court in Barrington last week.

Fined were Don Shipley, 20, of East Lansing, Mich., who paid $10 and costs for speeding and an additional $5 for running a stop sign and Mary L. Meyer, 18, Barrington, who paid a total of $20 and costs for three traffic violations.

Police said Miss Meyer was speeding in the business district, ran a stop sign and made unnecessary noise with her auto while she was attempting to elude Shipley who was following her.

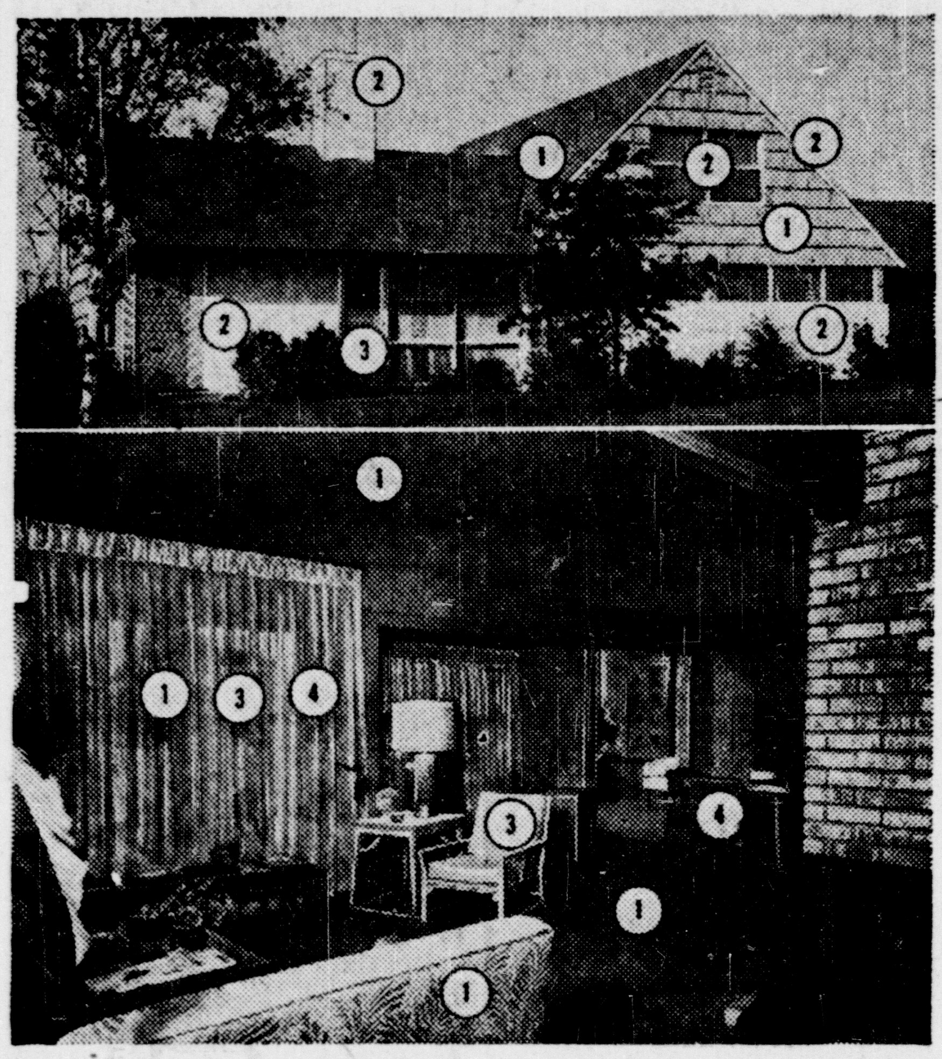
White was used on the brick siding of the one-story house. The frame of the one-story house. The frame and sash of the windows are also painted white, as is the trim along the eaves.

As on all homes color-styled by Miss West, the door is painted a vivid "accent" color, to give the color scheme a striking focal point. In this case the accent color is Ming yellow, which is repeated in a living-room chair and in some of the floral patterns on the draperies.



Here's how an expert does it for herself. Color consultant Beatrice West's own home illustrates her decorating principles. Her four main colors are numbered in both pictures: gray (1), white (2), yellow (3) and coral (4). The gray blend asphalt shingle roof is the color key, harmoniously carried out in lighter gray siding shingles, living-room walls, ceiling, carpet, and draperies. White is used on brick siding and chimney, eaves trim, and window trim. Ming yellow appears outside on the door, and inside on the draperies and one chair. The Chinese coral of the dining chairs is repeated in the draperies.

Barrington Girl Fined; Chased Thru Stop Sign

An overly ardent suitor and his fast-driving girl friend paid traffic fines in police court in Barrington last week.

Fined were Don Shipley, 20, of East Lansing, Mich., who paid $10 and costs for speeding and an additional $5 for running a stop sign and Mary L. Meyer, 18, Barrington, who paid a total of $20 and costs for three traffic violations.

Police said Miss Meyer was speeding in the business district, ran a stop sign and made unnecessary noise with her auto while she was attempting to elude Shipley who was following her.

To Give Air Force Enlisters 10-Day Vacation At End Of Basic Training

Master Sergeant Walter J Heck, in charge of local air force recruiting with offices at 1518 Park Place, Des Plaines, announced that the young men of the area who enlist in the air force will now be given a ten-day "vacation" at the end of their basic training.

This delay enroute, as it is known in military terms, not to exceed ten days plus travel time, will be granted all basic military training graduates, prior service airmen and air force ROTC enlistees, upon the completion of basic training either at Lackland air force base, Texas, or Sampson air force base, New York.

The ten-day leave policy will become effective with classes graduating in December, 1954. These airmen graduating in classes prior to the date of the policy will be granted ordinary leave at the end of their training.

Gems Of Thought

EDUCATION

All education should contribute to moral and physical strength and freedom.

—Mary Baker Eddy

To know the laws of God in nature and revelation, and then to fashion the affections and will into harmony with those laws—this is education.

—Sylvester Scovel

Neither piety, virtue, nor liberty can long flourish in a community where the education of youth is neglected.

—Peter Cooper

It is on the sound education of the people that the security and destiny of every nation chiefly rest.

—Louis Kossuth

Education is a possession which cannot be taken away from men.

—Epictetus

Timed Meals

A worthwhile trick in home freezer management, according to Deepfreeze Home Appliances, is to plan and mark complete meals that can be ready in 30 minutes, 60 minutes, 90 minutes and so on. Then a meal may be chosen according to how much time is available before serving.

In Germany

Army Pfc. Daniel I. Taggart Jr., 21, whose wife lives on Rte. 2, Arlington Heights, is a member of his company's nine-man football team this season in Berlin, Germany.

Tree Split Signs Seen In Bulge And Oozing At V-Fork

Even the untutored eye can spot a tree that's likely to split down the trunk.

If there are bulging seams or oozing sap below a V-shaped fork, better call the tree doctor at once. These are almost sure signs the tree is beginning to split.

Bracing and cabling generally can save such a tree, says P. E. Hudson, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Otherwise, it may topple under strong winter winds or heavy burdens of ice that come with the almost inevitable sleet storms. Frequently one side splits off leaving an unsightly half tree as a continuing menace. Sometimes a weakened tree will crash when there is little or no wind.

Strain on sharp forks can be reduced by installing cables in branches high in the tops and by placing parallel rods just above the forks to overcome the splitting tendency. The proper placing of these supports calls for intimate knowledge of tree characteristics and wind stresses, as well as skill in application.

Under no circumstances is this a job for the week-end gardener. Many trees fall victim to inadequate attempts at arboreal first aid by amateurs. Cables wrapped around invariably are harmful. They're likely to girdle, or strangle, the tree.

The professional tree man will know whether a tree can be saved. If it is past mechanical and surgical aid, he will recommend its removal.

Give Report On Red Cross Work

The record of humanitarian service of 21,343 Chicago chapter Red Cross volunteers who gave 755,242 hours of service to victims of disaster, servicemen and veterans, and their families in the Chicago area was revealed this week, in the chapter's 38th annual report

"By act of Congress, Red Cross is obligated to provide these services to the American people. Thus, these volunteers serve in the name of the American people by giving their time and effort in carrying out the Red Cross programs," said Davis.

Within the Chicago chapter area, which covers all of Cook and DuPage counties and the south half of Lake county, $506,905 was spent in providing aid to servicemen, veterans, and their families. More than 5,000 such cases were handled each month in the past fiscal year by the Chicago chapter's home service department.

During that time, community disaster representatives aided 1,967 victims and provided 10,257 garments, 633 pairs of shoes, 1,154 days of shelter, and 4,068 meals, at a cost to the Chicago Chapter of $34,769.

In the Chapter area last year, Red Cross staff and 8,549 volunteer instructors trained 25,982 persons in first aid, 49,426 in water safety, and 15,060 in home nursing. This program of education amounted to $171,292, the Red Cross annual report states.

Now Is The Time To Put Our Gardens To Bed For Winter

by OTTO H. AMLING

OTTO AMLING

I know it's a hard chore, but I earnestly advise you to spade up your gardening area now. Just rough-spade it. That is, leave the ground in lumps; the bigger the better.

The frost will come along and shatter the lumps into powdery earth—the spring - consistency that delights gardeners. Moisture soaks deep into the sub-soil for next season's usage. And the winter wet will disappear much faster from the surface next spring. Spaded soil drains. Thus your garden will be ready for planting weeks ahead of unspaded soil.

Of course you're not going to spade your perennial bed. In it, I trust, you have filled this year's blank spaces with new bulbs that will give you a flowery greeting next spring. But, if you've neglected this duty, it still isn't too late to plant bulbs —especially the most popular of all — tulipss. That rewarding flower's bulbs can be planted right up to winter. You can plant tulips any time in fall and get fine flowers in spring. Perhaps late-planted tulips will be a bit later in blooming, but that's all the penalty you'll pay for tardiness.

AFTER YOUR peony bushes have withered, cut them down and remove the resulting debris. Then scatter bone-meal over the area. This will rot over the winter and gently fertilize the plants next season. The same rule applies to iris, phlox and any of the bush-type perennials.

Cut down your rose bushes too, but not so completely. Cut the canes in bush roses to about eight inches and then in spring a little shorter than that. The shorter the cane the sturdier the new growth and the bigger the roses.

See to it that your roses go into the winter freeze with moisture around their roots. This applies to all perennials, but particularly to roses. And, so as to protect your roses against repeated thawing and freezing, mound dirt around each bush to a height of six or eight inches.

After winter arrives and the ground has a frozen crust, scatter mulch over your perennials to protect them against the root-tearing result of heaving during thaw-and-freeze spells. The mulch does not keep your plants warm. It keeps 'em cold—immovably frozen and uninjured by the vagaries of winter weather.

What to use for a mulch? Well, fallen leaves would do if it weren't for their habit of matting down and suffocating what they are asked to protect. A mixture of leaves and twigs—or sprigs of evergreen—is an improvement. But peat is better. Oat hulls also are used and so is straw and marsh hay if the latter is obtainable.

As to your lawn, don't let it grow long simply because summer is over. That's the worst possible practice. Cut your lawn regularly until freezing. Then the grass can't mat and rot in the ice-water of winter.

Subject:
Strictly For
Glamour

Regardless of Dior - ask any woman about sweaters -and you'll find they rate right at the top of the list . . . They're an American classic style - and season after season - year after year, they continue to be popular - and it isn't for the reason ascribed by the jokesters, to Lana Turner! .. Most of us like them because they can be dressed up or down to fit any occasion - and above all, they're comfortable - particularly, come winter, in northern climes.

Personally, we've looked a long time for a slip-over with long (or push-up) sleeves and at last we've found one, made of nylon and Vicara that seems ideal .. Moderately priced at $5.95, it looks and feels like luxurously soft wool cashmere. It is closely knit, washes and dries in a jiffy (no blocking) and comes in choice of red, white, beige, or navy, in sizes 34 to 40 . . . Having found this prize (and filling in our woardrobe with several of them) we turned our attention to decorating a white one with rhinestones and pearls to really dress it up . . . We also used some silver cord, some irridescent sequins and glittery white bugle beads, . . . Several hours work gave that "heavily incrusted" look . . . the kind of trim usually found in sweaters costing around $20.

Now the pearls and rhinestones were set into the knit by means of a new gadget - the best "Gem-Setter" we have ever come across - actually better than the models that used to sell for close to five dollars. This one cost only a dollar and it is simple to get the knack of using it - and quite foolproof .. fastening each gem securely in rust-proof frongs . . . Samples of "gems" (including nailheads) come in the package and it's a real find for someone who likes to give a sophisticated touch of glamour to her wardrobe . . . A sweater - such as the decorated one described above - would also make a very special gift for someone very special!

You should see our new Holiday Corsages with matching earrings! They are gay with tiny holly, bells, bows, cones, balls and all sorts of glittery materials - and can give a lot of lift to any costume - far more than a very modest price tag of $1.25 would indicate! And here is how you can save even more - buy all the makings for any number for 75c . . . See the many different styles while there is full choice - whether you buy a set - or have the fun of making on!

Something new has been added to the Studio - a big "Make It Yourself" table where you can work at your own pet project, get instruction, swap ideas with others . . . You might need help with working out the trim design for a sweater - or perhaps you could use suggestions in working out a Corsage Set

The record of humanitarian service of 21,343 Chicago chapter Red Cross volunteers who gave 755,242 hours of service to victims of disaster, servicemen and veterans, and their families in the Chicago area was revealed this week, in the chapter's 38th annual report

"By act of Congress, Red Cross is obligated to provide these services to the American people. Thus, these volunteers serve in the name of the American people by giving their time and effort in carrying out the Red Cross programs," said Davis.

Within the Chicago chapter area, which covers all of Cook and DuPage counties and the south half of Lake county, $506,905 was spent in providing aid to servicemen, veterans, and their families. More than 5,000 such cases were handled each month in the past fiscal year by the Chicago chapter's home service department.

During that time, community disaster representatives aided 1,967 victims and provided 10,257 garments, 633 pairs of shoes, 1,154 days of shelter, and 4,068 meals, at a cost to the Chicago Chapter of $34,769.

In the Chapter area last year, Red Cross staff and 8,549 volunteer instructors trained 25,982 persons in first aid, 49,426 in water safety, and 15,060 in home nursing. This program of education amounted to $171,292, the Red Cross annual report states.

Now Is The Time To Put Our Gardens To Bed For Winter

by OTTO H. AMLING

I know it's a hard chore, but I earnestly advise you to spade up your gardening area now. Just rough-spade it. That is, leave the ground in lumps; the bigger the better.

OTTO AMLING

The frost will come along and shatter the lumps into powdery earth—the spring - consistency that delights gardeners. Moisture soaks deep into the sub-soil for next season's usage. And the winter wet will disappear much faster from the surface next spring. Spaded soil drains. Thus your garden will be ready for planting weeks ahead of unspaded soil.

Of course you're not going to spade your perennial bed. In it, I trust, you have filled this year's blank spaces with new bulbs that will give you a flowery greeting next spring. But, if you've neglected this duty, it still isn't too late to plant bulbs —especially the most popular of all — tulipss. That rewarding flower's bulbs can be planted right up to winter. You can plant tulips any time in fall and get fine flowers in spring. Perhaps late-planted tulips will be a bit later in blooming, but that's all the penalty you'll pay for tardiness.

AFTER YOUR peony bushes have withered, cut them down and remove the resulting debris. Then scatter bone-meal over the area. This will rot over the winter and gently fertilize the plants next season. The same rule applies to iris, phlox and any of the bush-type perennials.

Cut down your rose bushes too, but not so completely. Cut the canes in bush roses to about eight inches and then in spring a little shorter than that. The shorter the cane the sturdier the new growth and the bigger the roses.

See to it that your roses go into the winter freeze with moisture around their roots. This applies to all perennials, but particularly to roses. And, so as to protect your roses against repeated thawing and freezing, mound dirt around each bush to a height of six or eight inches.

After winter arrives and the ground has a frozen crust, scatter mulch over your perennials to protect them against the root-tearing result of heaving during thaw-and-freeze spells. The mulch does not keep your plants warm. It keeps 'em cold—immovably frozen and uninjured by the vagaries of winter weather.

What to use for a mulch? Well, fallen leaves would do if it weren't for their habit of matting down and suffocating what they are asked to protect. A mixture of leaves and twigs—or sprigs of evergreen—is an improvement. But peat is better. Oat hulls also are used and so is straw and marsh hay if the latter is obtainable.

As to your lawn, don't let it grow long simply because summer is over. That's the worst possible practice. Cut your lawn regularly until freezing. Then the grass can't mat and rot in the ice-water of winter.

Subject:
Glamour

Regardless of Dior - ask any woman about sweaters -and you'll find they rate right at the top of the list . . . They're an American classic style - and season after season - year after year, they continue to be popular - and it isn't for the reason ascribed by the jokesters, to Lana Turner! . . Most of us like them because they can be dressed up or down to fit any occasion - and above all, they're comfortable - particularly, come winter, in northern climes.

Personally, we've looked a long time for a slip-over with long (or push-up) sleeves and at last we've found one, made of nylon and Vicara that seems ideal . . Moderately priced at $5.95, it looks and feels like luxurously soft wool cashmere. It is closely knit, washes and dries in a jiffy (no blocking) and comes in choice of red, white, beige, or navy, in sizes 34 to 40 . . . Having found this prize (and filling in our woardrobe with several of them) we turned our attention to decorating a white one with rhinestones and pearls to really dress it up . . . We also used some silver cord, some irridescent sequins and glittery white bugle beads, . . . Several hours work gave that "heavily incrusted" look . . . the kind of trim usually found in sweaters costing around $20.

Now the pearls and rhinestones were set into the knit by means of a new gadget - the best "Gem-Setter" we have ever come across - actually better than the models that used to sell for close to five dollars. This one cost only a dollar and it is simple to get the knack of using it - and quite foolproof . . fastening each gem securely in rust-proof frongs . . . Samples of "gems" (including nail heads) come in the package and it's a real find for someone who likes to give a sophisticated touch of glamour to her wardrobe . . . A sweater - such as the decorated one described above - would also make a very special gift for someone very special!

You should see our new Holiday Corsages with matching earrings! They are gay with tiny holly, bells, bows, cones, balls and all sorts of glittery materials - and can give a lot of lift to any costume - far more than a very modest price tag of $1.25 would indicate! And here is how you can save even more - buy all the makings for any number for 75c . . . See the many different styles while there is full choice - whether you buy a set - or have the fun of making on!

Something new has been added to the Studio - a big "Make It Yourself" table where you can work at your own pet project, get instruction, swap ideas with others . . . You might need help with working out the trim design for a sweater - or perhaps you could use suggestions in working out a Corsage Set

MAC SAYS - By G. A. McELROY

GLENBROOK IS ON TOP all alone in the Northwest conference, and no one will ever know whether the Antioch team which won their first four games this year could have beaten the Spartans. Up Antioch way they will always think they could have taken the championship if McMillan, Blake, and Floyd had not been incapacitated the night of October 16.

Anyway, Jim McMillan, all conference tackle prospect, will be out the rest of the season with a broken arm and while Ben Floyd, star end, and Bill Blake, high scoring fullback, were released from the hospital this week it is not known when they will see action again.

Floyd and Blake were in the automobile accident last Thursday night which snuffed out the life of an Antioch frosh-soph gridder and injured several others.

Glenbrook to all appearances is in, with only Grant, Grayslake, and Ela-Vernon blocking the way to an undefeated championship.

The Sherman coached Spartans should take this trio in stride, winning by no less than two touchdowns. However, if they take Grant too lightly, and experience an expected let down after Saturday's crucial battle, an upset may be in the making come Saturday at 8:00 p. m. Grant has a reputation as a giant killer at their homecomings and has been plotting dire things for the cocky Glenbrook eleven for many weeks.

THIS COMING WEEK END, with the usually psychological homecoming build up multiplied several times due to a 25th anniversary of the school's founding, Bob Klaus and company will be ready to spill the Spartans. Palatine well remembers how Grant took them down a peg, 7-6, two years ago when they thought they had the title in the bag.

That they went on to win, anyway, was no fault of the underdog Bulldogs. We do not see how Grant has the where-with-all to to the job this year to Glenbrook but stranger things have happened in the game of football.

WE ARE READY right now to name Larry Laske of Grayslake to the all-star squad after watching him perform Saturday. Of course, Alan Eck, who pulled the game out of the fire for the Pirates with an 83 yard kick off return for a TD, will be hard to leave off the all-league team. Eck has been doing that sort of stuff every game he has played.

If there ever was a sure fire all-conference prospect it is Bob Klaus, the Grant quarterback who has brought a tail end prospect into a contender for first division.

If Grayslake had not had a bad case of fumbles, Palatine would have lost their homecoming game to the winless Rams. Coach Pat Rooney's team is a lot better than a 0-5 record would indicate for the season. They gave Antioch and Palatine very rugged opposition on successive week ends.

LT. MARV PRELLBERG, former Arlington Heights golfer, basketball player, and student sports writer for Paddock Publications, is making athletic and sports writing experience in both high school and college (Ripon) pay off. He's doing the same thing in the army while stationed at Camp Carson, Colorado, where he's supervisor of publications, and athletic and recreation officer.

Marv also writes a sports column for a camp paper, "Forty Rounds," under the by-line of Spider, a nickname acquired due to his long arms while playing basketball at Ripon.

Basketball is approaching at Arlington Heights high school where first call is slated for the first and second of November. Innovation for the frosh cage teams this year at Heights is two coaches, two squads, and freshman doubleheaders wherever possible.

This means more boys will remain with the squad, with an eye to building better varsity teams in the future.

On the cross country front in the West Suburban league LaGrange was host Wednesday of this week in a frosh-soph cross country meet, and an Arlington-Riverside dual will be held at the same time the conference event is held at Maine Saturday.

LIBERTYVILLE is on top in the topsy-turvy North Suburban conference after four games. The Wildcats' only loss was to Barrington. The Bronchos last week lost to winless McHenry for their second defeat and have been trimmed down to size in good shape.

Crystal Lake started it with a 31-13 shellacking of the Bronchos. Then the Lakers turned around and lost to Libertyville and Lake Forest.

Lake Forest had been dumped by Woodstock and Zion. And so it goes. A team losing only two out of seven should finish on top in that up and down loop.

HINSDALE LOOMS as the best of the lot in the West Suburban. Arlington notched their first victory over winless Glenbard and have a chance to get another against Riverside-Brookfield. Otherwise, it looks like losers for the Cards.

Rumor has it that New Trier won't get the Suburban flag. Evanston is rated tougher and they lost a one pointer to Oak Park last week. With both New Trier and Evanston disposed of, Oak Park has an excellent chance to finish first.

STATISTICS SHOW that deaths on the gridiron have been reduced sharply in recent years but that injuries are growing more severe. Areas hardest hit by injuries in order are knees, ankles, thighs, legs, and head. Seven out of 10 fatalities are head or spine injuries. Schools spend from $60 to $100 for protective equipment, yet injuries still occur. Football coaches recommend injuries will be reduced more by getting boys in good physical condition than through any other means.

That is why Illinois requires three weeks of preliminary practice before a game may be played and requires a thorough physical examination before a boy may go out for football.

That is why most coaches give the boys so much in the way of calisthenics, wrap and tape ankles and knees, and stress so much warm up before the game starts and between halves. Some of the most expensive equipment is rated by experts to be in itself dangerous. According to Sports Illustrated magazine. "The most lethal weapons are plastic helmets. Fundamentals Top Practice For Palatine

Saturday's games in the Northwest conference look like cut and dried affairs, except the Ela at Grayslake battle Friday afternoon should be a toss up. Ela has been coming up strong as Coach Bill Lehmann's teams always do, with victories over Wauconda and Bensenville the last two times out. Grayslake is coming close all season and is way past due to cash in on a lot of good football without much reward. It will be the Grayslake homecoming and that might be the difference.

Palatine figures to win at Wauconda and stay on the heels of Glenbrook. If the Pirates play any more lackadaisical football of the brand they showed against Grayslake they will suffer at least another defeat in the final three games.

Wauconda has an excellent backfield but has some weak spots in the line. This game will be no walk away unless the Pirates get back on the beam and start outcharging the opposing linemen. Ray Lorden, out at quarterback with an ailing back the past two weeks, will be a doubtful starter.

BRUCE McCLUNG did well Saturday as his sub, leading the team in ground gaining with John Dilks taking McClung's halfback job and doing his usual hard running. Hildebrandt and Hillesheim were the only linemen who gave a real good account of themselves in the Pirate line and with the number of boys available some former starters may find themselves riding the bench.

Coaches Feutz and Moylan have put the Pirates through a rigorous series of drills on fundamentals this week to sharpen the blocking and tackling.

BENSENVILLE FACES the tough Antioch crew in a home fame Friday night. While Antioch is minus several stars they figure to still have too much stuff for the Bisons.

Coach Meneguin's team has two outstanding boys in "Butch" D'Hooge at halfback and Froelich at end but has the poorest defensive record in the circuit, allowing the opposition an average of 20 points a game.

With Antioch, Palatine, and Grant the three remaining opponents, the Bisons have a tough proposition gaining another victory to add to the one they got in the season opener at Grayslake.

GAME OF THE WEEK will be at Grant's super deluxe homecoming at Fox Lake where a school's silver anniversary will be celebrated. The best will be none too good for Grant on this occasion and they are meeting the best in the league in football in the undefeated Glenbrook Spartans.

The school which inaugurated night football in the suburbs some 20 years ago, and this year dedicated a new lighted field, could find nothing more fitting for the occasion than an upset of Glenbrook.

Psychologically Grant has an advantage and they have another asset in a great quarterback, Bob Klaus. Beyond that, Glenbrook has too many boys who are better than too many other Grant players for anyone to pick the Spartans by less than two touchdowns.

Midget Grid Play Next Week Under Lights

Midget football program of the Arlington Heights park district will reach a climax Friday night, October 29, when two teams will put on an exhibition between halves of the frosh-soph game against York.

All boys in the program are urged to practice this Saturday morning, 9-11, to get all the details of the exhibition next weekend.

Cold weather kept many boys from showing up this past Saturday morning, but 45 still appeared for a practice game on the high school playing field. High school coaches Ormsbee, Mudge, Beckman and Kellogg are conducting the program for the park district, and are hoping for a fine turnout of boys, barring rain, Saturday morning.

Read to tackle Bodine of Ela-Vernon is Ken Gengel of Bensenville in the Bison homecoming fracas Friday night. The visitors won, 14-6. Others in the picture are Capodagli (30) for Bensenville and Mattson (72) and Gross (74) of Ela-Vernon.

Canadian Geese Herald The Opening Of Season Friday

The first flights of Canadian geese honking in the night skies creates a restlessness among the waterfowl hunters of Illinois that can only be allayed by feverish re-cleaning of guns, sorting and painting of decoys and a general preparation for the season which opens at noon, October 22.

There are several minor changes in the waterfowl hunting laws this year that hunters should know. Because the wood duck population in the Mississippi flyway has gone way down, the season is closed on wood duck this year.

THE SEASON runs for 55 days from noon October 22 through December 15. After the opening day, shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset, except in Alexander county where shooting hours for all waterfowl will be from 7 a. m. to 3 p. m. These shortened days in Alexander county are designed to give the big goose population at Horseshoe Lake an opportunity to get out and feed from the refuge without molestation.

In an effort to stop the indiscriminate shooting of Mergansers, the law this year provides for only one Hooded Merganser, which, with the American and Red Breasted Merganser must be included in the bag limit. Mergansers are not choice eating birds so too many shooters have been shooting them just for fun and leaving them.

SOME ADDITIONAL 35,000 acres of duck hunting lands will be available this year mostly on a first come, first served basis. These areas are lands turned over to the Illinois department of conservation by the army engineers, mostly along the Mississippi river.

Both Arlington Elevens Could Win This Week

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington Heights varsity and frosh-soph football teams travel to Riverside Saturday afternoon in quest of their second victory of the year with both squads rating even chances of reaching that goal.

The varsity is currently in sixth place, ahead of Riverside and Glenbard. A win, coupled with a Downers victory over York, could move the Cardinals up to fifth spot. Coach Ligon's sophomores could move to within one game of fifth by copping their first victory of the year while Glenbard sustains an expected loss at the hands of Hinsdale.

Hinsdale is presently leading the varsity division with four victories. LaGrange is doing the same in the frosh-soph half of the West Suburban league.

THE BLOCKING on short yardage plays for Heights against Glenbard Friday was much improved. Tackling was fair, but still not low enough. Looking best, possibly, were Wayne Malzahn, who was driving hard, Floyd Burns, playing good on defense, and Jack Ebert, also OK on defense.

Spirit is good at Arlington but the Cardinals will have to play still better ball to win at Riverside. The R-B team looked much improved against LaGrange Saturday, outscoring the Lions, 12-7, in the second half. Bob Dahlquist looked good on defense against Glenbard with Dennis Striegel doing a fair job.

NO MAJOR injuries were sustained against Glenbard. Wayne Brumm and John Sujack were handicapped in that game but are expected to be at full strength against R-B.

Coaches Kellogg, Beckman and Ormsbee have been stressing passing attack this week, a needed improvement. Dennis Maher, Card quarterback, is considerably handicapped by his lack of height, and has trouble throwing over the opposition.

TWO INJURIES kept Ashley Haase and John Brownell out of the frosh-soph game Friday night. Haase had sustained a bruised arm and Brownell pulled a muscle. Both boys are expected to be in the lineup this week.

The sophomores played their usual game against Glenbard but apparently "had a desire to win" according to Coach John Ligon. Just why the squad suddenly wanted to play football this time, more than any other, was possibly the result of homecoming spirit.

Iironically, the young Cardinals had lost to Downers, 32-13, which was defeated by Glenbard, 6-0. Heights lost to LaGrange, 39-0, which beat Riverside, 28-0. "If that homecoming spirit prevails," commented Coach Ligon, "the squad could make a good showing in three remaining games with Riverside, York and Hnsdale."

DEFENSE was the strongest point in Arlington's case against Glenbard. Hustle and aggressiveness were also evident, which had been missing most of the other games this season.

West Suburban Cross Country Meet At Maine

Glenbard is favored in the Wet Suburban conference cross country meet at Maine Saturday morning. Competition will start at 10 o'clock. The Bards are undefeated this year and should remain that way at Maine.

League championship is determined by the sum of position numbers in both league meet and dual competition. Schools ranking near Glenbard include Maine and LaGrange. Arlington may finish fifth.

Cardinal entries for the meet, acocrding to Heights coach Russ Attis, include John Sheppard, Lodiegard Reinke, Ray Hornbostel, Bill Palmer, John Landmeier, Roger Neunsinger, Wayne Mueller and Ronald Garr.

Canadian Geese Herald The Opening Of Season Friday

The first flights of Canadian geese honking in the night skies creates a restlessness among the waterfowl hunters of Illinois that can only be allayed by feverish re-cleaning of guns, sorting and painting of decoys and a general preparation for the season which opens at noon, October 22.

There are several minor changes in the waterfowl hunting laws this year that hunters should know. Because the wood duck population in the Mississippi flyway has gone way down, the season is closed on wood duck this year.

THE SEASON runs for 55 days from noon October 22 through December 15. After the opening day, shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset, except in Alexander county where shooting hours for all waterfowl will be from 7 a. m. to 3 p. m. These shortened days in Alexander county are designed to give the big goose population at Horseshoe Lake an opportunity to get out and feed from the refuge without molestation.

In an effort to stop the indiscriminate shooting of Mergansers, the law this year provides for only one Hooded Merganser, which, with the American and Red Breasted Merganser must be included in the bag limit. Mergansers are not choice eating birds so too many shooters have been shooting them just for fun and leaving them.

SOME ADDITIONAL 35,000 acres of duck hunting lands will be available this year mostly on a first come, first served basis. These areas are lands turned over to the Illinois department of conservation by the army engineers, mostly along the Mississippi river.

Both Arlington Elevens Could Win This Week

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington Heights varsity and frosh-soph football teams travel to Riverside Saturday afternoon in quest of their second victory of the year with both squads rating even chances of reaching that goal.

The varsity is currently in sixth place, ahead of Riverside and Glenbard. A win, coupled with a Downers victory over York, could move the Cardinals up to fifth spot. Coach Ligon's sophomores could move to within one game of fifth by copping their first victory of the year while Glenbard sustains an expected loss at the hands of Hinsdale.

Hinsdale is presently leading the varsity division with four victories. LaGrange is doing the same in the frosh-soph half of the West Suburban league.

THE BLOCKING on short yardage plays for Heights against Glenbard Friday was much improved. Tackling was fair, but still not low enough. Looking best, possibly, were Wayne Malzahn, who was driving hard, Floyd Burns, playing good on defense, and Jack Ebert, also OK on defense.

Spirit is good at Arlington but the Cardinals will have to play still better ball to win at Riverside. The R-B team looked much improved against LaGrange Saturday, outscoring the Lions, 12-7, in the second half. Bob Dahlquist looked good on defense against Glenbard with Dennis Striegel doing a fair job.

NO MAJOR injuries were sustained against Glenbard. Wayne Brumm and John Sujack were handicapped in that game but are expected to be at full strength against R-B.

Coaches Kellogg, Beckman and Ormsbee have been stressing passing attack this week, a needed improvement. Dennis Maher, Card quarterback, is considerably handicapped by his lack of height, and has trouble throwing over the opposition.

TWO INJURIES kept Ashley Haase and John Brownell out of the frosh-soph game Friday night. Haase had sustained a bruised arm and Brownell pulled a muscle. Both boys are expected to be in the lineup this week.

The sophomores played their usual game against Glenbard but apparently "had a desire to win" according to Coach John Ligon. Just why the squad suddenly wanted to play football this time, more than any other, was possibly the result of homecoming spirit.

Iironically, the young Cardinals had lost to Downers, 32-13, which was defeated by Glenbard, 6-0. Heights lost to LaGrange, 39-0, which beat Riverside, 28-0. "If that homecoming spirit prevails," commented Coach Ligon, "the squad could make a good showing in three remaining games with Riverside, York and Hnsdale."

DEFENSE was the strongest point in Arlington's case against Glenbard. Hustle and aggressiveness were also evident, which had been missing most of the other games this season.

West Suburban Cross Country Meet At Maine

Glenbard is favored in the Wet Suburban conference cross country meet at Maine Saturday morning. Competition will start at 10 o'clock. The Bards are undefeated this year and should remain that way at Maine.

League championship is determined by the sum of position numbers in both league meet and dual competition. Schools ranking near Glenbard include Maine and LaGrange. Arlington may finish fifth.

Cardinal entries for the meet, acocrding to Heights coach Russ Attis, include John Sheppard, Lodiegard Reinke, Ray Hornbostel, Bill Palmer, John Landmeier, Roger Neunsinger, Wayne Mueller and Ronald Garr.

Juggled Ball Sets Winning TD As Heights Cops 1st Win

A hot potato juggled by four Arlington and two Glenbard football players, with the Cards the winners, set up the winning (and only) touchdown of the Arlington homecoming affair Friday night, the locals winning, 7-0.

Arlington had punted from its own 47 to the Bards' 15, which was run back to the 20. Helledy carried to the 25. Then came the bouncing ball, tapped back and forth until the ref's whistle blew and it was Arlington's ball, first and ten, on the Glenbard eight.

Wayne Malzahn carried to the three. Denny Maher snuck to the one. Malzahn plunged across with Lew Green kicking the extra point.

REST OF THE GAME was an even affair, though much of the play was in Glenbard's end of the field. After an exchange of punts Glenbard moved from its own 35 to midfield, then punted. After a penalty shoved Arlington back to its eight, the Cardinals went nowhere, punted, held Glenbard, went backwards, punted, etc.

First of two sustained drives by Heights came in the second quarter. Starting from their own 14, the Cardinals racked up three first downs but were penalized and pushed back to their own 47.

A bit later the visitors, starting from their own 31, drove to the Heights 22 but fumbled. They intercepted a pass at the 37 and brought the ball to the 20 but three incompleted passes ended the half.

SECOND HALF found the line of scrimmage stretching from the Bards' 30 to the Cardinals' 35 with a 25 yard drive by the losers being stopped going into the fourth quarter.

Arlington was back on its heels the final stanza, but stopped Glenbard on the Heights seven, then drove to the 34 in nine plays, when forced to punt. Glenbard brought the ball from its own 36 to the Heights 26 but Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's charges held and the game was over.

Glenbard won in first downs, 10-6, but lost the passing parade with one completion in 11 attempts. Heights made good on one of two tosses. Glenbard fumbled twice, both of them picked up by the winners, plus one of their own.

Winterbauer Named Co-Captain Frosh Football At Yale

Richard H. Winterbauer, quarterback of Arlington Heights, and center Peter Wight of Frederick, Md., have been elected co-captains of Yale's freshman football team.

The bullpups opened the campaign against Columbia to score a 16-6 decision. Winterbauer, an all-state nominee at Arlington, passed for a touchdown, scored another and booted a field goal in the contest. Wight, all-county and all-state while competing for Lawrenceville, was the starting center in the decision over the Lions. Saturday, the Yale frosh met Cornell in New Haven.

Winterbauer was quarterback at Arlington Heights high school three years, and also with the freshman team. In addition he participated in basketball, was state shot put champion, and holds the state record. Last spring he won the national discus title. He was president of his freshman class.

At Yale Dick is majoring in liberal arts. His father, Henry T. Winterbauer, was a scholastic all-state performer in basketball and played the sport at the University of Illinois.

Arlington Harriers Lose To Glenbard

Arlington's John Sheppard copped first place in a cross country meet with Glenbard last week, but it was all-Glenbard from then on as the visitors took the next five places for the meet, 20-41.

Sheppard ran the special short course in 8:20. Regular distance was not available due to neither Glenbard nor Arlington having swimming on their athletic program this year.

Point winners for Glenbard were Shepherd, Pond, Whitehead, Dodd and Morgan. Counting for Arlington Heights were Lodiegard Reinke 7th, Ray Hornbostel 10th, Bill Palmer 11th and John Landmeier 12th.

Grayslake Fumbles Pave Way For Palatine Victory

Grayslake fumbles and an 83 yard kickoff return for a touchdown by Alan Eck were the features in Palatine's 18-9 homecoming victory Saturday afternoon. Palatine played their poorest ball game of the season and might have lost but for breaks in the form of opposition fumbles, which set up two first half touchdowns.

Grayslake, still seeking their first victory, had the edge in the statistics in every department including fumbles, of which Palatine recovered five to either set up their own scoring or stop the Rams' drives to the goal.

FIRST BREAK came midway in the opening period when Thompson recovered a Grayslake fumble on their own 45. Penning hit the line for three and McClung got five on line plays. Then Bruce McClung circled end for 17 and first down on the 20. After Eck failed to gain Dilks made eight and Cornwell two for first down on the 10. Alan Eck then broke through tackle and cut wide to score. A fake kick with a pass found no one going out to receive for the point after touchdown.

A little later the Grayslake center made a bad pass over the punter's head and Palatine recovered on the Rams' five. After four plays which included a fumble which lost 10 yards Palatine gave up the ball on the Grayslake one yard line. On the first play the Rams fumbled it back to Palatine on the two. McClung plunged over for the Pirates on the first play. Cornwell's kick was wide.

JUST BEFORE the half Palatine was pushed back to their own six on penalties after Hillesheim had recovered a fumble to stop a Grayslake drive on the Pirate 26. On fourth down Hillesheim centered the ball over Eck's head and over the end zone for an automatic safety making the score at the half 12-2.

At the start of the second half Grayslake drove all the way to the Palatine 22 but Palatine got out of danger due to a 36 yard run by Bruce McClung.

Soon afterward Moore of Grayslake intercepted a pass on the Palatine 48 and the Rams marched to a touchdown. A 29 yard run by Laske featured the drive and the same lad scored on an off tackle plunge from the six yard stripe and Beck converted.

WITH THE COUNT 12-9 Grayslake was fired up and back in the ball game but their enthusiasm was dimmed immediately for Alan Eck ran the kick off back 83 yards to run the smore to 18-9. The visitors later marched from their own 40 to Palatine's 30, recovered a fumble later on the Palatine 33 and went to the 17.

The Rams outgained the Pirates 192 yards to 103 from scrimmage and had an edge of 8-4 on first downs. Larry Laske of the Rams gained a total of 116 yards. Bruce McClung led the Pirates with 60 yards. Palatine's best effort, the 83 yard kickoff return by Eck, does not show in the statistics. Douglas Hildebrandt was the only consistent lineman for Palatine in tackling and blocking and he had a very good day.

Heights Frosh Lose, 7-0, To La Grange

A lax third quarter cost the Arlington Heights freshman football team the ball game Wednesday on the local field with LaGrange the winner, 7-0. Marrifield plunged eight yards for the only score of the game with an end run around the right side counting the extra point.

Coach Curtis Larsen's young Cardinals started fast. Receiving the kickoff the locals moved rapidly down the field to the LaGrange 15 but fumbled. Heights drove again at the end of the second quarter covering 35 yards to the LaGrange 20, but time ran out.

Starting the third period, LaGrange had first and ten on the Arlington five, was pushed back to the eight in three plays, but a final thrust paid off with what proved to be the winning touchdown.

FUMBLES at crucial moments cost Arlington several opportunities, the young Cardinals recovering just three of five miscues. Other than the third quarter, though, Arlington looked improved. Both teams played well with fumbles and penalties hurting LaGrange, too.

Co-coaches Larsen and Howard Lester worked on pass protection Monday. The passers have been running out of the pocket, though, and losing the advantage of protection. Statistics were fairly even with LaGrange leading in first downs, 9-6, and in passes with 3 of 6, while Heights completed four of ten.

Baked Shaggy Manes

The Shaggy Manes are a species of wild mushroom that stay with us until late frost and the big, hollow, creamy white fellows—sometimes 6 to 8 inches long—are among the finest flavored of the entire mushroom clan.

They can be stewed like the other members of the Inky Cap family, or they can be baked, the latter method being the more satisfactory with the larger specimens.

Slice, season with salt and pepper and lay in a buttered baking dish in alternate layers with buttered bread crumbs, and bake 25 to 30 minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees). To make buttered bread crumbs, dry stale bread (crusts removed) thoroughly in a slow oven, then roll and sift. For each ¼ cup crumbs, melt 1 teaspoon butter and mix carefully. Scientific name of the Shaggy Manes is "Coprinus Comatus."

Ela-Vernon Starts Fast To Defeat Bensenville, 14-6

by ELI WHITNEY

Bensenville Bisons succumbed to the Ela-Vernon Bears, 14-6, Friday under the lights at Memorial field.

Bisons kicked off to the Bears, who didn't waste time in starting a drive. Several running plays soon advanced Ela to Bensenville's two yard line. Halfback Risi pierced the middle of the line to score. J. Tenner playing fullback position ran the ball for the extra points.

SECOND QUARTER found Bensenville in possession and on the go. But at Ela's 7 yard line two penalties prevented the Bisons from crossing the goal marker. The Bears' attempt to move from there failed and Bensenville caught Ela's point on the 50.

With several runs by halfback Butch D'Hooge and a penalty on Ela Vernon, Coach Tom Meneguin's grid team worked to Ela's 12. D'Hooge then raced around right end to tally. An attempted pass for the extra point was incomplete. Score at the half was 7-6, Ela-Vernon.

BENSENVILLE received to start the second half but didn't gain enough yardage to keep the ball. Ela took over and proceeded to Bensenville's 35. Risi again hit paydirt for the Bears as he covered the remaining 35 yards. Tenner plunged through mid-line to rack up his second extra point of the evening.

The count remained 14-6 through the last quarter.

Of Ela's 204 yards rushing halfback Risi gained 126. Bensenville's yard gainer was Butch D'Hooge, halfback, who ran 97 of the total 113. The Bisons won the first downs count 9-8.

Glenbrook Defeats Antioch For NW Lead

Glenbrook took undisputed possession of first place in the Northwest suburban conference Saturday by whipping previously undefeated Antioch, 18-6, before a record crowd at Antioch The Sequoits, in losing, were minus the services of three of their best regulars in Bill Blake and Ben Floyd, injured in an automobile accident, and Jim McMillan who broke an arm in practice.

The Spartans scored in the first, second and fourth periods but Bob Boyd failed to add to his eight straight conversions after touchdowns as Antioch blocked all three attempts. Boyd made up for this by scoring two Glenbrook touchdowns on runs of four and 69 yards.

IN THE LAST period following an intercepted pass Dave Corson plunged through the middle of the line from his fullback position for eight yards and the clinching touchdown. Just a short time before Glenbrook made a goal line stand and stopped Antioch's attempt to tie the score by taking the ball on downs on the two foot line.

Antioch went in front in the first few minutes when Don Schroeder, substituting for the injured Bill Blake, made a touchdown run of 65 yards.

VERSATILE Bob Klaus led Grant to a close 20-18 victory at Wauconda Saturday to move his team into a tie for fourth in the league standings. Klaus passed to Kowalski for one extra point and kicked the other himself after his first try to score by running had failed.

Grant touchdowns were scored by Ed Forman on a 77 yard run with a recovered fumble by Bob Klaus on a two yard plunge, and by Dick Goodwin on a seven yard line buck. Wauconda scored twice in the opening period on a one yard plunge by Don Smith and a 30 yard run through center by fullback Bill Simms. In the final minute of play a pass from Weinberg to Gene Jaskot paid off.

Both teams had a total net from scrimmage of 169 yards giving an indication of just how closely the game was played. Bob Klaus gained 116 of the Grant yardage.

Juggled Ball Sets Winning TD As Heights Cops 1st Win

A hot potato juggled by four Arlington and two Glenbard football players, with the Cards the winners, set up the winning (and only) touchdown of the Arlington homecoming affair Friday night, the locals winning, 7-0.

Arlington had punted from its own 47 to the Bards' 15, which was run back to the 20. Helledy carried to the 25. Then came the bouncing ball, tapped back and forth until the ref's whistle blew and it was Arlington's ball, first and ten, on the Glenbard eight.

Wayne Malzahn carried to the three. Denny Maher snuck to the one. Malzahn plunged across with Lew Green kicking the extra point.

REST OF THE GAME was an even affair, though much of the play was in Glenbard's end of the field. After an exchange of punts Glenbard moved from its own 35 to midfield, then punted. After a penalty shoved Arlington back to its eight, the Cardinals went nowhere, punted, held Glenbard, went backwards, punted, etc.

First of two sustained drives by Heights came in the second quarter. Starting from their own 14, the Cardinals racked up three first downs but were penalized and pushed back to their own 47.

A bit later the visitors, starting from their own 31, drove to the Heights 22 but fumbled. They intercepted a pass at the 37 and brought the ball to the 20 but three incompleted passes ended the half.

SECOND HALF found the line of scrimmage stretching from the Bards' 30 to the Cardinals' 35 with a 25 yard drive by the losers being stopped going into the fourth quarter.

Arlington was back on its heels the final stanza, but stopped Glenbard on the Heights seven, then drove to the 34 in nine plays, when forced to punt. Glenbard brought the ball from its own 36 to the Heights 26 but Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's charges held and the game was over.

Glenbard won in first downs, 10-6, but lost the passing parade with one completion in 11 attempts. Heights made good on one of two tosses. Glenbard fumbled twice, both of them picked up by the winners, plus one of their own.

Arlington Harriers Lose To Glenbard

Arlington's John Sheppard copped first place in a cross country meet with Glenbard last week, but it was all-Glenbard from then on as the visitors took the next five places for the meet, 20-41.

Sheppard ran the special short course in 8:20. Regular distance was not available due to neither Glenbard nor Arlington having swimming on their athletic program this year.

Point winners for Glenbard were Shepherd, Pond, Whitehead, Dodd and Morgan. Counting for Arlington Heights were Lodiegard Reinke 7th, Ray Hornbostel 10th, Bill Palmer 11th and John Landmeier 12th.

Winterbauer Named Co-Captain Frosh Football At Yale

Richard H. Winterbauer, quarterback of Arlington Heights, and center Peter Wight of Frederick, Md., have been elected co-captains of Yale's freshman football team.

The bullpups opened the campaign against Columbia to score a 16-6 decision. Winterbauer, an all-state nominee at Arlington, passed for a touchdown, scored another and booted a field goal in the contest. Wight, all-county and all-state while competing for Lawrenceville, was the starting center in the decision over the Lions. Saturday, the Yale frosh met Cornell in New Haven.

Winterbauer was quarterback at Arlington Heights high school three years, and also with the freshman team. In addition he participated in basketball, was state shot put champion, and holds the state record. Last spring he won the national discus title. He was president of his freshman class.

At Yale Dick is majoring in liberal arts. His father, Henry T. Winterbauer, was a scholastic all-state performer in basketball and played the sport at the University of Illinois.

Ela-Vernon Starts Fast To Defeat Bensenville, 14-6

by ELI WHITNEY

Bensenville Bisons succumbed to the Ela-Vernon Bears, 14-6, Friday under the lights at Memorial field.

Bisons kicked off to the Bears, who didn't waste time in starting a drive. Several running plays soon advanced Ela to Bensenville's two yard line. Halfback Risi pierced the middle of the line to score. J. Tenner playing fullback position ran the ball for the extra points.

SECOND QUARTER found Bensenville in possession and on the go. But at Ela's 7 yard line two penalties prevented the Bisons from crossing the goal marker. The Bears' attempt to move from there failed and Bensenville caught Ela's point on the 50.

With several runs by halfback Butch D'Hooge and a penalty on Ela Vernon, Coach Tom Meneguin's grid team worked to Ela's 12. D'Hooge then raced around right end to tally. An attempted pass for the extra point was incomplete. Score at the half was 7-6, Ela-Vernon.

BENSENVILLE received to start the second half but didn't gain enough yardage to keep the ball. Ela took over and proceeded to Bensenville's 35. Risi again hit paydirt for the Bears as he covered the remaining 35 yards. Tenner plunged through mid-line to rack up his second extra point of the evening.

The count remained 14-6 through the last quarter.

Of Ela's 204 yards rushing halfback Risi gained 126. Bensenville's yard gainer was Butch D'Hooge, halfback, who ran 97 of the total 113. The Bisons won the first downs count 9-8.

Grayslake Fumbles Pave Way For Palatine Victory

Grayslake fumbles and an 83 yard kickoff return for a touchdown by Alan Eck were the features in Palatine's 18-9 homecoming victory Saturday afternoon. Palatine played their poorest ball game of the season and might have lost but for breaks in the form of opposition fumbles, which set up two first half touchdowns.

Grayslake, still seeking their first victory, had the edge in the statistics in every department including fumbles, of which Palatine recovered five to either set up their own scoring or stop the Rams' drives to the goal.

FIRST BREAK came midway in the opening period when Thompson recovered a Grayslake fumble on their own 45. Penning hit the line for three and McClung got five on line plays. Then Bruce McClung circled end for 17 and first down on the 20. After Eck failed to gain Dilks made eight and Cornwell two for first down on the 10. Alan Eck then broke through tackle and cut wide to score. A fake kick with a pass found no one going out to receive for the point after touchdown.

A little later the Grayslake center made a bad pass over the punter's head and Palatine recovered on the Rams' five. After four plays which included a fumble which lost 10 yards Palatine gave up the ball on the Grayslake one yard line. On the first play the Rams fumbled it back to Palatine on the two. McClung plunged over for the Pirates on the first play. Cornwell's kick was wide.

JUST BEFORE the half Palatine was pushed back to their own six on penalties after Hillesheim had recovered a fumble to stop a Grayslake drive on the Pirate 26. On fourth down Hillesheim centered the ball over Eck's head and over the end zone for an automatic safety making the score at the half 12-2.

At the start of the second half Grayslake drove all the way to the Palatine 22 but Palatine got out of danger due to a 36 yard run by Bruce McClung.

Soon afterward Moore of Grayslake intercepted a pass on the Palatine 48 and the Rams marched to a touchdown. A 29 yard run by Laske featured the drive and the same lad scored on an off tackle plunge from the six yard stripe and Beck converted.

WITH THE COUNT 12-9 Grayslake was fired up and back in the ball game but their enthusiasm was dimmed immediately for Alan Eck ran the kick off back 83 yards to run the smore to 18-9. The visitors later marched from their own 40 to Palatine's 30, recovered a fumble later on the Palatine 33 and went to the 17.

The Rams outgained the Pirates 192 yards to 103 from scrimmage and had an edge of 8-4 on first downs. Larry Laske of the Rams gained a total of 116 yards. Bruce McClung led the Pirates with 60 yards. Palatine's best effort, the 83 yard kickoff return by Eck, does not show in the statistics. Douglas Hildebrandt was the only consistent lineman for Palatine in tackling and blocking and he had a very good day.

Heights Frosh Lose, 7-0, To La Grange

A lax third quarter cost the Arlington Heights freshman football team the ball game Wednesday on the local field with LaGrange the winner, 7-0. Marrifield plunged eight yards for the only score of the game with an end run around the right side counting the extra point.

Coach Curtis Larsen's young Cardinals started fast. Receiving the kickoff the locals moved rapidly down the field to the LaGrange 15 but fumbled. Heights drove again at the end of the second quarter covering 35 yards to the LaGrange 20, but time ran out.

Starting the third period, LaGrange had first and ten on the Arlington five, was pushed back to the eight in three plays, but a final thrust paid off with what proved to be the winning touchdown.

FUMBLES at crucial moments cost Arlington several opportunities, the young Cardinals recovering just three of five miscues. Other than the third quarter, though, Arlington looked improved. Both teams played well with fumbles and penalties hurting LaGrange, too.

Co-coaches Larsen and Howard Lester worked on pass protection Monday. The passers have been running out of the pocket, though, and losing the advantage of protection. Statistics were fairly even with LaGrange leading in first downs, 9-6, and in passes with 3 of 6, while Heights completed four of ten.

Baked Shaggy Manes

The Shaggy Manes are a species of wild mushroom that stay with us until late frost and the big, hollow, creamy white fellows—sometimes 6 to 8 inches long—are among the finest flavored of the entire mushroom clan.

They can be stewed like the other members of the Inky Cap family, or they can be baked, the latter method being the more satisfactory with the larger specimens.

Slice, season with salt and pepper and lay in a buttered baking dish in alternate layers with buttered bread crumbs, and bake 25 to 30 minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees). To make buttered bread crumbs, dry stale bread (crusts removed) thoroughly in a slow oven, then roll and sift. For each ¼ cup crumbs, melt 1 teaspoon butter and mix carefully. Scientific name of the Shaggy Manes is "Coprinus Comatus."

Henriksen Leads Bison Frosh-Sophs Over Ela, 25-7

by MAX ZOLLNER

Bensenville's Sophs rolled over Ela Vernon, 25-7, under the lights on the Bisons field. Highlighting the evening for B'ville was quarterback Lars Henriksen doing a magnificent job on both defense and offense, plus scoring four touchdowns.

After a fast, scoreless first period the young Bisons found themselves thirty - nine yards from paydirt. Lars Henriksen brought the Bisons their first tally on a thirty yard sprint and seven yard plunge. A pass from Lars Henriksen to Ken Cooper clicked to raise the score another notch.

IN THE SAME quarter Lars Henriksen intercepted a short flat pass intended for Kuciak of Ela and with the aid of some fine blocking raced into the end zone. But due to penalties against both teams the touchdown was nullified. On the following play Lars Henriksen again intercepted a same type of pass and scored, making the count 13-0.

Having pushed the Bears back to their own twelve yard line in the third stanza, Ken Cooper of the Bisons recovered a fumble to start another Bensenville attack. Bob Fritz of B'ville fought his way to the two from where Lars Henriksen scored again on a quarterback sneak.

EDWIN HASELIUS blocked an attempted Ela punt in the final tempted Ela punt in the final period, opening up another scoring possibility. Taking advantage of the situation Bill Emory moved the ball to the three. Lars Henriksen then crashed into the end zone for his fourth touchdown.

Coming to life in the fourth period the young Bears scored their only tally. Quarterback Eickman fired a short pass to Buciak who covered the remaining yardage. Kronn converted to make the final score Bensenville 25, Ela-Vernon 7.

JUST DOGS

What Do You Know?

Having done a lot of writing on the subject of dogs over the past years your editor has decided to put the shoe on the other foot and let his readers do a little work for a change.

Everybody knows a great deal about the family pooch, but how well informed are you about the dog world in general. Taken from some recent material issued during National Dog Week is the following short quiz which you will find the answers for elsewhere in the paper. Allow yourself two points for each question below. If your score comes to 36 or more, you should start a kennel. Obedience Classes

A week or so ago, I was asked just how many obedience training schools there are in the country. If fifty years ago, someone had asked the question or perhaps said the day would come when there would be schools for dogs just as there are for children, no one would have believed it.

Today there are over 700 schools in this country which are organized more or less on a non-profit basis with the main purpose in mind of teaching the owner how he can train his dog to act with with good manners in the home, in the company of other people and in all situations. An untrained dog takes you for a walk, you do not take him.

Also the trained dog behaves as he should, minds his own business, barks only for good reasons and keeps his feet on the ground instead of on a visitor—or your best suit or dress.

International K.C.

The International Kennel Club show which will be held this coming year on April 2 and 3, 1955, has already announced the judges for the event.

They will come from 10 states and Canada to do the job of picking from some 2000 dogs the best in the show. The final job of picking from the last six dogs representing the six basic groups the best in show will fall to the veteran Canadian all-rounder, Walter Reeves, of Clarkson, Ontario.

Fieldale

The paper will have gone to press by the time the exhibition of field dogs will have taken place over at Fieldale. The event was to start at 1:30 p.m. this past Wednesday and if you were able to attend you had a chance to see some pretty fine dogs in action.

Palatine Sophs Lose To Grayslake, But Frosh Win, 21-12

Palatine frosh-sophs dropped a 13-6 game to Grayslake Monday afternoon at Community park while the freshmen were winning, 21-12, up at Grayslake. Grayslake sophs had a 6-0 lead at the half but Palatine outplayed the visitors the second half with a number of scoring opportunities but put over only one touchdown.

Palatine frosh trailed 12-7 at the half but came back strong to score in both the third and fourth quarters. Dick Wisner got two touchdowns for the first year Pirates on runs of five and nine yards and Bill Huffman got the other on a seven yard plunge. Palatine's starting lineup was Hertz, Danforth, King, Howes, Segebrecht, Fredrichs, Helms, Wisner, Lemanski, Etchingham, and Huffman.

Last week Palatine frosh lost at Glenbrook 19-0 and at Crystal Lake 14-6.

Wheeling And St. Paul Lead Softball Race

Glenbard Ties Heights Frosh-Sophs In 6-6 Affair

Glenbard threatened three of four quarters against Arlington Heights high school frosh-sophs Friday night, but scored only once to tie Coach John Ligon's sophomores, 6-6. The tie moved the locals to a half game ahead of last place.

An Arlington fumble on its own 29 gave Glenbard the ball on the 26, the visitors moving to the seven, where they were held. They again took the ball on the 41 and moved to the 21 when the quarter ended, but lost out when a Jacobsen pass was intercepted on the 44.

A pass from Biederman to Inglis moved the ball to the Heights 20, but a fumble put Arlington back in control. A punt helped but another pass interception gave Glenbard the ball on the locals' 45. From there the young Bards moved up, aided by a Biederman-Finch pass, to the 21. In six more plays Rich Edwards skirted right end for a TD.

THE VISITORS made two kicks for point after, but both were erased by offsides penalties. Third time they attempted to pass, which was no good.

Immediately after, Jack Palmer raced past the Glenbard defense to grab Jacobsen's long pass and raced the last 28 yards for a touchdown, the play covering 51 yards. Extra point was missed when a run around right end gained only one yard.

From then on Arlington moved from its 28 to the Glenbard 46 when an intercepted pass killed Heights chances. Glenbard moved to the Heights 25 when the locals took over on downs. The young Cardinals stalled, punted, picked up a Bard fumble, moved to the 47, punted then held Glenbard near midfield.

Glenbard led in first downs, 9-4, and yards rushing, 102-47. The Bards connected on two of three passes, Arlington two of ten. Three pass interceptions stopped the Bards three times.

Ironically enough, in 1954, when they missed their first pennant in six seasons, the New York Yankees won more games than in any of their five flag-winning years under Manager Casey Stengel, reveals The Sporting News. The Yankees won 103 games this year, to finish runnerup to Cleveland's 111.

Henriksen Leads Bison Frosh-Sophs Over Ela, 25-7

by MAX ZOLLNER

Bensenville's Sophs rolled over Ela Vernon, 25-7, under the lights on the Bisons field. Highlighting the evening for B'ville was quarterback Lars Henriksen doing a magnificent job on both defense and offense, plus scoring four touchdowns.

After a fast, scoreless first period the young Bisons found themselves thirty - nine yards from paydirt. Lars Henriksen brought the Bisons their first tally on a thirty yard sprint and seven yard plunge. A pass from Lars Henriksen to Ken Cooper clicked to raise the score another notch.

IN THE SAME quarter Lars Henriksen intercepted a short flat pass intended for Kuciak of Ela and with the aid of some fine blocking raced into the end zone. But due to penalties against both teams the touchdown was nullified. On the following play Lars Henriksen again intercepted a same type of pass and scored, making the count 13-0.

Having pushed the Bears back to their own twelve yard line in the third stanza, Ken Cooper of the Bisons recovered a fumble to start another Bensenville attack. Bob Fritz of B'ville fought his way to the two from where Lars Henriksen scored again on a quarterback sneak.

EDWIN HASELIUS blocked an attempted Ela punt in the final tempted Ela punt in the final period, opening up another scoring possibility. Taking advantage of the situation Bill Emory moved the ball to the three. Lars Henriksen then crashed into the end zone for his fourth touchdown.

Coming to life in the fourth period the young Bears scored their only tally. Quarterback Eickman fired a short pass to Buciak who covered the remaining yardage. Kronn converted to make the final score Bensenville 25, Ela-Vernon 7.

What Do You Know?

Having done a lot of writing on the subject of dogs over the past years your editor has decided to put the shoe on the other foot and let his readers do a little work for a change.

Everybody knows a great deal about the family pooch, but how well informed are you about the dog world in general. Taken from some recent material issued during National Dog Week is the following short quiz which you will find the answers for elsewhere in the paper. Allow yourself two points for each question below. If your score comes to 36 or more, you should start a kennel. Anything over 20 is a respectable score, but if your total is less than 10, you're in our doghouse.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The fact that purification of thought and action removes the obstacles to individual growth, progress, and salvation, will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday, October 24.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation After Death" is the Golden Text from James (1:12): "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (492:7-12):

"Being is holiness, harmony, immortality. It is already proved that a knowledge of this, even in small degree, will uplift the physical and moral standard of mortals, will increase longevity, will purify and elevate character. Thus progress will finally destroy all error, and bring immortality to light."

From the Bible the following selections will be read (Philippians 3:13,14):

"Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

Most of the political writers maintain that this off-year election is likely to be decided on local issues and personalities rather than on national issues. If this is true, it ought to be a matter of great concern to thoughtful persons. The presumption of the political analysts is that the elections are likely to be decided by the faithful members of either party.

Questions like the control of Congress and the foreign policy programs should not be decided by faithful members of a party. They ought to be decided by the thinking electorate taking its responsibility seriously.

SOME OF YOU may remember that particularly pointed prayer by Peter Marshall, when he was chaplain of the Senate, at the time of the discussion on the Marshall Plan, seeking the help of God "that we might not do the right things for the wrong reasons." Peter Marshall was one chaplain of a House of Congress who conceived his duty as an expression of the prophetic function. Without partisan appeal or improper relating of himself to political issues, he managed to convey to the Senators through the prayers that there was a moral issue involved in their discussions and deliberations.

The great contrast between the American democracy and the French democracy helps to point up this fact of moral responsibility. We have only to recognize the maturity of much of our discussion in contrast with the immaturity of French decisions in the post-war era to see that there are basic differences.

The French democracy was built on a great faith in the intelligence of man. Man was able to do all things through a pure and unsullied reason which had only to be freed from ancient fetters in order to bring in a new era of goodwill. This is also the philosophic base from which Karl Marx took his departure for the organization of a new era.

The American democracy was built on a faith in the Redeemer of sinful men. Reinhold Niebuhr has made it clear in one sentence: "Man's capacity for justice makes democracy possible; but man's inclination to injustice makes democracy necessary." The Puritan conscience from which our democracy stems did not trust man without checks and balances.

THIS, IT SEEMS to me, is one important reason why as citizens and as Christians we ought never to approach any election in casual or perfunctory manner.

The publicitors tell me this is National Nurse Week because Florence Nightingale's birthday is this week. Florence turned up in a Sunday school lesson, the other week, as "the Lady with the candle." The teacher asked, "Does anybody know anything about the lady with the candle." A junior girl replied brightly, "She was on television last night." (NBC's spectacular, "Lady in the Dark," with Ann Sothern.)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The fact that purification of thought and action removes the obstacles to individual growth, progress, and salvation, will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday, October 24.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation After Death" is the Golden Text from James (1:12): "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (492:7-12):

"Being is holiness, harmony, immortality. It is already proved that a knowledge of this, even in small degree, will uplift the physical and moral standard of mortals, will increase longevity, will purify and elevate character. Thus progress will finally destroy all error, and bring immortality to light."

From the Bible the following selections will be read (Philippians 3:13,14):

"Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

Most of the political writers maintain that this off-year election is likely to be decided on local issues and personalities rather than on national issues. If this is true, it ought to be a matter of great concern to thoughtful persons. The presumption of the political analysts is that the elections are likely to be decided by the faithful members of either party.

Questions like the control of Congress and the foreign policy programs should not be decided by faithful members of a party. They ought to be decided by the thinking electorate taking its responsibility seriously.

SOME OF YOU may remember that particularly pointed prayer by Peter Marshall, when he was chaplain of the Senate, at the time of the discussion on the Marshall Plan, seeking the help of God "that we might not do the right things for the wrong reasons." Peter Marshall was one chaplain of a House of Congress who conceived his duty as an expression of the prophetic function. Without partisan appeal or improper relating of himself to political issues, he managed to convey to the Senators through the prayers that there was a moral issue involved in their discussions and deliberations.

The great contrast between the American democracy and the French democracy helps to point up this fact of moral responsibility. We have only to recognize the maturity of much of our discussion in contrast with the immaturity of French decisions in the post-war era to see that there are basic differences.

The French democracy was built on a great faith in the intelligence of man. Man was able to do all things through a pure and unsullied reason which had only to be freed from ancient fetters in order to bring in a new era of goodwill. This is also the philosophic base from which Karl Marx took his departure for the organization of a new era.

The American democracy was built on a faith in the Redeemer of sinful men. Reinhold Niebuhr has made it clear in one sentence: "Man's capacity for justice makes democracy possible; but man's inclination to injustice makes democracy necessary." The Puritan conscience from which our democracy stems did not trust man without checks and balances.

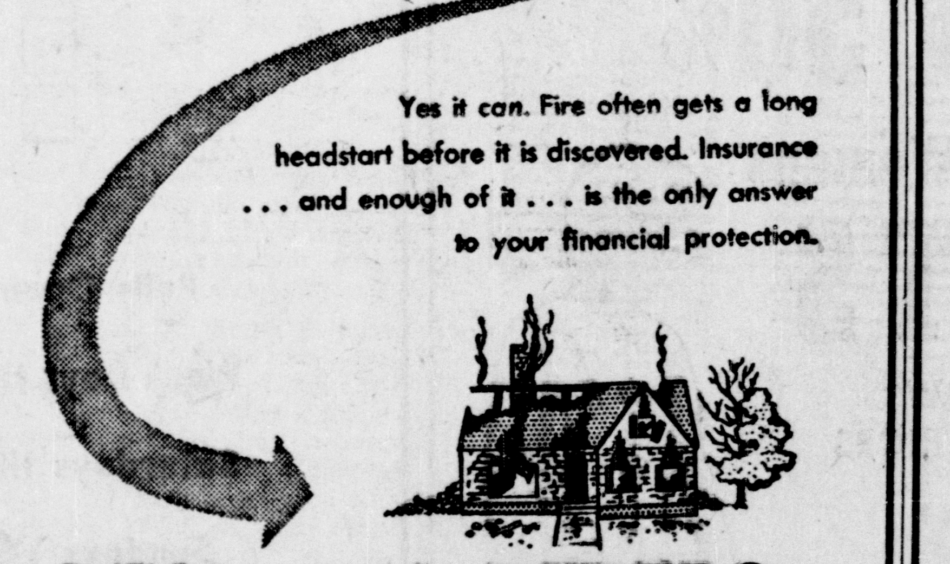
THIS, IT SEEMS to me, is one important reason why as citizens and as Christians we ought never to approach any election in casual or perfunctory manner.

The publicitors tell me this is National Nurse Week because Florence Nightingale's birthday is this week. Florence turned up in a Sunday school lesson, the other week, as "the Lady with the candle." The teacher asked, "Does anybody know anything about the lady with the candle." A junior girl replied brightly, "She was on television last night." (NBC's spectacular, "Lady in the Dark," with Ann Sothern.)



Can your house BURN OUT?

Yes it can. Fire often gets a long headstart before it is discovered. Insurance . . . and enough of it . . . is the only answer to your financial protection.

There is nothing like good times to start a boom in babies; no better way to give the clothing industry and didee washers a shot in the arm; and since babies have no union but work around the clock at the didee soiling business no better place to invest your money than a good, well managed didee wash.

Time was when Monday morning found clothes lines in back yards aflutter with these white, soft coverings for infant posteriors. Not so any more. Today, the smart mother simply drops the soiled diapers into a container left by her thoughtful didee wash man as they come off the production line, a smartly dressed driver picks them up, leaves a fresh supply, and that is that. No fuss, no work, no worry, and everyone is happy about the whole thing.

BABIES GET a good start in life these days. Born for the most part in clean, hygenic surroundings of the hospital, brought into the world by specialists in their line, fed on foods especially prepared on doctor's orders and which are sold over the counters of every grocery store and many drug stores, the little criters find growing healthy and strong as simple and natural as breathing.

It is only after baby grows out of the diaper and prepared diet stage that he runs into a snag; for many mothers are notoriously ignorant of the art of cooking, and even more so of the necessity of seeing that growing children get the proper foods and abundance of vitamins and minerals needed for strong bones, healthy bodies and keen minds. Otherwise good appetites are dulled at the corner candy store.

DEVITALIZED foods such as white bread and sugar, boughten cookies and cakes fail to give growing, active bodies the stuff they need to ward off disease, skin rashes, and in later life, ulcers, kidney and bladder trouble and other functional diseases. Habits of eating, likes and dislikes for foods are learned early and generally persist throughout a lifetime, making it necessary for physicians to supply the deficiences in late life with shots, medicines, and often surgery.

Diaper service and prepared baby foods are all to the good for children in their infancy up to two years; but after that, mothers are responsible for their food and eating habits and habits of good hygiene.

Illini Better, But Still Lose; Syracuse Next

Improvement of Illinois' football team against Minnesota last Saturday is reflected in statistics covering first four games of the 1954 season. Although opponents hold an edge over Illini in almost every department, this margin has been narrowed, and individual achievements of Coach Ray Eliot's gridders are considerably better.

J. C. Caroline still holds the lead in rushing, and his average has fallen slightly to 4.8, but more of his teammates are showing respectable marks following the fourth game. Four Illini now have rushing averages of 3.7 yards per try or better.

QUARTERBACK Em Lindbeck pushed his passing average to .471 after a weak start in first three games. Caroline took over the lead in punting. He now has an average of 44 yards per kick in eight attempts.

Punting is Illinois' strong point in team statistics. Caroline, Abe Woodson and Bob Gongola have averaged 40.1 yards in 20 attempts. Opponents show only a 28.3 average in 12 kicks.

Penn State, Stanford, Ohio State, and Minnesota, colectively, continue to show a large advantage over Illini in most departments. Illinois has been outrushed 1146 yards to 429. Opponents' passes have accounted for 293 yards to Illinois' 254.

Fumbleitis Key To Northwestern Grid Troubles

A Northwestern football team that attained its top offensive and defensive performance of the year while losing to Michigan, 7 to 0, last week, departs from Big Ten competition to meet Pittsburgh's resurgent Panthers at Pittsburgh Saturday, October 23.

It will be the fourth meeting between the two intersectional rivals in a series which finds the Wildcats leading with two victories against one for Pitt. The Panthers won the first game in 1949, 16 to 6, but the Wildcats won in 1950 by a score of 28 to 23 and again last year, 27-21.

BIGGEST PROBLEM confronting Northwestern this week will be devising ways and means of avoiding fumbles. Against Michigan, the Wildcats committed seven fumbles and lost the ball four times. One of the fumbles led to Michigan's game-winning touchdown as the Wolverines drove 24 yards to the goal after recovering a Purple bobble.

In four games to date, the Wildcats have fumbled 26 times and lost the ball 14 times. This total is only six less than Northwestern committed in nine games last season.

Aside from the fumble epidemic which has struck his young men, Coach Bob Voigts was pleased with the over all performance of the Wildcats. They rolled up 274 total yards to Michigan's 89 (63 by rushing and 26 by passing) and led in first downs 15-6. The Wolverines were held to a scant eight yards in the second half.

NORTHWESTERN'S rugged line turned in a masterful performance in bottling up the Wolverine attack which the previous week had upset Iowa, 14-13. The Wolverines were forced to punt 10 times against twice for the Wildcats.

Although the Woldcats have won but one game (Iowa State) against three defeats (Southern California, Minnesota and Michigan), they hold an edge in nearly every statistical department. They have made 64 first downs against 40 for their opponents lead in rushing 829 yards to 603 yards, and in passing, 275 yards to 226.

The Wildcat attack which moved into high gear against Michigan, is paced by Jim Troglio, left halfback, who possesses a 5.3 average per carry. He has gained 225 yards in 42 trips with the ball. He gained over half this total against Michigan when he rolled up 117 yards in 12 carries, including two runs of 62 and 29 yards.

Oct. 24-31 Is Blue Ballot Week Throughout Illinois

Governor William G. Stratton has proclaimed October 24-31 as Blue Ballot Week in Illinois.

In the proclamation, he called for public understanding of the Blue Ballot which will be submitted to Illinois voters at the November 2 general election.

Civic leaders representing diverse interests in Illinois were present when the Governor signed the Proclamation.

Mayors all over the state are also expected to proclaim Blue Ballot Week as part of the vigorous effort of supporters of the Reapportionment Amendment, which appear in the first column of the Blue Ballot, to build public understanding of the proposal to remap the state's legislative districts for the first time since 1901.

The other two amendments have attracted little, although considered worthy of support. One would permit the State Treasurer to serve four years instead of two years. The other would eliminate the present requirement that the Illinois-Michigan canal may be sold only with the specific approval of a majority of the voters at a general election.

The reapportionment is considered the most important issue on the Blue Ballot by civic and political leaders because it involved a fundamental principle of American government, the right to fair and equal representation in the legislature.

Governor Stratton and former Governor Adlai E. Stevenson have both called for support of the reapportionment amendment, calling it "one of the great opportunities of our lifetime to improve Illinois government."

Both political parties, which have endorsed the amendment, and the 78 business, labor, farm, professional civic organizations that are also supporting it are expected to participate in Blue Ballot Week activities.

A Blue Ballot "Tag Day" is set for October 29 at which time a million "Vote Yes" tags will be distributed throughout the state.

Only opposition to the amendment consists of Chicago's notorious "West Side Bloc," composed of the smallest districts in the state which would be broken up if the remap passes. In addition it is opposed by a group of downstate legislators. The downstaters argue that Chicago would control the legislature if the amendment passes.

Civic leaders, including officials of the Illinois Agricultural association, the House Bureau, the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, Bankers Association and other statewide groups say that this argument is completely false.

Accusing the opposition legislators of fighting remapping because of personal desires to maintain the present situation, these civic leaders point out that amendment gives downstate permanent control of the Senate.

The House, to be remapped every ten years on the basis of population, will give Cook county a mathematical edge of one district.

But downstate Blue Ballot supporters point out that most of the new House districts will go to suburban towns in Cook county which are primarily residential and which include "downstate thinking" people.

NORTHWESTERN'S rugged line turned in a masterful performance in bottling up the Wolverine attack which the previous week had upset Iowa, 14-13. The Wolverines were forced to punt 10 times against twice for the Wildcats.

Although the Woldcats have won but one game (Iowa State) against three defeats (Southern California, Minnesota and Michigan), they hold an edge in nearly every statistical department. They have made 64 first downs against 40 for their opponents lead in rushing 829 yards to 603 yards, and in passing, 275 yards to 226.

The Wildcat attack which moved into high gear against Michigan, is paced by Jim Troglio, left halfback, who possesses a 5.3 average per carry. He has gained 225 yards in 42 trips with the ball. He gained over half this total against Michigan when he rolled up 117 yards in 12 carries, including two runs of 62 and 29 yards.

Oct. 24-31 Is Blue Ballot Week Throughout Illinois

Governor William G. Stratton has proclaimed October 24-31 as Blue Ballot Week in Illinois.

In the proclamation, he called for public understanding of the Blue Ballot which will be submitted to Illinois voters at the November 2 general election.

Civic leaders representing diverse interests in Illinois were present when the Governor signed the Proclamation.

Mayors all over the state are also expected to proclaim Blue Ballot Week as part of the vigorous effort of supporters of the Reapportionment Amendment, which appear in the first column of the Blue Ballot, to build public understanding of the proposal to remap the state's legislative districts for the first time since 1901.

The other two amendments have attracted little, although considered worthy of support. One would permit the State Treasurer to serve four years instead of two years. The other would eliminate the present requirement that the Illinois-Michigan canal may be sold only with the specific approval of a majority of the voters at a general election.

THURSDAY, OCT. 21, 1954

The reapportionment is considered the most important issue on the Blue Ballot by civic and political leaders because it involved a fundamental principle of American government, the right to fair and equal representation in the legislature.

Governor Stratton and former Governor Adlai E. Stevenson have both called for support of the reapportionment amendment, calling it "one of the great opportunities of our lifetime to improve Illinois government."

Both political parties, which have endorsed the amendment, and the 78 business, labor, farm, professional civic organizations that are also supporting it are expected to participate in Blue Ballot Week activities.

A Blue Ballot "Tag Day" is set for October 29 at which time a million "Vote Yes" tags will be distributed throughout the state.

Only opposition to the amendment consists of Chicago's notorious "West Side Bloc," composed of the smallest districts in the state which would be broken up if the remap passes. In addition it is opposed by a group of downstate legislators. The downstaters argue that Chicago would control the legislature if the amendment passes.

Civic leaders, including officials of the Illinois Agricultural association, the House Bureau, the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, Bankers Association and other statewide groups say that this argument is completely false.

Accusing the opposition legislators of fighting remapping because of personal desires to maintain the present situation, these civic leaders point out that amendment gives downstate permanent control of the Senate.

The House, to be remapped every ten years on the basis of population, will give Cook county a mathematical edge of one district.

But downstate Blue Ballot supporters point out that most of the new House districts will go to suburban towns in Cook county which are primarily residential and which include "downstate thinking" people.

Favorites For Flavor

A recipe for fudge which never fails to be smooth and creamy is being shared with us by Mrs. Harry Pearson of 503 N. Haddow, Arlington Heights.

Easy to make, this delicious fudge does not require any beating, candy thermometer, or testing for the soft ball stage. And it is never grainy.

The recipe makes a large quantity, five pounds. Mrs. Pearson often sends this fudge to her son, Bob, who is a sophomore at Carleton college, and this is just the right amount to satisfy the appetites of all the hungry students who hear that Bob has received a box from home. The Pearsons also have a daughter, Janet, who is a high school freshman.

Another favorite recipe of Mrs. Pearson's, which she always serves during the holidays, is Christmas Ginger Ale Flip. This sparkling drink has a lot of zip, and contains cranberry juice, orange juice, lemon juice and ginger ale. Deep red in color, it is attractive as well as refreshing.

Fudge

3 packages chocolate bits
1 pint jar marshmallow whip
2 cups walnuts, cut in pieces
½ pound butter or margarine, cut in small pieces
2 teaspoons vanilla

Place ingredients in a large bowl and mix.

Into a large saucepan put:
1 tall can Carnation evaporated milk, less 4 tablespoons.
4½ cups sugar

Bring to a boil slowly, stirring constantly. After mixture comes to a boil, boil for exactly nine minutes.

Remove from heat, pour over other ingredients and stir well until all ingredients are melted.

Pour into greased cookie sheet. Makes a full cookie sheet, five pounds.

Christmas Ginger Ale Flip

2 cups cranberries
1 pint water
1 cup sugar
Juice of 2 lemons
Juice of 2 oranges
1 quart bottle ginger ale.

Boil cranberries in water until berries burst open. Add the sugar and strain.

Add the lemon and orange juice and just before serving add the ginger ale.

Mix together and serve with ice cubes.

Mrs. Pearson has devised a simplified method of preparing this drink. She uses:
1 bottle cranberry juice
4 tablespoons Realemon
1 cup frozen orange juice
1 quart ginger ale, added just before serving.

Soloist was Miss Carol Faulstich and organist, Elmer R. Jackisch. Palms, candelabra and bouquets of white mums decorated the altar and the pews were tied with satin bows.

Escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father, the bride wore a lace over satin gown fashioned with scalloped neckline and back-buttoned bodice. A headpiece of the same lace, trimmed with beading, held her 3-tiered fingertip veil in place. White fuji mums surrounding a white orchid made up her bridal bouquet.

Miss Adeline Kerschke, Mount Prospect, served as maid of honor to the bride and Mrs. Paul Walsh, cousin of the bride, from Glenview, as bridesmaid. Both wore identical gowns of pink irridescent crystalette fashioned with drop shoulder necklines and matching jackets. They wore headpieces to match their gowns with short veils. Their bouquets were of white fuji mums. A deep rose taffeta dress was worn by the bride's mother and a blue lace and crepe by the groom's mother. Both mothers wore corsages of baby orchids.

Edward and Don Welflin served their brother as best man and groomsman, respectively, and ushers were Rodger Kruse, Mt. Prospect and Robert Koelper, Wheeling.

Favorites For Flavor

A recipe for fudge which never fails to be smooth and creamy is being shared with us by Mrs. Harry Pearson of 503 N. Haddow, Arlington Heights.

Easy to make, this delicious fudge does not require any beating, candy thermometer, or testing for the soft ball stage. And it is never grainy.

The recipe makes a large quantity, five pounds. Mrs. Pearson often sends this fudge to her son, Bob, who is a sophomore at Carleton college, and this is just the right amount to satisfy the appetites of all the hungry students who hear that Bob has received a box from home. The Pearsons also have a daughter, Janet, who is a high school freshman.

Another favorite recipe of Mrs. Pearson's, which she always serves during the holidays, is Christmas Ginger Ale Flip. This sparkling drink has a lot of zip, and contains cranberry juice, orange juice, lemon juice and ginger ale. Deep red in color, it is attractive as well as refreshing.

Fudge

3 packages chocolate bits
1 pint jar marshmallow whip
2 cups walnuts, cut in pieces
½ pound butter or margarine, cut in small pieces
2 teaspoons vanilla

Place ingredients in a large bowl and mix.

Into a large saucepan put:
1 tall can Carnation evaporated milk, less 4 tablespoons.
4½ cups sugar

Bring to a boil slowly, stirring constantly. After mixture comes to a boil, boil for exactly nine minutes.

Remove from heat, pour over other ingredients and stir well until all ingredients are melted.

Christmas Ginger Ale Flip

2 cups cranberries
1 pint water
1 cup sugar
Juice of 2 lemons
Juice of 2 oranges
1 quart bottle ginger ale.

Boil cranberries in water until berries burst open. Add the sugar and strain.

Add the lemon and orange juice and just before serving add the ginger ale.

Mix together and serve with ice cubes.

Mrs. Pearson has devised a simplified method of preparing this drink. She uses:
1 bottle cranberry juice
4 tablespoons Realemon
1 cup frozen orange juice
1 quart ginger ale, added just before serving.

Tell Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar L. Baker, Pine lane, Bensenville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna, to James Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Scott, Arlington Heights. The couple has set February 12 as their wedding date.

Evelyn Hoch Becomes Mrs. Howard Welflin

St. Paul Lutheran church was the scene of a double ring ceremony October 9 in which Miss Evelyn Hoch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hoch, N. Pine, Mount Prospect, and Howard Welflin, son of Mrs. Nelda Welflin, Wheeling, repeated their marriage vows. The candlelight ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. J. E. A. Mueller.

Soloist was Miss Carol Faulstich and organist, Elmer R. Jackisch. Palms, candelabra and bouquets of white mums decorated the altar and the pews were tied with satin bows.

Escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father, the bride wore a lace over satin gown fashioned with scalloped neckline and back-buttoned bodice. A headpiece of the same lace, trimmed with beading, held her 3-tiered fingertip veil in place. White fuji mums surrounding a white orchid made up her bridal bouquet.

Miss Adeline Kerschke, Mount Prospect, served as maid of honor to the bride and Mrs. Paul Walsh, cousin of the bride, from Glenview, as bridesmaid. Both wore identical gowns of pink irridescent crystalette fashioned with drop shoulder necklines and matching jackets. They wore headpieces to match their gowns with short veils. Their bouquets were of white fuji mums. A deep rose taffeta dress was worn by the bride's mother and a blue lace and crepe by the groom's mother. Both mothers wore corsages of baby orchids.

Edward and Don Welflin served their brother as best man and groomsman, respectively, and ushers were Rodger Kruse, Mt. Prospect and Robert Koelper, Wheeling.

A reception for 400 guests was held in the Amvet hall. Among the guests was the bride's brother, Seaman Gary Hoch, who was on leave from San Diego.

The newlyweds will be residing in their new home in Wheeling after a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. The bride was employed by Dr. Seidel in his dentistry office and the groom is with the Illinois Bell Telephone company.

Girl Scouts

Tuesday was "graduation" day for Mrs. Gretchen White of Sigwalt street, Mrs. Ruthmary Jesperson of Meadow Drive and Mrs. Evelyn Zupan of George street. That was the day marking the completion of their Girl Scout leaders training course. The graduation celebration was appropriate for a Scouting training course —a "cook out" at Camp Pine, the Scout Camp at Euclid and Route 45.

The first Girl Scout troop committee meeting, to plan activities of the troop for the coming months, was held at the home of Mrs. White Tuesday evening. Besides Mrs. Jesperson and Mrs. Zupan, the other members of the troop committee were present. They are Mrs. Borgardt and Mrs. Kaiser of Wren Lane, Mrs. Johnson of Wilke road, and Mrs. Hvid of Oriole lane.

The Girl Scout troop, which is momentarily expecting to receive their assigned troop number, meets Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Community church, 2500 Meadow drive. To date there are 19 girls who have joined the troop, and they are pleased to have prospective new members attend their meetings. Any Rolling Meadows girl, from the ages of 10 to 14 years is eligible for membership, and Mrs. White, as Troop leader, would be glad to have girls who are interested in joining the troop either attend one of the meetings or call her at Clearbrook 3-0851. The girls have chosen red as their official scarf color, and are looking forward to procuring their uniforms in the near future. The troop has received their first "invitation" from another Scout Troop, and the girls are pleased and excited about it. One of the Girl Scout troops from Arlington Heights, through their leader Betty Huskey, has invited the Rolling Meadows Girl Scouts to a "cook out" November 6 (or November 20 in case of rain). The Rolling Meadows troop, being so recently organized, was more than pleased to receive this recognition and to accept the kind invitation.

Visitors

Pete and Eleanor Keller of Wilke road were hosts this week to Pete's brother, Major Joseph Keller, who was in Rolling Meadows for a brief visit before his expected overseas assignment. Major Keller is stationed at the present time at the U.S. Marine Corps base at Quantico, Virginia. Pete and Eleanor were especially happy to see Joe Keller on this visit since it was thought his trip to Rolling Meadows in June would be his last chance to see his family before going overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Singleton of 2107 Sigwalt street have been entertaining Earl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Singleton of Akron, Ohio. The [illegible] Singletons came to Rolling Meadows for a planned "working" visit to help Earl put up his garage and to do some work on the yard, but the current spell of damp weather has slowed the work program down a little. The rain outside, however, didn't dampen the spirits of little Debbie Singleton, who is 3 years old, and her parents Earl and Hope, when they helped Debbie's grandfather celebrate his birthday during his stay in Rolling Meadows.

Movie

Ed Jaske of Sigwalt street entertained a group of his neighbors last week. Ed managed to procure movies of the 1953 Chicago Bears football games, and the movies, together with the projector furnished by Joel Meyer of George street, made an unbeatable combination.

Birthday Celebrations

Bob Meyers of 2502 Sigwalt street celebrated his birthday last Saturday evening with a gathering of friends and relatives.

The privilege of acting as hostess at a real "grown-up" dinner party was the birthday treat of Patti Doyle, the young daughter of John and Lucille Doyle, Wing street. Patti observed her seventh birthday October 14, by entertaining a total group of seven young people. The menu for the important banquet included fried chicken, french-fried potatoes, salad, cake and cocca. The list of guests for the dinner party included Patti's younger sister, Linda, Jan, Butch and Terry Christensen of Wing street, Lorretta Casey of Eastman street, and Sandra and Linda Maszk of Wing street.

A further observance of the important birthday was held for the family Friday evening. Patti's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rettig and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schill came all the way from Chicago to Rolling Meadows to see their granddaughter on her birthday. Also on hand for the celebration were Patti's aunts and uncles—Pat Doyle, with Miss Donna Jacobson; Mr. and Mrs. Laspesa (Kathleen Doyle) and their son, Michel; Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Shill and Mr. and Mrs. John Shill.

Your Dog?

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder" they say, and that's particularly true when it comes to having dogs wander over your yards. It's amazing how much more attractive that "dog next door" can be when he is properly penned or leashed. Not only are free-running dogs, no matter how good natured, a menace to small children, but no one appreciates having his newly seeded lawn dug up—or his best new evergreen used as a substitute for the lamp posts we don't have. While Rolling Meadows may be merely a "country area" and some few people may feel living in the country gives them freedom to let their dogs run free, fortunately, county laws make rabies shots for all house pets compulsory, and prohibit the free-running of dogs. They must be penned, leashed or muzzled, and failure to comply with these laws can result in having your pet picked up.

Community Church Food Sale

The ladies of the Community church held their food sale last Saturday at the Community church building at 2500 Meadow drive. It was a great success, and approximately $80 was added to the ladies treasury for their many projects. The ladies of the church have expressed their sincere appreciation to their many friends and neighbors who contributed so generously to the food supplies which were sold, and to the many, many others who attended the sale as purchasers.

Accidents

Rolling Meadowites are urged to be extremely cautious with their many gas appliances, and to continuously guard against the danger of igniting accummulated gas. Last week Mrs. Joe McGovern of Wilke road was in the process of baking some biscuits for supper—unfortunately, the oven did not properly light when Mrs. McGovern thought it was on. Later, in the course of trying to light it the gas exploded, and Mrs. McGovern was badly burned. The fast action of her husband in beating out the fire in her hair and quick application of grease has minimized the injuries, but Mrs. McGovern will be recuperating from her painful experience for some time.

Mrs. Alice Farrell of Campbell street last week detected the strong smell of gas in her home, too. Fearing an explosion caused by the many pilot lights in the gas appliances in the house, Mrs. Farrell quickly removed herself and the children from the house. She called upon her neighbor, Joe Katkus who called the Public Service company. They instructed Mr. Katkus on how to turn off the gas at the main switch, and then quickly sent a serviceman. It was discovered that the gas line leading to the hot water tank had become completely broken, and gas was simply pouring into the house. The action by Mrs. Farrell and Mr. Katkus eliminated an explosion, which according to the Public service company could easily have occurred had the situation been allowed to continue for any length of time.

American Legion

The Merle Guild Post 208 of the American Legion has extended an invitation to all Rolling Meadows veterans and their friends to attend the Legion Halloween dance October 30. The dance has been planned as a costume party, and prizes will be given for the best outfits, but "dressing up" is not one of the requisites for admission. The dance will be held at the Legion hall in Arlington Heights, at 121 N. Douglas street. The tickets to the dance are only $2 per couple. Art Nelson, the Commander of the Post, and Don Giese, publicity chairman, sincerely hope that many Rolling Meadows veterans will take advantage of the dance to become better acquainted with the post and their activities. Any veteran who is interested in joining the post can contact Nelson, Giese or Harold Klingner, who is in charge of membership. Klingner's address and telephone number are 321 W. Euclid street and Clearbrook 3-3911.

Traveling

Floods and "Hurricane Hazel" had a slightly dampening effect on the short vacation trip of Fran and Bill Lortie of 2306 Sigwalt street—but in spite of it all they had a grand visit with Bill's brother and his family in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The family left little Nancy, who is only 9 months old, in the care of her grandparents, but Dawn, who is 2 years old, made the trip with them. Weather troubles seemed to make the trip too. The Lorties had to begin their travels with a detour because of the flooded highways in Indiana and then hit "Hurricane Hazel" when they were crossing the Blue Ridge Mountains. By the time they got to Winston-Salem, however, the storm had subsided and everyone had a wonderful visit—especially Dawn, who had four little cousins to play with. The return mountain trip was made through the Smokies.

Card Club

The organization of a new card club is still being promoted by Mrs. Dolores Szwiec of 2504 Fremont street. Anyone interested in joining with a group of eight women to play canasta or "rekop" rummy once a month, please contact Mrs. Szwiec at Clearbrook 5-0737.

Cub Scouts

An important meeting was held last week with the Cub Scout committee members and Den mothers. The Den mothers for the three Dens organized to date are Mrs. Garrity of South street, Mrs. Sladek of George street and Mrs. Keller of Wilke road. Acting as assistant Den Mothers are Mrs. Grunwald of Campbell street and Mrs. Greisman of George street. The schedule of Den meetings will be given in the column in the near future. In the meantime, any boy from Rolling Meadows between the ages of 8 and 11 years is invited to join the Cub Scout organization. If further information regarding this Scouting work is desired, parents or tentative Cub Scouts are invited to call Bill Croutch, Cub Scout committee chairman, at Clearbrook 5-0851.

Anniversary

The sports-minded Fred Schultz family celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary last Saturday by attending a football game. Peg and "Bud" Schultz claimed that they were the only two people in the Northwestern stands at Dyche stadium last Saturday who were routing for Michigan. Their favorite didn't let them down, either—Michigan won the game you know at a score of 7 to 0.

Little League

The Little League of Rolling Meadows has officially submitted their application for franchise to the Little League National Headquarters in Williamsport, Pennsylvania. The "men behind the boys" and the boys themselves are now eagerly awaiting their league approval and franchise.

At an executive meeting held Sunday, the managers and coaches for the four Little League teams were appointed. These men are: Hedlin Dairy Cubs—Bill Hickey, manager, and Sy Petzel, coach; Kimball Hill White Sox—Ralph Dowling, manager, and Art Nyblin, coach; Inland Sewer & Water Co. Cardinals—Joseph Wrenn, manager, and James Kinnard, coach; and Jim's Service station Braves — Bob Kreutz, manager, and George Mahoney, coach. Also appointed at the executive meeting were the official Little League scorers for the coming season. They are Roy Chalfont and Al Haase. The "Hot Stove League" this winter will naturally have the active participation of these men, as well as the executives of the Little League organization. This coming spring should show a well-planned and well-rounded baseball program well developed for Rolling Meadows boys from the ages of 7 through 15 years.

The Barn

The "Barn" which has been donated to the Community church by Kimball Hill & associates, and which will be used for all forms of civic meetings as well, has finally started to take on its promised spic-and-span and renovated condition. Last Saturday the Palatine township fire department supplied one of their hose trucks with two firemen, and with the assistance of several volunteers from Rolling Meadows, they washed down the Barn—from top to bottom. The "fresh fertilizer" smell has left the building, and they are now ready to make real progress in their rebuilding program. Remember, this building is to be used by almost every civic group in Rolling Meadows — the Scouts, the Home Owners' association, Little League, and many others. Before any type of meetings whatsoever can be held there, however, a great deal of work is needed to rebuild and renovate the building — that's where you come in! If you can donate only one hour a week, please come out. Every little bit helps! The "Barn" is located on Kirchoff road about one block west of Meadow drive, behind that beautiful white colonial style home. How about it — would you like to do your share to help — they can certainly use your assistance. Let's show some of our much-bragged of civic spirit and have that barn in top-notch shape ahead of schedule!

Birthday Celebrations

The privilege of acting as hostess at a real "grown-up" dinner party was the birthday treat of Patti Doyle, the young daughter of John and Lucille Doyle, Wing street. Patti observed her seventh birthday October 14, by entertaining a total group of seven young people. The menu for the important banquet included fried chicken, french-fried potatoes, salad, cake and cocca. The list of guests for the dinner party included Patti's younger sister, Linda, Jan, Butch and Terry Christensen of Wing street, Lorretta Casey of Eastman street, and Sandra and Linda Maszk of Wing street.

A further observance of the important birthday was held for the family Friday evening. Patti's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rettig and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schill came all the way from Chicago to Rolling Meadows to see their granddaughter on her birthday. Also on hand for the celebration were Patti's aunts and uncles—Pat Doyle, with Miss Donna Jacobson; Mr. and Mrs. Laspesa (Kathleen Doyle) and their son, Michel; Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Shill and Mr. and Mrs. John Shill.

Your Dog?

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder" they say, and that's particularly true when it comes to having dogs wander over your yards. It's amazing how much more attractive that "dog next door" can be when he is properly penned or leashed. Not only are free-running dogs, no matter how good natured, a menace to small children, but no one appreciates having his newly seeded lawn dug up—or his best new evergreen used as a substitute for the lamp posts we don't have. While Rolling Meadows may be merely a "country area" and some few people may feel living in the country gives them freedom to let their dogs run free, fortunately, county laws make rabies shots for all house pets compulsory, and prohibit the free-running of dogs. They must be penned, leashed or muzzled, and failure to comply with these laws can result in having your pet picked up.

Community Church Food Sale

The ladies of the Community church held their food sale last Saturday at the Community church building at 2500 Meadow drive. It was a great success, and approximately $80 was added to the ladies treasury for their many projects. The ladies of the church have expressed their sincere appreciation to their many friends and neighbors who contributed so generously to the food supplies which were sold, and to the many, many others who attended the sale as purchasers.

Accidents

Rolling Meadowites are urged to be extremely cautious with their many gas appliances, and to continuously guard against the danger of igniting accummulated gas. Last week Mrs. Joe McGovern of Wilke road was in the process of baking some biscuits for supper—unfortunately, the oven did not properly light when Mrs. McGovern thought it was on. Later, in the course of trying to light it the gas exploded, and Mrs. McGovern was badly burned. The fast action of her husband in beating out the fire in her hair and quick application of grease has minimized the injuries, but Mrs. McGovern will be recuperating from her painful experience for some time.

Mrs. Alice Farrell of Campbell street last week detected the strong smell of gas in her home, too. Fearing an explosion caused by the many pilot lights in the gas appliances in the house, Mrs. Farrell quickly removed herself and the children from the house. She called upon her neighbor, Joe Katkus who called the Public Service company. They instructed Mr. Katkus on how to turn off the gas at the main switch, and then quickly sent a serviceman. It was discovered that the gas line leading to the hot water tank had become completely broken, and gas was simply pouring into the house. The action by Mrs. Farrell and Mr. Katkus eliminated an explosion, which according to the Public service company could easily have occurred had the situation been allowed to continue for any length of time.

American Legion

The Merle Guild Post 208 of the American Legion has extended an invitation to all Rolling Meadows veterans and their friends to attend the Legion Halloween dance October 30. The dance has been planned as a costume party, and prizes will be given for the best outfits, but "dressing up" is not one of the requisites for admission. The dance will be held at the Legion hall in Arlington Heights, at 121 N. Douglas street. The tickets to the dance are only $2 per couple. Art Nelson, the Commander of the Post, and Don Giese, publicity chairman, sincerely hope that many Rolling Meadows veterans will take advantage of the dance to become better acquainted with the post and their activities. Any veteran who is interested in joining the post can contact Nelson, Giese or Harold Klingner, who is in charge of membership. Klingner's address and telephone number are 321 W. Euclid street and Clearbrook 3-3911.

Traveling

Floods and "Hurricane Hazel" had a slightly dampening effect on the short vacation trip of Fran and Bill Lortie of 2306 Sigwalt street—but in spite of it all they had a grand visit with Bill's brother and his family in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The family left little Nancy, who is only 9 months old, in the care of her grandparents, but Dawn, who is 2 years old, made the trip with them. Weather troubles seemed to make the trip too. The Lorties had to begin their travels with a detour because of the flooded highways in Indiana and then hit "Hurricane Hazel" when they were crossing the Blue Ridge Mountains. By the time they got to Winston-Salem, however, the storm had subsided and everyone had a wonderful visit —especially Dawn, who had four little cousins to play with. The return mountain trip was made through the Smokies.

Card Club

The organization of a new card club is still being promoted by Mrs. Dolores Szwiec of 2504 Fremont street. Anyone interested in joining with a group of eight women to play canasta or "rekop" rummy once a month, please contact Mrs. Szwiec at Clearbrook 5-0737.

Cub Scouts

An important meeting was held last week with the Cub Scout committee members and Den mothers. The Den mothers for the three Dens organized to date are Mrs. Garrity of South street, Mrs. Sladek of George street and Mrs. Keller of Wilke road. Acting as assistant Den Mothers are Mrs. Grunwald of Campbell street and Mrs. Greisman of George street. The schedule of Den meetings will be given in the column in the near future. In the meantime, any boy from Rolling Meadows between the ages of 8 and 11 years is invited to join the Cub Scout organization. If further information regarding this Scouting work is desired, parents or tentative Cub Scouts are invited to call Bill Croutch, Cub Scout committee chairman, at Clearbrook 5-0851.

Anniversary

The sports-minded Fred Schultz family celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary last Saturday by attending a football game. Peg and "Bud" Schultz claimed that they were the only two people in the Northwestern stands at Dyche stadium last Saturday who were routing for Michigan. Their favorite didn't let them down, either —Michigan won the game you know at a score of 7 to 0.

Little League

The Little League of Rolling Meadows has officially submitted their application for franchise to the Little League National Headquarters in Williamsport, Pennsylvania. The "men behind the boys" and the boys themselves are now eagerly awaiting their league approval and franchise.

At an executive meeting held Sunday, the managers and coaches for the four Little League teams were appointed. These men are: Hedlin Dairy Cubs—Bill Hickey, manager, and Sy Petzel, coach; Kimball Hill White Sox—Ralph Dowling, manager, and Art Nyblin, coach; Inland Sewer & Water Co. Cardinals—Joseph Wrenn, manager, and James Kinnard, coach; and Jim's Service station Braves — Bob Kreutz, manager, and George Mahoney, coach. Also appointed at the executive meeting were the official Little League scorers for the coming season. They are Roy Chalfont and Al Haase. The "Hot Stove League" this winter will naturally have the active participation of these men, as well as the executives of the Little League organization. This coming spring should show a well-planned and well-rounded baseball program well developed for Rolling Meadows boys from the ages of 7 through 15 years.

The Barn

The "Barn" which has been donated to the Community church by Kimball Hill & associates, and which will be used for all forms of civic meetings as well, has finally started to take on its promised spic-and-span and renovated condition. Last Saturday the Palatine township fire department supplied one of their hose trucks with two firemen, and with the assistance of several volunteers from Rolling Meadows, they washed down the Barn—from top to bottom. The "fresh fertilizer" smell has left the building, and they are now ready to make real progress in their rebuilding program. Remember, this building is to be used by almost every civic group in Rolling Meadows — the Scouts, the Home Owners' association, Little League, and many others. Before any type of meetings whatsoever can be held there, however, a great deal of work is needed to rebuild and renovate the building — that's where you come in! If you can donate only one hour a week, please come out. Every little bit helps! The "Barn" is located on Kirchoff road about one block west of Meadow drive, behind that beautiful white colonial style home. How about it — would you like to do your share to help — they can certainly use your assistance. Let's show some of our much-bragged of civic spirit and have that barn in top-notch shape ahead of schedule!

A personal car of distinction

...with Trigger-Torque performance

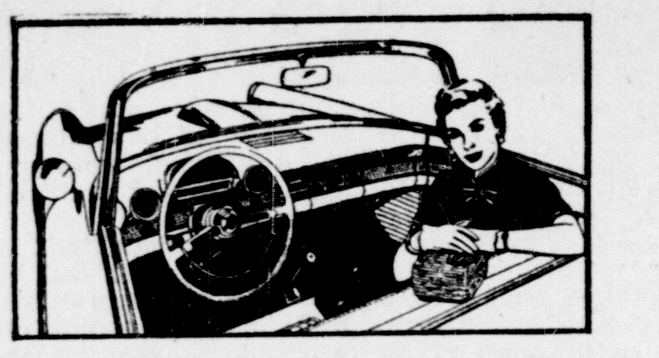

No matter what you have come to expect in a car, you'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top . . . and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned . . . power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up . . . by power, if you like. There is a tachometer . . . and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. The baggage compartment is ample. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. For here is a car you can drive with assurance and pleasure . . . for business or for recreation.

In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response . . . fleet, liquid agility . . . backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand.

Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And to enhance the performance characteristics of this brilliant V-8 engine, the Thunderbird provides special rear axle ratios to match the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Then, in the ride department, Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension really works wonders. It not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability. And when it comes to stopping, brakes are big and powerful.

But, more important is the way the Thunderbird is engineered, designed . . . and built! For it is the product of the same advanced engineering . . . the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

Real "Gas Buggies"

More busses were powered by liquefied petroleum last year than ever before. There was a 16 per-cent increase in the number of gas-powered busses in operation at the end of the year, and gas-burning busses rolled up a total of more than 60.5 million miles in 1954 to set an all-time high. Petroleum in its various forms breaks its own record for service to America's "rolling stock."

There was a nice turnout at the Mothers' club meeting last Thursday despite the bad weather. All members enjoyed the tour of the new building. Real "Gas Buggies"

More busses were powered by liquefied petroleum last year than ever before. There was a 16 per-cent increase in the number of gas-powered busses in operation at the end of the year, and gas-burning busses rolled up a total of more than 60.5 million miles in 1954 to set an all-time high. Petroleum in its various forms breaks its own record for service to America's "rolling stock."

Birthdays

Congratulations to Terri Larson who celebrated her ninth birthday Sunday. Her folks, the Raymond Larsons of Bob-O-Link, gave her a theatre party. The children went out for sodas and sundaes, then on to the Arlington theatre. Afterward they all returned to the Larsons to pick up their cake and a gift for each. We think Ethel Larson deserves congratulation too - it's a wonderful idea for a party with a minimum of wear and tear on mama. Present at the party were Marilyn Talo, Janice LeForge, Karen Bethke, and Meridith, Linda and Raymond Grisell.

Anniversary

Congratulations to Ann and Vic Incinelli of Bob-O—Link. They celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary October 7.

New Arrivals

Your reporter is writing this article in a hospital room at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. Yep, there is a new resident on Larkdale lane. We met the stork very early Wednesday morning just in time to have another daughter arrive. Her name is Donna Marie.

Marie and Henry Robotky brought their new arrival home this week. Richard James was born October 11 and weighed in at 7 pounds, 10 ounces. Congratulations folks!

The Ray Hemesaths of 420 Bob-O—Link welcomed a son at St. Josephs hospital, Elgin, October 3. Steven Anthony weighed 8 pounds, 13 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hemesath, Ray's brother and sister-in-law, who were the baby's sponsors, brought their family out from Ossian, Iowa for the christening October 17.

Halloween Shindig

Block captains still have tickets available for the Halloween shindig. It's a costume affair, October 23 at the Legion hall in Arlington Heights. Donation of $1 per person includes barbecues, cake and coffee, loads of entertainment, and prizes.

Brownie Activity

The brownies took advantage of the nice weather last Tuesday and decided to go on a hike. The troop was divided into two teams, 12 girls going with Mrs. Revus, their leader, and the other 12 girls with Mrs. Finch. To make it a little more interesting, one of the brownies suggested a game by which each letter of the alphabet was identified with something seen while hiking. The letter "X" proved a very difficult one, but one of the girls on Mrs. Finch's team suggested making an "X" of pebbles found on the road. With this ingenious idea, that team won the game. After this the girls romped a bit outdoors and then listened to a story about a "brownie" suggested by Janice LeForge. Mrs. Klein and Mrs. Drake took the children home this week.

Intermediate troop 295 wishes to thank all of the Meadows for their support of the clothing resale held Saturday. Many clothes were collected and the girls realized an ample amount to purchase their troop flag, which was the purpose of the resale. A special thanks to Ann Wyatt, chairman, and to her committee, Nancy Jarm and Linda Larson. The other girls who helped to make the resale a success are: Sheilla Altvatter, Sharon Doyle, Susan Finch, Joanne Hehnen, Sherry Seward, and Charlotte Talo. The clothes that remained after the sale were packed to be sent for Korean relief.

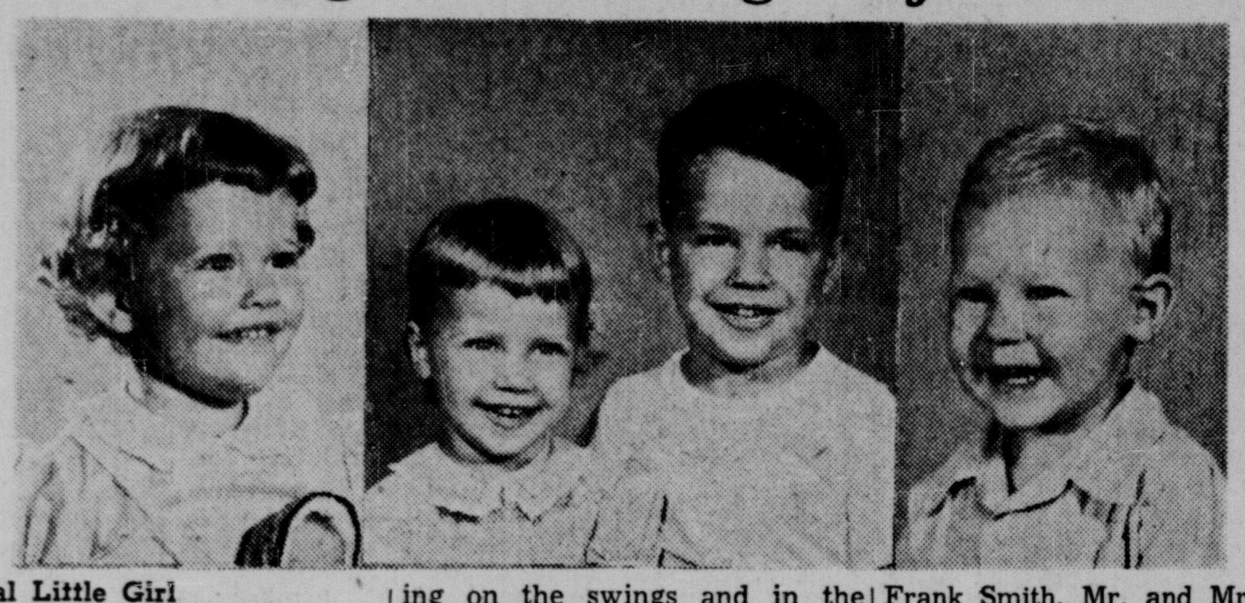
Presenting The Younger Generation



Typical Little Girl

A little girl who loves to play dolls is Kathy Sue Dolinajec, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dolinajec of 205 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights.

Strawberry blond hair and blue eyes describes the coloring of this two-year-old. In addition to playing with her dolls, Kathy Sue enjoys looking through books and having stories read to her. She also likes to watch children's programs on TV, especially Uncle Win. This young miss has pet goldfish which she likes to feed.

Outdoors Kathy Sue has fun playing in the neighbor boy's sand box and pushing her doll buggy. She is learning how to ride a tricycle.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoeft and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dolinajec, all of Arlington Heights.

Seamstress and Builder

Three - year - old Cynthia has blond hair and blue eyes. She loves to pretend that she is sewing and pins little pieces of cloth all over her doll. This little miss also enjoys books and watching TV. She is very fond of the family's pet cat named Schmo.

Outdoors Cynthia has fun playing on the swings and in the sand box in her back yard, and she also likes to ride her tricycle.

Her brother, Ronnie, is 4½ years old and has light brown hair and blue eyes. He loves to build things, and has his own little work bench and tools down in the basement.

Ronnie also likes to watch TV, and outdoors he enjoys playing cowboys, climbing hills and riding his tricycle.

Typical Little Boy

Playing on his new gym set in his back yard is one of the favorite activities of Billy Lussman, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lussman of 540 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights.

Blond-haired, blue-eyed Billy will be two years old October 23. He likes to play with his toy cars and trucks as well as other mechanical toys.

This little lad also enjoys listening to records, looking through picture books and building blocks.

He likes to play ball, and has fun playing in his sand box. Billy is also learning how to ride a tricycle.

His grandparents are Mr. and Frank Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kieffer, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Flink, and the Dean Bradleys from Chicago. They played cards for most of the evening, then, with accordian and ukelele for background music, they dusted off some of the old songs and had a delightful time harmonizing. Refreshments were served.

The Charles Badalamentis and the Paul Badalamentis, both of Foundry road, attended a birthday party for Mrs. Josephine Badalamenti last Saturday. Mrs. Josephine Badalmenti (mother of Charles and Paul) was 65 years old.

Birthday club held its October meeting at the home of Bernice Masters in Wheeling. Mrs. Lu Zeravich came from Round Lake, where she had been spending several days with friends, and Mrs. Virginia Seilheimer picked up Phyllis DeRusha in Des Plaines as Phyllis hasn't been able to drive since her accident last Saturday. All the members were present except Mary Kozel, who has just returned from the hospital with her baby boy. The club had a fine time playing games with prizes galore furnished by the hostess.

Birthday congratulations to Paul Cully, who was 11 on October 12; Susan Louise Messenger, who was 4 on October 19, and Bruce Leigh Murdock, who is 11 on Thursday. Mrs. C. W. Lussman of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Anna Pehm of Marshfield, Wis.

Mrs. Arthur R. Hanson VA. 4-4788

Feehanville School

Mrs. Betty Flink, president, and Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth, vice president, of the Feehanville PTA attended the conference of District 21 in Arlington Heights last Thursday. They especially enjoyed the speech of Mrs. Melvin C. Lockard, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, and will give the members of the PTA a resume at the next meeting. All the speakers stressed the need for the reapportionment program and urged that all vote for it at the November elelction.

Miss Idyl Nipper, who was delegated by the PTA many months ago to represent them in an attempt to secure railroad signals for the crossing on Foundry road, reports: "There will be a hearing, held by the Illinois State Commerce Commission on the Soo Line Railroad crossings (of which Foundry rd is one) on October 27th, at 10 a.m., in room 1900, 160 N. LaSalle street in Chicago. This hearing is open to the public, and it is most important that members of the various organizations in the district attend this hearing and be heard."

Scouts

Brownie Troop 231 has been having very busy meetings making surprises for the mothers' tea schedule for Tuesday. Those Brownies who have been members for the required length of time will be presented with year pins, and an investiture ceremony will be held to invest Carol Buttner, Barbara Lude, Marlene Unger, Grace Durso and Mary Lynn Huege.

Intermediate Scouts, Troop 233, worked on making a "peepshow" at their meeting last Thursday. This is one of their badge requirements, and the girls showed great originality in the clever little scenes they made.

Teen-Agers

Teen-agers had their October social last Saturday. It was not a costume party as it was so early in the month, but the spirit of Halloween was there in the decorating, and George Grenda, games chairman, furnished the traditional Halloween games with a new twist. Billy Phar, Jimmy Doetsch, Joby Badalamenti and Jackie Alexander, decorating committee, did a wonderful job on the decorating. Refreshments were sweet cider, doughnuts, pop and pop corn. Miss Pierson is an expert linguist, and has translated four books of the New Testament into the language of the Popaloca Indians.

Church sign on Foundry Road has been mutilated, probably by youngsters who did not realize it was church property and to be respected. The church would appreciate it if this were explained to the children, so there will not be any similar occurances.

Birthdays

Congratulations to Terri Larson who celebrated her ninth birthday Sunday. Her folks, the Raymond Larsons of Bob-O-Link, gave her a theatre party. The children went out for sodas and sundaes, then on to the Arlington theatre. Afterward they all returned to the Larsons to pick up their cake and a gift for each. We think Ethel Larson deserves congratulation too - it's a wonderful idea for a party with a minimum of wear and tear on mama. Present at the party were Marilyn Talo, Janice LeForge, Karen Bethke, and Meridith, Linda and Raymond Grisell.

Anniversary

Congratulations to Ann and Vic Incinelli of Bob-O—Link. They celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary October 7.

New Arrivals

Your reporter is writing this article in a hospital room at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. Yep, there is a new resident on Larkdale lane. We met the stork very early Wednesday morning just in time to have another daughter arrive. Her name is Donna Marie.

Marie and Henry Robotky brought their new arrival home this week. Richard James was born October 11 and weighed in at 7 pounds, 10 ounces. Congratulations folks!

The Ray Hemesaths of 420 Bob-O—Link welcomed a son at St. Josephs hospital, Elgin, October 3. Steven Anthony weighed 8 pounds, 13 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hemesath, Ray's brother and sister-in-law, who were the baby's sponsors, brought their family out from Ossian, Iowa for the christening October 17.

Halloween Shindig

Block captains still have tickets available for the Halloween shindig. It's a costume affair, October 23 at the Legion hall in Arlington Heights. Donation of $1 per person includes barbecues, cake and coffee, loads of entertainment, and prizes.

Brownie Activity

The brownies took advantage of the nice weather last Tuesday and decided to go on a hike. The troop was divided into two teams, 12 girls going with Mrs. Revus, their leader, and the other 12 girls with Mrs. Finch. To make it a little more interesting, one of the brownies suggested a game by which each letter of the alphabet was identified with something seen while hiking. The letter "X" proved a very difficult one, but one of the girls on Mrs. Finch's team suggested making an "X" of pebbles found on the road. With this ingenious idea, that team won the game. After this the girls romped a bit outdoors and then listened to a story about a "brownie" suggested by Janice LeForge. Mrs. Klein and Mrs. Drake took the children home this week.

Intermediate troop 295 wishes to thank all of the Meadows for their support of the clothing resale held Saturday. Many clothes were collected and the girls realized an ample amount to purchase their troop flag, which was the purpose of the resale. A special thanks to Ann Wyatt, chairman, and to her committee, Nancy Jarm and Linda Larson. The other girls who helped to make the resale a success are: Sheilla Altvatter, Sharon Doyle, Susan Finch, Joanne Hehnen, Sherry Seward, and Charlotte Talo. The clothes that remained after the sale were packed to be sent for Korean relief.

A little girl who loves to play dolls is Kathy Sue Dolinajec, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dolinajec of 205 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights.

Strawberry blond hair and blue eyes describes the coloring of this two-year-old. In addition to playing with her dolls, Kathy Sue enjoys looking through books and having stories read to her. She also likes to watch children's programs on TV, especially Uncle Win. This young miss has pet goldfish which she likes to feed.

Outdoors Kathy Sue has fun playing in the neighbor boy's sand box and pushing her doll buggy. She is learning how to ride a tricycle.

Three - year - old Cynthia has blond hair and blue eyes. She loves to pretend that she is sewing and pins little pieces of cloth all over her doll. This little miss also enjoys books and watching TV. She is very fond of the family's pet cat named Schmo.

Outdoors Cynthia has fun playing on the swings and in the sand box in her back yard, and she also likes to ride her tricycle.

Her brother, Ronnie, is 4½ years old and has light brown hair and blue eyes. He loves to build things, and has his own little work bench and tools down in the basement.

Ronnie also likes to watch TV, and outdoors he enjoys playing cowboys, climbing hills and riding his tricycle.

Typical Little Boy

Playing on his new gym set in his back yard is one of the favorite activities of Billy Lussman, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lussman of 540 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights.

Blond-haired, blue-eyed Billy will be two years old October 23. He likes to play with his toy cars and trucks as well as other mechanical toys.

This little lad also enjoys listening to records, looking through picture books and building blocks.

Feehanville School

Mrs. Betty Flink, president, and Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth, vice president, of the Feehanville PTA attended the conference of District 21 in Arlington Heights last Thursday. They especially enjoyed the speech of Mrs. Melvin C. Lockard, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, and will give the members of the PTA a resume at the next meeting. All the speakers stressed the need for the reapportionment program and urged that all vote for it at the November elelction.

Miss Idyl Nipper, who was delegated by the PTA many months ago to represent them in an attempt to secure railroad signals for the crossing on Foundry road, reports: "There will be a hearing, held by the Illinois State Commerce Commission on the Soo Line Railroad crossings (of which Foundry rd is one) on October 27th, at 10 a.m., in room 1900, 160 N. LaSalle street in Chicago. This hearing is open to the public, and it is most important that members of the various organizations in the district attend this hearing and be heard."

Teen-Agers

Teen-agers had their October social last Saturday. Does anyone know the name of this cactus plant? Adalaid Giorgi, Dundee rd., Palatine, brought this rare bloom to the newspaper office last week trying to find out what type of cactus plant it was. This is the first time it bloomed. She brought the plant from Florida. The blossom is a perfect star shape and resembles a star fish. —Staff Photo.

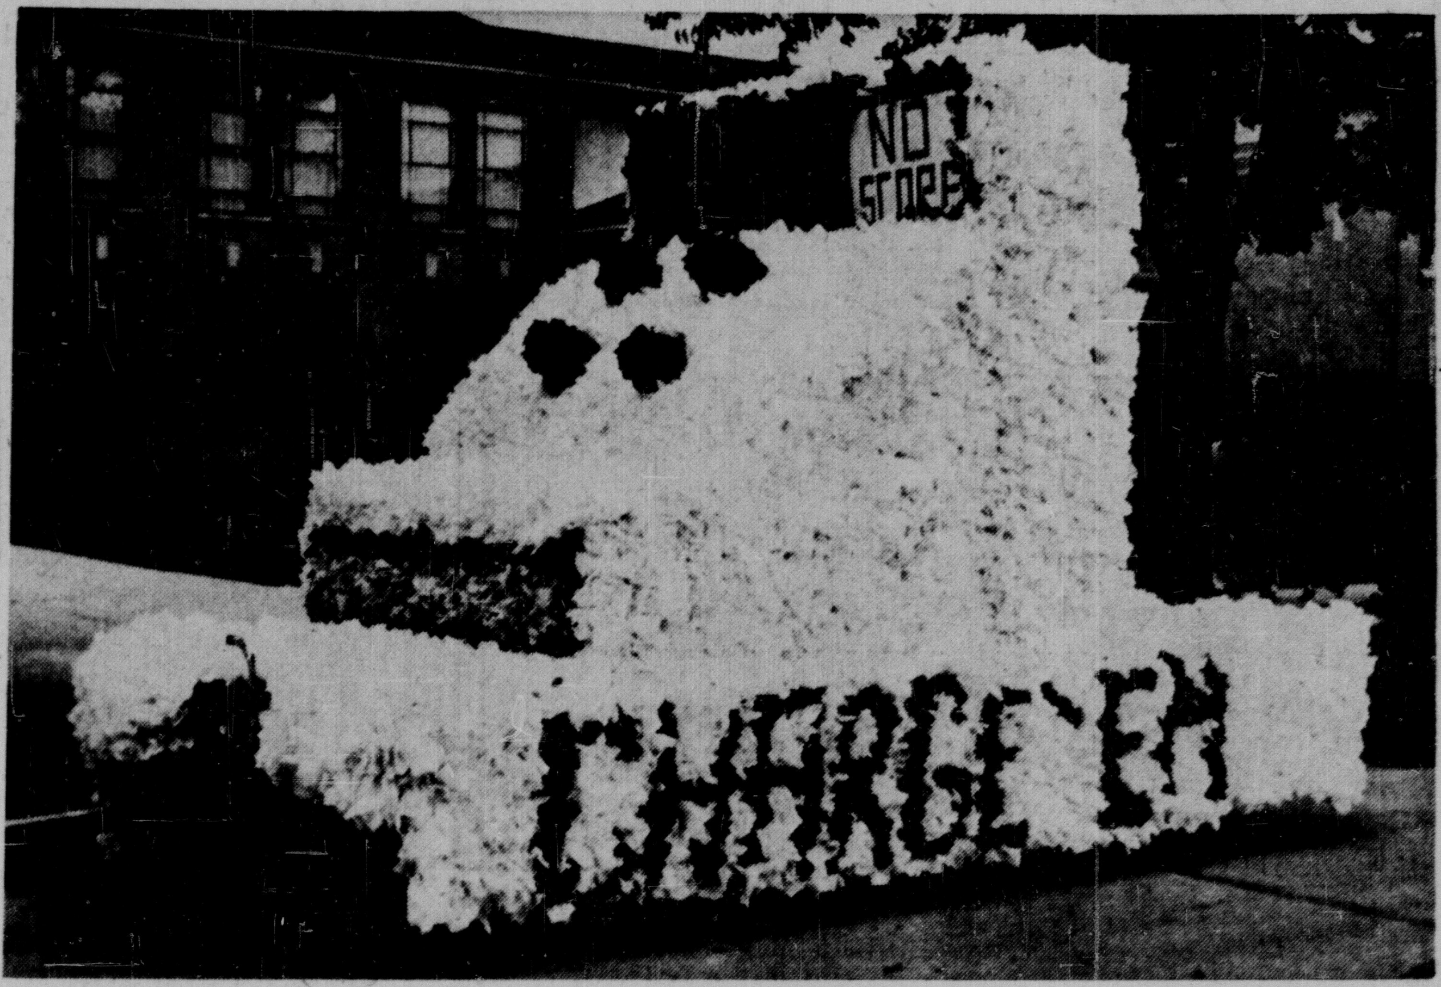
Lions clubs are the sponsors of more than 650 Girl Scout troops in the United States. The boys and girls committees of the Lions clubs last year completed more than 24,000 individual community projects to help the youth of their respective communities. Of these activities a large percentage was in direct support of scouting programs. The Lions now sponsor more Girl Scout troops than any other men's organization in the world.



The cash register rings the bell anywhere at any time, and did so Saturday for the Palatine high school football team. The float of Mrs. Bardos' sophomore home room took first place in the parade, and helped the team whip Grayslake in the afternoon, 18-9 —Bak Studio
